R. 407-13-4, dated 28th June 1915, for the grant of lands for tea and camphor cultivation and requesting orders as to whether the concession offered by that order may be extended to old coffee estates where the cultivation of tea is undertaken newly.

2 Correspondence ending with letter No. C. 307—G. L., dated 5th February 1918, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, forwarding the opinions of the Deputy Commissioners of Shimoga, Kadur and Hassan Districts and stating that it would be enough if it were laid down that the grant of the concessions under the Government Order referred to for planting tea and camphor would be permissible also in the case of coffee lands relinquished absolutely as such, and that each individual case should be dealt with on its merits.

Recorded.

2. In column 8 of the statement mention should have been made of the Panchayats sanctioned—one in each of the Mysore and Chitaldrug Districts—during the half year under review.

3. Attention is invited to the other discrepancies noticed by the Revenue Commissioner in his review.

4. It should be explained why column 5 of the statement has been left blank against the Bangalore and Kolar Districts.

5. There is a good deal of scope for improvement in all the districts in the matter of constitution of Tank Panchayats. The Revenue Commissioner is requested to obtain particulars as to the work of the Panchayats so far constituted have been doing and furnish the same in future reports.

3. The accompanying statement shows the progress made during the period under review. As in previous half years, no progress was made in Bangalore, Hassan, Shimoga and Kadur Districts, while that in Mysore District was altogether negligible. The Deputy Commissioners of Mysore, Hassan and Kadur Districts report, however, that steps are being taken to bring some more tanks under the operation of the Tank Panchayat Regulation. The Deputy Commissioners are requested to bestow greater attention on this subject and show appreciable progress during the current half year.

4. The Deputy Commissioners of Kolar and Hassan have furnished correct figures under column 6, accepting the corrections pointed out in the review for the previous half year. The figure (24) furnished by the Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur District, under the same column, is obviously incorrect as the number of panchayats on 1st January 1917 was 13, and 9 were shown to have been constituted during the half year ended 30th June 1917. The discrepancy pointed out should be explained.

5. The number of panchayats actually constituted during the previous half year not having been furnished by the Deputy Commissioner, Chitaldrug District, it is not possible to verify the figure furnished in column 6 of his statement. He is requested to report the names of the nine panchayats that are said to be actually working, as also the name of the panchayat, the proposal for which is said (vide column 10 of the statement) to be pending in this office.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

READ AGAIN.—

Government Order No. R. 4693-4703—L. R. 330-11-4, dated the 18th November 1916, directing that no fresh lands should in future be granted for coffee cultivation on permanent tenure, and that the conversion of the existing temporary tenures into permanant ones should be subject strictly to the terms of the Government Order No. (Camp) 1125-8, dated the 22nd September 1885, viz., that it should be sanctioned only on payment of the difference between the temporary and the permanent rates of assessment, i.e., 8 annas an acre from the date of the original settlement (1881-82) to the date of application.

READ—

Letter dated 13th September 1917, from the Secretary, United Planters' Association of Southern India forwarding the resolution passed at an Annual General Meeting of the Association regarding the hardship caused by the prohibition of the grant of lands on permanent tenure, the difficulties of getting title-deeds for lands purchased from Indian Coffee Planters and the hardship of paying the back assessment at 8 annas an acre in one sum, when lands held on temporary tenure have to be converted into permanent tenure.

Order R No. 10222-32—L. R. 301-17-5, dated 8th April 1918.

Government have carefully considered the representation of the Association and see no reason to modify their order read above as regards grant of fresh lands on permanent tenure.

2. In the case of applications for conversion into permanent tenure of lands held on temporary tenure the payment of back assessment may be allowed in three or more instalments as may be sanctioned by Government on the merits of each case.

3. As regards fresh title-deeds for estates purchased from previous holders, the issue of a separate title-deed by the Government is not possible, but the attention of the Association will be invited to Government Order No. 2696—Rev. 17, dated 9th July 1874, which provides for a note of the transfer of the Patta being recorded on the original title-deed. If necessary, the procedure prescribed therein may be supplemented by the issue to the transferee of a separate transfer order certified by the Revenue and Settlement Officers in each case. The Revenue Commissioner is requested to consider the question and propose, in consultation with the Superintendent of Revenue Survey, a form of the transfer order for the approval of Government.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

READ—

Letter No. C. Per. 88—9, dated 11—13th February 1918, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, submitting the annual report* on the Administration of Inam villages under Government management for the year 1916-17.

*Printed in extenso as an accompaniment

Order No. R. 10194-5—L. R. 64-17-7, dated 8th April 1918.

Recorded.

2. The report which was due to Government on 1st October 1917 has been received on 14th February 1918. The delay noticed by the Revenue Commissioner in the submission of the District Reports should have been avoided. It is very unsatisfactory that not only have these reports been considerably delayed, but most of them do not contain complete information.

3. Out of a total number of 175 villages and estates which are under Government management, Survey and Settlement are reported to have been introduced into 161 villages and estates.

4. Jamabandi.—Considering the heavy outstandings in all the districts, more attention should have been bestowed on the Jamabandi than seems to have been done.

5. Demand, Collection and Balance.—Out of a total demand of Rs. 4,97,610 for the year including the previous arrears of Rs. 2,55,266, the arrears yet to be collected are Rs. 2,61,058. The arrears are heavy in the districts of Mysore, Hassan and Bangalore, being Rs. 92,010, Rs. 87,948 and Rs. 65,120 respectively. Prompt steps should be taken to reduce the balance to a minimum. Out of the arrears of Rs. 50,767 said to have been time-barred, Rs. 35,901 pertain to the Kudlur Inam village in the Channapatna Taluk of the Bangalore District. In their Order No. R. 5762—L. R. 360-14, dated 11th December 1915, Government have held that they are not responsible for the recovery of the arrears which had accrued due prior to the assumption of the management of the village by Government. It should be ascertained and reported how much of the aforesaid arrears fall under this category and for how much the officers are responsible in each of the districts. Prompt action should be taken to collect all outstandings so that they may not get time-barred. The Deputy Commissioners should invariably furnish information in their reports as regards the arrears outstanding in respect of lands in the Inamdar's own khate.

6. The amount of loans outstanding against the encumbered estates has not been furnished in the reports. The same should now be done after verification by the Comptroller and the Inamdar concerned.

7. Due steps should be taken to see that all the accounts prescribed are invariably maintained and audited at periodical intervals. All the reports and explanations called for by the Revenue Commissioner should be submitted without delay.

No. R. 10194-5—L. R. 64-17-7, dated 8th April 1918

Preliminary.

This is the first report submitted in the form prescribed in Government Order No. R. 9496-505—L. R. 205-16-12, dated the 14th March 1917. The reports from the Deputy Commissioners were due in this office on 1st September 1917 and the consolidated report to Government from this office on 1st October 1917. The dates on which the reports from the several Deputy Commissioners were actually received however in this office are noted in the margin. Mysore was the only district to submit the report in time. Chitaldrug coming next having despatched its report on 1st September The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, was the last to submit the report after a delay of four months and twenty-one days. The submission of the consolidated report has therefore been considerably delayed. It is only the reports from Mysore and Chitaldrug Districts that contain full information on all the points. The reports from the other districts are incomplete, especially those of Bangalore and Hassan Districts which contain very little information: Statement No. IV has not been received from Bangalore District and Statements Nos. III and IV from Kolar District. Separate communications have been addressed to every one of the Deputy Commissioners concerned pointing out the omissions in their respective reports. Owing to the incomplete information thus furnished in some of the district reports, this consolidated report cannot unfortunately furnish full information on all the points. It is hoped however that the report for the next year will contain fuller information.

During the year under report only one village in the Mysore District was attached under Section 165, Land Revenue Code and taken under Government management.

The jodi village of Karadahalli in the Nagamangala Taluk which was ordered to be handed over to the Jodidar as all the arrears due to Government had been adjusted could not be handed over to him as he applied for the grant of time till the 10th September 1917 to assume management of the village.

The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, has not given details concerning the villages belonging to the late Mr. Dalvoy Devaraj Urs and the Nandigudi family.

In the Shimoga and Kadur Districts, there were no private estates under Government management.

In other districts there were no material changes in the number of estates under the several heads.

No. R. 10194-5—L. R. 64-17-7, dated 8th April 1918

PARA II.—Introduction of Survey and Settlement

The following statement shows Districtwar the number of such villages into which Survey and Settlement has been introduced —

| No | District | Previously introduced | | Introduced during the year | | Not introduced | | Remarks |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Villages | Estates | Villages | Estates | Villages | Estates | |
| 1 | Bangalore | 13 | 6 | | | 1 | | |
| 2 | Kolar | 14 | 5 | | | 2 | | |

| 7 | Kadur | | | | | | | |
| 8 | Chitaldrug | 3 | | | | | | |
| | Total | 126 | 33 | | | 14 | | |

The number of villages into which Survey and Settlement has not been introduced is comparatively small and the question of introducing it into these villages will be taken up some time after August 1919, as Government have, in their Order No. R 1391-2—L S 8-17-2, dated the 9th August 1917, approved of the recommendation of the Superintendent of Revenue Survey and Settlement of Inam villages may be deferred for two years owing to the paucity of competent men in the subordinate grades of his Department

PARA III—Jamabandi

The following statement shows the officers who conducted the Jamabandi of the several estates and the number of cases of encroachments and of applications for transfers of patta dealt with during the year —

| Number | District | Conducted by | | | No. of cases of encroachments | No. of applications for transfer | | Remarks |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | By the Deputy Commissioner | By the Sub-Division Officer | By the District Treasury Officer | | Disposed of | Pending | |
| 1 | Bangalore | | | | | 2 | 1 | |

| 7 | Kadur | | | | | | | |
| 8 | Chitaldrug | | 9 | | | | | |

The Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore has not furnished information as regards the officers who conducted the Jamabandi of the several estates in his district during the year under report, but has merely remarked that "the Huzur Jamabandi Officer usually conducts the Jamabandi of the estates and villages belonging to the Palace"

The Deputy Commissioner, Mysore, has not mentioned the officer who conducted the Jamabandi of the several villages in the Chamrajnagar Taluk belonging to Sri Chandramouleswaraswami temple

The Deputy Commissioners of Mysore and Chitaldrug report that the demand was settled before the commencement of the collection season No information has been furnished by the other Deputy Commissioners on this point

Steps taken for the proper maintenance of boundary marks.

The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, says that proper instructions were given for the maintenance of boundary marks. In Kolar District they are reported to have been inspected and set right by the village officers. The Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District reports that orders were issued to shekdars to inspect and to look to the proper maintenance of boundary marks in the inam villages of Yedatore, T.-Narsipur and Nagamangala Taluks and that those in Krishnarajpete Taluk were inspected by the Amildar Forty-five boundary marks in the Tirunalli village, Hunsur Taluk, were put in order during the year. The Amildars of Mysore, Chamrajnagar, Heggaddevankote, Nanjangud and the Deputy Amildar of French Rocks Sub-Taluk, have not furnished information under this head. The Deputy Commissioner, Chitaldrug District, reports that all the boundary marks were in good condition. The Deputy Commissioners of Tumkur and Hassan Districts have not furnished information on this point.

As regards Palace Estates under Government management, the Deyuty Commissioner, Bangalore District, reports that the Palace Controller is kept informed of all important variations and that that officer's consent is obtained to all permanent alienations of properties.

The accompanying statement shows the demand, collection and balance of Revenue during the year under report:—

| No. | District | Demand | | | Collection including remission | Balance |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Arrear at the beginning of the year | Demand for the year | Total demand | | |
| 1 | Bangalore | 61,692 | 27,840 | 89,532 | 24,412 | 65,120 |
| 2 | Kolar | 11,296 | 8,732 | 20,028 | 7,697 | 12,331(a) |
| 3 | Tumkur | 2,978 | 13,365 | 16,343 | 13,257 | 3,086 |
| 4 | Mysore | 95,892 | 1,65,158 | 2,60,990 | 1,68,960 | 92,030 |
| 5 | Hassan | 82,267 | 24,685 | 1,06,952 | 19,004 | 87,948 |
| 6 | Shimoga | .. | .. | .. | .. | .. |
| 7 | Kadur | .. | .. | .. | .. | .. |
| 8 | Chitaldrug | 1,201 | 2,561 | 3,765 | 3,202 | 563 |
| | Total | 2,55,266 | 2,42,344 | 4,97,610 | 2,36,552 | 2,61,056 |

(a) Includes Rs. 3,539-5-0 due from the Inamdars of Nandigudi family in respect of their village Nandipurabanahalli.

The outstanding arrears at the beginning of the year exceeded a year's demand by Rs. 12,922. The demand for 1916-17 was Rs. 2,42,344 and out of the total demand of Rs. 4,97,610 a sum of Rs. 2,36,552 or 47·5 per cent only was actually collected. The arrears in the Hassan District exceed thrice the year's demand and those in Bangalore District twice the year's demand. The arrears in Kolar District are also very large in proportion to the demand. In Mysore District, the arrears at the end of the year were slightly less than at the beginning of the year; but the outstandings are still heavy. Collection work certainly requires more care and attention to be bestowed on it than at present and it is hoped that the Deputy Commissioners of Districts will impress the necessity and the importance of this on their subordinate officers.

PARA IV.—INCREASE OF REVENUE.

The Deputy Commissioner of Mysore reports that there were one darkhast for land in Kayamgutta Vaderahosahalli village in the Hunsur Taluk, and nine darkhasts in Arasinkere and Siddlingapur villages, Mysore Taluk, which gave an increase of Rs. 23-10-6 under "Rent."

The Deputy Commissioner, Kolar, states that though no darkhast was received during the year, yet there was some increase of revenue under miscellaneous heads such as Amarayi.

The Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur, says that there was a small decrease of Rs. 67-2-6 in the revenue during the year under report and the Deputy Commissioner, Chitaldrug District reports that no darkhast was received during the year.

The reports of the Deputy Commissioners of Bangalore and Hassan are silent on the point.

PART V.—VILLAGE SERVANTS.

All the villages are reported to have had their usual complement of these servants. The Deputy Commissioner, Chitaldrug District reports that all the Village Officers are literate while the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan, states that the Village Officers of certain villages are not literate and that it is not easy to secure qualified men for these villages. The Deputy Commissioner of Mysore also reports that some of the Village Officers in his district are uneducated being able only to sign their names. It is also reported that in two settled villages of the Mysore District the Village Officers are not being paid potgi as per rules. This will be investigated separately.

PARA VI.—VILLAGE ACCOUNTS.

All the village accounts prescribed for Government villages have been maintained in the settled villages in Bangalore, Kolar and Chitaldrug Districts. The Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District reports that accounts have been maintained in the Inam villages of Hunsur, Mysore, Chamrajnagar, Yedatore, Gundlupet, Krishnarajpete and Nagamangala Taluks and that information in this connection has not been furnished by the Amildars of the remaining taluks. The Deputy Commissioner, Hassan, states that the accounts of some of the villages have not been properly maintained in the Arkalgud Taluk, while the Deputy Commissioner of Tumkur has not given any information on this point. The Deputy Commissioner, Kolar, states that accounts Nos. 14 and 15 have been maintained for the unsettled villages.

No. R. 10194-5—L. R. 64-17-7, dated 8th April 1918.

PARA VII.—Collection.

The total amount actually recovered during the year was Rs. 2,35,525. Including a remission of Rs. 1,027 the total amount comes to Rs. 2,36,552 which is Rs. 5,792 less than even the current demand. The heavy outstanding arrears, viz., Rs. 2,55,266 thus increased during the year under report to Rs. 2,61,058.

The percentage of the total collection to the current demand comes to 97·6.

PARA VIII.—Coercive Processes.

In the Kolar District, about fifteen demand notices were issued and a sum of Rs. 175 was recovered. The amounts recovered by the adoption of these processes in the Mysore, Hassan and Chitaldrug Districts were Rs. 9,670, Rs. 77 and Rs. 1,171, respectively. In Mysore District, 19 suits were filed for the recovery of a total sum of Rs. 1,173-7-0. No civil suit was filed in any of the other districts.

PARA IX.—Balance.

The following statement shows the arrears due in respect of the year under report and of the previous year, besides those more than two years old as well as those that are time-barred :—

| No. | District | Balance at the end of the year | | | | Total |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | In respect of the year under report | Of the preceding year | Over two years old | Time-barred | |
| | | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. |

| 4 | Mysore .. . ... | 13,630 | 3,174 | 17,056 | 13,320 | 47,180 |

| 8 | Chitaldrug ... ... ... | 125 | 154 | 284 | ... | 563 |
| | Total . | 34,964 | 11,818 | 1,22,406 | 50,767 | 2,19,955 |

* Relates to Kudlur village belonging to Mr. S. S. Setlur.

It has not been reported as to who is responsible for the arrears time-barred in Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur and Mysore Districts. Arrears over two years old are very heavy in Hassan District and heavy in Bangalore District and unless civil suits are filed, there is the probability of a large amount becoming time-barred. The Deputy Commissioners concerned have been requested to take immediate steps in respect of the heavy outstanding arrears and also to submit the names of the officers responsible for the negligence in collection together with their explanation.

Information as regards the arrears outstanding against the inamdar's khates on account of lands in their possession has been furnished in only one case and it is shown in the foot-note to the Demand, Collection and Balance Statement.

PARA X.—Improvement of Estates.

The Deputy Commissioner, Kolar District, states that necessary improvements required for the sanitation of the villages are being made. A tank in the Thathighatta, Nadimpalli village, Mulbagal Taluk, was restored at a cost of Rs. 2,500. Village Improvement Committees have been formed in every village and weekly labour is being contributed by the people as in Government villages.

The Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur, reports that some works such as repairs to the temple of Basavannadevaru at Hennamachanahalli are in progress and that some more works are proposed to be taken up. A Co-operative Society is reported to be working satisfactorily in Sarthavalli, Tiptur Taluk.

The Deputy Commissioner of Mysore, states that Village Committees have been formed in 21 inam villages, that six schools were opened in four inam villages and that a Co-operative Society was formed at Kadakola. Important works such as repairs to roads, drains and kattes, removal of prickly pear, were undertaken and executed in the inam villages of Chamrajnagar and Nagamangala Taluks, at a cost of Rs. 478-8-0. It is also reported that a proposal for the formation of a Village Panchayet at Gandhanahalli, Yedatore Taluk, and the sinking of wells at Byathahalli and at Mangala are under contemplation.

No. R. 10194-5—L. R. 64-17-7, dated 8th April 1918.

The Deputy Commissioner, Chitaldrug, reports that a Village Committee has been constituted for the Tippareddihalli village, Challakere Taluk, and that the people are contributing one day's labour on every Monday towards the improvement and sanitation of the village.

The Deputy Commissioners of Bangalore and Hassan have not furnished detailed information on this point.

PARA XI.—Financial result of the year.

The following statement shows the total expenditure on management, taxes and revenue payable to Government besides annuities paid to inamdars and the net amount credited towards the loan or past arrears, etc., in respect of villages other than Palace Estates.

The reports disclose that in three cases the financial situation is not satisfactory. The case of Vaderahosahalli village will be separately investigated. In the case of Mr. Siddaraj Urs and Krishnajammanniavaru a separate report will be called for and submitted for the orders of Government. The case of the late Mr. D. Devaraj Urs is being dealt with separately and under the consideration of Government at present.

In Hassan District, the inam villages of Gondimallenahalli and Gubbi have been under attachment since 1907 and 1895 respectively though the arrears due therefrom are shown as fully recovered. The inam tenure of Gubbi will have to be cancelled as it has been under attachment for over twelve years and the other village will have to be restored to the Inamdar. Necessary action will be taken after further enquiry.

Full information as regards the loans outstanding against encumbered estates have not been furnished except by the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore.

PARA XII.—General.

The Deputy Commissioner of Tumkur, Mysore and Chitaldrug Districts report that the management by Government of these villages was satisfactory. The Deputy Commissioner of Mysore states that none of the inamdars either took any particular interest in the estates or proved obstructive in any steps taken for the improvement of the estates, an attitude of apathy boding little prospect of a bright future for the inams granted to them.

READ—

Letter No. C. 3155 of 117-18, dated 25th February 1918, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, forwarding the records relating to the darkhast of one B. Krishna Rao of Yelahanka for certain plots of land by the side of the Bangalore-Hindupur section of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway line, near Amani Marasandra and Jodi Suradenapura villages of the Bangalore Taluk, and soliciting the instructions of Government as to how such records should be dealt with in future.

Order No. R. 10369-70—L. R. 393-17-2, dated 20th April 1918.

It is reported that the lands under reference which are altogether about 5 acres in extent and which once formed part of Jodi Suradenapura were acquired for railway purposes; that in 1911 the applicant applied for them for temporary cultivation; that the Railway authorities who were consulted had no objection to the grant of the lands for cultivation; that the Deputy Commissioner however rejected the darkhast holding that it would cost much to form the lands into survey numbers and that it was inexpedient to grant them for cultivation as they would have to be acquired afresh if required by the Railway Company. On appeal, the Revenue Commissioner upheld the order of the Deputy Commissioner and in submitting the records for the information of Government, he seeks instructions as to how such darkhast should be dealt with in future.

2. The Revenue Commissioner's attention is drawn to Government Order No. R. 810-4—L. R. 447-06-2, dated 7th March 1907, at page 247 of the Revenue Manual and Rule II (B) of the Land Revenue Rules, according to which he should take the orders of Government in each case on its merits. As cases of the kind are not likely to be numerous, Government consider it unnecessary to lay down a general ruling. It is necessary, however, to observe that if there are many such cases, the Railway Department should be addressed to relinquish such lands and on such relinquishment being accepted, the lands may be disposed of under the ordinary darkhast.

Order No. R. 10265-7—L. S. 17-17-18, dated 13th April 1918.

The proposals relate to the introduction of revision settlement into 100 villages of the late Koppa Taluk, of which 99 are in the present taluk of Koppa, and one in the Sub-Taluk of Narasimharajapura. The tract is a compact quadrilateral in shape, and consists practically of a succession of lofty hills, and well watered dales, except in the centre and the north-west occupied by the Sringeri Jahgir and portions of the Hariharpur and Kasaba hoblis. It lies wholly within the Malnad region, and labours under all the disadvantages peculiar to that region such as very heavy rainfall, general unhealthiness, sparsity of population, dearth of labour and comparative inaccessibility. The average rainfall varies from 119·96 to 142·25 inches in the different parts of the taluk.

2. Cultivation.—The soil is generally good in the valleys, but of poor quality elsewhere. The most important of the crops raised are areca, coffee, and rice which occupy respectively about 10·26 per cent, 27·65 per cent and 50·38 per cent of the total cultivated area. Condiments take up about 5·52 per cent of the cropped area, but the other crops are practically negligible being generally less than 1 per cent. There is very little of dry cultivation in the taluk and although the resurvey accounts, show a total occupied area of 995 acres, most of the lands are held more for the sake of subsidiary agricultural facilities such as grazing, stacking hay, growing leaf manure, etc., than for dry cultivation. The chief cultivation is, as already stated, garden, wet and coffee.

3. Irrigation.—Owing to abundant rainfall, there is very little necessity for irrigation works properly so called. Still it is stated that the tanks serve a very useful purpose in the latter part of the hot weather when areca gardens generally need some watering, and also when the rains fail in the due season, an incident said to be by no means uncommon in recent years. The attention of the Revenue Commissioner is invited to the remarks of the Survey Superintendent at para 8 of the report and he is requested to take needful action for the early restoration of the numerous minor tanks in the taluk.

No. R. 10265-7—L. S. 17-17-18, DATED 13TH APRIL 1918.

4. Economic condition of the people.—The population according to the last census shows a decline compared with the previous decades, but as compared with the population of 1881, the year next to that of the original settlement, it shows an increase of 6·2 per cent. This phenomenon is however not peculiar to the Koppa Taluk alone but is common to other parts of the malnad also. The question of devising suitable measures to arrest the decline is engaging the consideration of Government separately. Except this, in all other respects the taluk shows signs of economic prosperity. Firstly, in the matter of agricultural resources, there has been a substantial increase in the number of houses, cattle, ploughs and carts since the original settlement, the ratio of increase being respectively 21, 23, 35 and 893 per cent. The increase in the number of tiled houses and the reduction in the number of mud houses is particularly significant. Secondly communications have vastly improved since the original settlement, 13 new roads having been opened while the newly opened tramway connecting Narasimharajapura with Tarikere has brought the Railway within easier reach of the taluk. Thirdly, the improvement in communications has given a great impetus to trade which, judged by the preponderance of exports over imports must be declared to be in a flourishing condition. Fourthly, the raiyats are realising better prices for their agricultural produce than formerly, the increase being, according to the statistics quoted at para 19 of the report, 89 per cent in the case of rice, since the original settlement, and 30 per cent in the case of supari during the last ten years. Fifthly, there has been an increase in the area and assessment of the occupied area from 24,432 acres and 1,26,952 rupees to 25,543 acres and Rs. 1,34,202 since the original settlement. The increase in the case of dry lands is substantial but that in the case of wet lands is slight, while the area under gardens shows a decrease of 80 acres but the assessment shows an increase of Rs. 4,202. The net result however is an increase, in both the extent as well as assessment as shown above. The Superintendent attributes the shrinkage in wet and garden cultivation to the difficulties of labour supply in the Malnad. Another factor to be borne in mind in connection with garden cultivation is the havoc wrought by the Koleroga.

5. Revised rates.—The Survey Superintendent has given due consideration to all the above factors, and proposes to revise the existing rates as indicated below without however interfering with the original grouping of the villages.

| Land | | Maximum rates | | Average rates | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Original | Revised | Original | Revised |
| 1 | | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 |
| | | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. |
| Wet Group | I ... | 5 8 0 | 6 0 0 | 2 12 3 | 3 0 3 |
| | II ... | 5 0 0 | 5 8 0 | 2 10 10 | 2 15 0 |
| | III ... | 4 8 0 | 4 12 0 | 2 7 6 | 2 9 7 |
| | IV ... | 4 0 0 | 4 4 0 | 2 8 6 | 2 10 10 |
| Dry | I ... | 0 12 0 | 1 0 0 | 0 5 2 | 0 7 1 |
| | II ... | 0 8 0 | 0 12 0 | 0 3 9 | 0 5 6 |
| | III ... | 0 8 0 | 0 8 0 | 0 3 10 | 0 3 7 |
| | IV ... | 0 8 0 | 0 8 0 | 0 1 4 | 0 4 3 |
| Garden | I ... | 18, 16 and 14 | 14 0 0 | 10 11 4 | 10 15 0 |
| | II ... | | | 10 13 3 | 10 6 4 |
| | III ... | | | 10 6 3 | 10 0 3 |
| | IV ... | | | 10 7 4 | 10 6 9 |
| General average for all lands | | ... | ... | 4 3 5 | 4 5 1 |

The result of the above proposals is an enhancement of the average rate of assessment of an acre of culturable land from Rs. 4-3-5 to 4-5-4, which is expected to yield in the aggregate an increase of Rs. 2,194 or 2·06 per cent only over the present revenue.

6. The Revenue Commissioner considers the proposals generally speaking "to be very moderate erring if at all, on the side of leniency than otherwise." He has no objection to the wet rates proposed by the Survey Superintendent, but considers that there is no justification for recovering the irrigation cess as a separate levy, and proposes that it should be treated as being merged in the proposed wet assessment. As regards the dry rates, he suggests that the existing rates may be left as they are, considering that there is very little of dry cultivation properly so called, and that the sacrifice of the additional revenue thereby involved amounts for the whole taluk, to the small sum of Rs. 172. Coming to the garden rates, while agreeing to the average rate, the Revenue Commissioner doubts whether the maximum rate of Rs. 14, can be justified under Government Order No. R. 703-14—L. R. 26-05-18, dated 30th July 1917; and whether that order should not be interpreted as limiting the maximum in each group to the existing maximum rate after deducting the remissions of 1896. The Survey Superintendent interprets the order as authorising any increase in the maximum rates of each group so long as the total amount of garden assessment for the whole taluk is not exceeded by the revised settlement.

7. After a careful consideration of the proposals of the Survey Superintendent, and arguments adduced for and against them as well as the several modifications suggested, Government are pleased to order as follows:—In passing these orders Government have carefully considered the memorials read above which will be disposed of in a separate order.

8. The retention of the original grouping of villages for purposes of fixing rates is approved.

9. As regards the rates, Government agree with the Revenue Commissioner that for the reasons given, the dry rates may remain as they are at present. The wet rates as proposed by the Survey Superintendent (vide para 5 supra) are reasonable and fair and are accordingly sanctioned. They compare most favourably with the rates prevailing in the neighbouring taluks as shown in para 25 of the report. The advance in the average rate comes to only 9 per cent. If the irrigation cess is also added, the increase will be 15¼ per cent which would still be not excessive, considering that the price of paddy has risen by about 90 per cent since the last settlement.

10. The question of the irrigation cess is a general one, and is already engaging the consideration of Government separately. For the present, in accordance with the existing practice it will continue to be recovered as a separate levy. Any modification in the general policy regarding the cess will, if sanctioned, apply to this taluk also.

11. As regards garden rates, Government agree with the Survey Superintendent that so long as the garden assessment for the whole taluk is not exceeded, individual gardens may be assessed at any maximum. Instead of having a uniform maximum rate of Rs. 14 throughout for all the groups, Government are of opinion that the maximum for the first and second groups may be fixed at Rs. 14, and that for the third and fourth at Rs. 12.

12. With the above modifications, Government are pleased to sanction the proposals of the Survey Superintendent. The revised rates will be announced as soon as possible, and brought into force with effect from the beginning of the year 1918-19 with the usual guarantee of 30 years. The present rates and tenure of the occupied kans referred to in para 29 of the report may be continued for the coming term of revised guarantee as has been done in the case of the other resettled Malnad taluks.

Enclosure to Accompaniment 1

No 37, dated 20th August 1917, from D K Daiashah, Esq, B A, Superintendent of Revenue Survey and Settlements in Mysore to B Ramasuamanya, Esq, B A, B L Officiating Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Revenue Department

I have the honor to submit proposals for the revision of assessment in the Koppa Taluk as it stood at the original settlement sanctioned in Government Order No 6749-59—R 1183, dated 18th March 1880

2 Constitution —The village not having formed the unit of revenue administration under the system that obtained in the taluk previously, there was a good deal of confusion and consequent difficulty at the original survey operations in the identification and demarcation of village boundaries The tract was, however, divided into 440 villages during the survey, on the data furnished by the old revenue accounts, and from the limits as pointed out by the villagers Accordingly, the original settlement report, Survey Superintendent's letter No 26 dated 10th January 1879, describes the taluk as comprising 440 villages, pointing out at the same time that these were not to remain in status quo but were subject to modification by such rectification of boundaries as may be found necessary for purposes of the regular and systematic maintenance of the village accounts By a process of amalgamation adopted in furtherance of this object, as many as 342 villages lost independent recognition and the large number of 440 was reduced to 98 Adding to these, two villages subsequently formed, viz, Kalasapur Estate and Haralalu, the total number to be dealt with now is 100 of which 99 are in the Koppa Taluk as at present constituted, and one within the sub taluk of Narasimharajapura

3 Position —The tract forms a compact quadrilateral in the extreme west of the Kadur District, reaching up to the crest of the Ghats along a length of over 20 miles in the west The Udipi Taluk of the South Canara District adjoins on the other side of the crest The Tirthahalli and the Mudgere Taluks lie on the north and the south respectively, the late Lakkavalli and the Chikmagalur Taluks are on the east

4 Physical features —The country is practically a succession of hill and dale all over except in the centre and the north west, occupied by the Sringeri Jahgir and portions of the Hariharpur and Kasaba Hoblis The Ghats along the west and south are among the loftiest with such prominent peaks as Wolkonji, Sujibetta and Narasimhabetta The Tunga river, taking its rise at Gangamula in the Varahi Parvata, flows north-eastwards through the Sringeri valley, and then further abruptly changes its direction to the west Smaller streams are numerous, of which the Begurhalla, the Sita, the Nandini and the Nalini are the more important As in all other tracts adjoining the Ghats, the Koppa Taluk abounds in plant life Much of the forest, however, is unimspiring and even scrubby Excepting a few good jungles scattered here and there in the northern sector, it is not till we get down to a line running east and west through Baggunji that we enter upon a region of the thick-growing stately trees associated with a good kan All forests have till now been in the charge of the Revenue Department, but the Forest Department has, for some time past, been taking steps to see how far the conservancy may with advantage be taken in hand by itself The halasu, the hebbahalasu, the nandi and the huralbogi are found chiefly in the Kigga Hobli, the nandi and the matti in Megunda Hobli The bamboo and the sandal grow about equally well in all parts Good loamy soil, well fertilised by vegetable washings from the heights, is frequently met within the valleys, while soils of poor quality are by no means uncommon Magunda Hobli in the south ranks first in the matter of soil, next come Baggunji and portions of Hariharpur and Kigga Hoblis, the rest of the taluk would all go into a third class

5 Climate and health —The climate is generally good in the northern half of the taluk, but indifferent in the south, especially in villages caught in by the hills In point of health, the Hariharpur Hobli is the best, and parts of the Kigga and Megunda Hoblis at the south-west corner, the worst In common with the rest of the Malnad, the tract under consideration is subject to the peculiar disadvantages of the Malnad conditions, which are being remedied as far as possible by suitable measures adopted under the scheme recently sanctioned by Government for the improvement of the Malnad. Of epidemic diseases, the plague has fortunately not put in its appearance here, and cases of cholera have been rare. The mortality shown under epidemics is caused chiefly by the small-pox, which is dreaded the most by the people of the Malnad, and which at times becomes very virulent. Fever, pneumonia and bowel complaints are not uncommon in the months of April and May, but with the fall of copious rains, general good health is restored.

6. Rainfall.—Being in the region of the western Ghats, the taluk is subject to the full force of the south-west monsoon, and while the supply is abundant all over, the fall is heavier near the mountains in the south and the west, than in the relatively open country. According to the latest report of Rainfall Registration, the fall registered in 1914 at the three stations in the taluk, Koppa, Hariharpur and Sringeri, was 130·64, 164·39 and 174·46 inches, respectively. The averages for the same stations for 20 years (1893 to 1913) were 119·96, 136·23 and 142·25 inches. Nearly the whole of the annual supply of rain is received during the months of June, July and August; in July the downpour is torrential and unceasing.

7. Crops.—There is, on the whole, very little of dry cultivation in the taluk, though the re-survey accounts show thrice as much of land under 'dry' as there was at the original settlement. Dry lands are held more for convenience than for cultivation. In the small area actually brought under cultivation, some fodder crops and ragi are grown.

The staple wet crop is rice, of which three varieties are grown, viz., the jolaga, the hegge and the putta hegge. A great many of these rice lands consist of course of a combination of high lying terraces and low flats, the makki and the thaggu. Naturally enough the low bottoms, which are far easier to irrigate and to keep moist, are the better prized, though it is not uncommon to find them depreciated through an overload of water. I think I have noticed much more of water-logged garden and rice land in Koppa Taluk than I have in the Tirthahalli or the Nagar Taluk, or indeed in any other of the Malnad Taluks of the Shimoga District. A general remedy for this defect appears to be the artificial draining of the lands by trenching round, but this operation often proves very expensive. Two crops of paddy are raised in some villages, and with good results, in the Kigga and Megunda Hoblis. The yield in wet lands is stated to vary according to soil and cultivation from 10 to 40 candies (a candi is one of 50 seers in these parts) per candi of bijavari, i.e., 1¼ acres, and the guttige paid to the landlord, from 3 to 16 candies. Ordinarily, guttige goes by the rule of ಮುವಗಕ್ಕೆ ನಾಲ್ಕರ ಗೆಡೆ meaning that 4 candies of paddy are paid to the landlord for every candi of bijavari. In leases of wet lands, the proportion of makki to thaggu is usually 3:2. The cultivation of sugar-cane is not undertaken on any large scale or on commercial lines; there were just 90 acres of it in the year 1914-15.

The principal article of produce in gardens is the supari; bye products are plantain, betel-leaf and pepper generally, and cardamom where water is plentiful. Gardens in excellent condition are met with in almost every part of the taluk; but Agalgundi, Bhairadevaru, Haralane, Heggar, Megur, Kalgudde, Attikodagi, Herathanakodagi, Guddetota and Hulgaradi are among villages in the Megunda Hobli containing the best gardens in the whole taluk.

Megunda produces the largest quantity of cardamom, and Baggunji comes next, the other Hoblis contributing little or nothing to the total output. Pepper is about equally common throughout the taluk, and the betel is abundant in Baggunji and along the Ghat line. Plantain abounds everywhere, but is not of any particular commercial value; while the fruit, the core and the leaf largely supply the needs of the kitchen, the shade it affords is of great service to the delicate roots of the areca trees.

Supari of very superior quality is grown in the taluk, which competes well with Tirthahalli in this respect, where (the Agumbi Magni) the finest and best supari in the State, perhaps in the whole world, is produced. Gardens in the Hariharpur and Koppa Hoblis yield much of the best nut in the locality, commanding a price of 8 annas more per maund than the areca of the other Hoblis. In the general excellence of gardens, the Megunda Hobli ranks first; following in order, roughly, come South Kigga, Baggunji and Koppa, Hariharpur and North Kigga. Megunda is said to be the most prosperous of the Hoblis, so much so, that I have heard it said more than once, with some exaggeration of course, that almost every other man in the Hobli may be called a Sowcar. The water-supply is so abundant and certain here, that gardening brings in large returns. The remoteness of many of the villages of the Hobli from active centres, and its general inaccessibility also, I think, contribute in a measure to limiting the expenses of the people to actual necessities. Exceptionally good gardens in Megunda are estimated to yield about 40 maunds of areca per acre; but generally an acre of garden, which requires an expenditure of from Rs. 30 to 40 for digging, manuring, fencing, etc., is said to produce from 20 to 30 maunds, or 25 maunds on an average, of which the aeni or annual payment to the landlord is usually 12 maunds The habit of borrowing entails to the areca grower a sacrifice of something between 12 annas and one rupee per maund of areca grown Supposing the price at Birur of 1 maund of the nut to be Rs 8, the grower who has to borrow, gets only Rs 7-4-0 or even Rs 7 The difference is accounted for as follows —

Two annas, profit to the agent sent out by Labbe Merchant, generally also a Labbe,
Two annas, profit to the merchant at Birur
Four annas, transit charges to Birur,
Four annas, interest to the merchant who advances money to the travelling agent

If the advance is made early in the monsoon, a further sum at the rate of four annas per maund is deducted, bringing the total deduction to one rupee The interest thus calculated works out to 12½ per cent for about 6 months, or 25 per cent per annum, which, it is needless to say, is a heavy rate, and had it not been for the large profits that usually accrue from garden cultivation in the Malnad, it would not have been possible for the raiyats to keep up as they hitherto have done

Malnad gardens are subject to the ravages of the Koleroga and those of the Koppa Taluk are no exception to the rule Five villages in the Kigga Magni, viz., Kogodu, Gandagatta, Yedadalu, Yedadale and Marakallu or Kigga, are however, said to have never been attacked by the disease and the raiyats easily attribute the immunity to supernatural influence connected with Devadava Inams, of which an uncommonly large number exists in the region The results obtained in substance in these gardens, however, do not show any striking improvement on the average yield of gardens elsewhere in the taluk Koleroga attacks gardens for some years successively at times, say for five or ten years, and then gives relief for periods of similar duration In the years of attack, about 50 per cent of the nut is lost It is also believed that in gardens affected by the Koleroga, cardamom does not thrive, and the disease would increase in virulence with the progress of time if adequate remedial efforts are not systematically applied The young areca naturally suffers earlier and quicker where the soil is already germ-laden Koleroga has hit North Kigga longest and hardest, where, it is said, a full crop has not been taken these 15 years, South Kigga is better off, as the disease is not so persistent there The severity of the ravages has been ranked in the following order in the several Hobles—(1) North Kigga (Begar side), (2) South Kigga, (3) Hariharpur, (4) Baggunji and Koppa, and (5) Megunda Dr Coleman's remedy practised in the taluk for about seven years past, is giving increasing confidence, and the idea among the more intelligent of the garden-owners now is that if a few short intervals of sun-shine were available during the earlier stages of the monsoon, so as to allow the spray to dry, very good general results would ensue Dr Coleman's remedy is becoming more and more popular among the garden-owners, but there is still a considerable number of slackers whom it may take some time to persuade that the old method of kotte-tying may be superseded with much benefit

The cultivation of coffee is another important industry in the taluk, occupying an area of 10,643 acres, assessed at Rs 14,134 Rubber and tea are being experimented upon on a small scale

Honey, wax, seege and dhupa are about the only important jungle produce other than timber.

The distribution of crops in the taluks is as follows —

|---|---|
| Fodder crops | 2 87 |
| Ragi | 25 |
| Gram | 14 |
| Rice | 50 38 |
| Other cereals | 1 41 |
| Coffee | 27 65 |
| Oil seeds | 89 |
| Sugar-cane .. | 63 |
| Condiments | 5 52 |
| Garden produce | 10 26 |
| Total . | 100 00 |

The percentage refers only to area. Rice is of course facile princeps, coffee and the ordinary garden produce take the next two places The poorness of the dry crop outturn, (ragi, gram and oil seeds) is not to be wondered at, but it is manifest that sugar cane could show a better percentage than 0 63

8. Tanks —There are 16 major and 829 minor tanks in the taluk, of which only four, three major and one minor, are restored The so-called major tanks are of very modest dimensions ; it would be more fitting to call them ponds, but the point of importance is that they are perennially supplied with water by good springs. The minor tanks are no better than lightly bunded pools; some of them exist only in name, and several others have neither sluice nor waste weir. This condition of the tanks is not a matter for surprise in a tract of such heavy rainfall; their real utility is limited to a short period in the latter part of the hot weather, when areca gardens generally need some watering, and are supplied through trenches furrowed in the bunds. The restoration of the tanks, however, is very desirable, nay necessary, as the improved supply will counteract the serious effects of any failure of the early Mungar rains. The raiyats are also anxious to have sluices of the regular type for all the tanks, as, firstly, the necessity for conserving the tank supply is said to be more pressing now owing to a growing irregularity of rains in recent years, secondly, the cutting of the bund and the more laborious filling up of the trench could both be avoided, thirdly, wastage of water would be prevented, and lastly, a subsidiary crop like potato could be raised in the dry weather if some water could be found for it.

The taluk has no tanks built by private enterprise.

There is an anicut at Machikoppa in the Baggunji Hobli, measures for the restoration of which are said to be in progress; the total number of wells used for irrigation is 68.

9. Communications.—The newly opened steam tramway, connecting Narasimharajapura with Tarikere, has practically brought the railway within easier reach of the taluk, and if the desire of the people to have the tram line extended to Koppa and thence to Tirthahalli is to be realised, a very valuable boon will have been made to traffic. At the time of the original settlement, the northern half of the taluk had been opened out pretty well by good roads; the southern half was comparatively wanting in this respect, and was accessible with difficulty. Now, the whole taluk, barring the mountainous strip in the south and west, is provided with roads running in all directions and meeting at Sringeri, which happens also to be geographically the centre of the taluk. The following are the roads that existed at the original settlement:—

1. Tarikere-Mangalore road, commencing from the Talmakki village in the Koppa Taluk.
2. Hariharpur-Wastara-Chikmagalur road.
3. Begar-Sringeri road.
4. Begar-Nemmar road.
5. Kalasa-Bale-Honnur road.

New roads formed since then are:—

1. Vastara-Koppa road, joining the old road a little beyond the village of Andaguli.
2. Narsipur-Sringeri-Nemmar road.
3. Narve-Nagalapur road, joining the Tarikere-Mangalore road near Hariharpur.
4. Tirthahalli-Koppa road.
5. Balagadi-Badagi road.
6. Sollebail-Sringeri road.
7. Sollebail-Balehole road.
8. Sringeri-Kigga road.
9. Nemmar-Matulli road.
10. Koppa-Kalasapur road.
11. Hariharpur-Kunimakki road.
12. Yedadalu-Sringeri road.
13. Magundi-Balur road.

The intervillage tracks are mostly impracticable during the greater part of the monsoon in the south. In the more open parts in the north, the inconvenience is less severe.

10. Markets.—Weekly markets are held at Koppa and Sollebail, where transactions to the value of nearly Rs, 7,000 and Rs. 1,000 take place every week except during the rains, when the transactions naturally come down to a considerable extent.

11. Exports and Imports.—The following table gives roughly the trade statistics of the taluk as at present constituted, inclusive of the sub-taluk of Narasimharajapura and the Sringeri Jahgir, for the year 1914:—

| Articles of export. | Tons | Value Rs. |

The above list furnished by the Amildar is more exhaustive than any I have yet seen for a Malnad taluk, but it is avowedly one for whose accuracy no guarantee can be offered All practicable care has however been taken in the notings of the movement of commerce. Separate figures for the tract we are dealing with in this report cannot be had.

Rice forms an article of both export and import, and the quantity exported is too small for a taluk in which rice is exclusively the grain grown The fact is that the rice grown in the taluk being of a coarse kind, is nearly all consumed by the lower classes,—it is given away partly in payment to coolies, who prefer it to payment in cash and partly in exchange for salt imported from Canara, a cartload of salt being exchanged for two of paddy. The Surplus for export is therefore comparatively small and in the quantity sent out is included the produce of lands owned by persons living below the Ghats, who take the paddy to their homes in South Canara. Fine rice or paddy is imported in quantities for consumption by the better classes from Ayanur, Alur and Narasimharajapura The Sringeri Jahgir itself with its extensive rice lands imports about Rs 5,000 worth of rice for its own purposes Rice is exported chiefly to South Canara, areca to Birur and Shimoga, cardamom to Haveri, and coffee to Mangalore, whence it used to be sent off to Europe until the war put a restriction on shipping.

Manufacture and Industry.—There is no industry of importance in the taluk other than agriculture. A tile factory is worked in Sringeri on quite a modest scale A soap factory once started there, is now defunct for want of funds, but a rice mill and a small mill for extracting oil from seeds and cocoanut, are doing pretty well. People have for several years been interesting themselves in the question of making candle and soap from the seed of the Dhupa, a very common plant in these regions How best to economise in the extraction of the oil from the seed is problem facing them The total number of persons employed in all the industries above mentioned is roughly five hundred, and about three hundred are engaged in trade, chiefly the purchase and sale of coffee, areca, rice and cardamom. A distribution, by way of wages among the landless classes, of a considerable portion of the earnings of the gardens and coffee estates may be said to be the principal factor influencing economic adjustment in the taluk.

13. Population.—Statistics taken village by village from the Census Reports show the population of the 100 villages under consideration at the several decennial periods to have been as follows, details are given by hoblis.—

| Hobli | According to the census of— | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1871 | 1881 | 1891 | 1901 | 1911 |
| Koppa .. . | 6,675 | 8,900 | 9,733 | 9,209 | 8,626 |
| Harihanpur ... .. | 7,509 | 7,084 | 8,160 | 7,674 | 7,069 |
| Kigga ... .. | 5,422 | 5,923 | 6,186 | 6,768 | 6,117 |
| Baggunji .. ... | 3,721 | 3,718 | 4,104 | 4,476 | 3,692 |
| Megunda .. ... | 4,516 | 5,220 | 6,561 | 7,474 | 7,307 |
| Balehonnur (one village) . | 201 | 281 | 317 | 274 | 250 |
| Total ... | 28,044 | 31,126 | 35,061 | 35,875 | 33,061 |

It is to be observed from the above figures that the population, which was gradually on the increase till 1901, decreased during the next decade by 2,814, or by about 8 per cent The decrease was not confined to any particular locality, but was general in all the hoblis as was found to be the case with nearly all the Malnad taluks, at the last Census It will be seen also that though there has been a set back during the last decade, the population compares favourably with that of the first Census (1871), showing an increase of 5,017 souls A comparison of the hoblis individually as they were found in 1871 and in 1911, discloses some curious facts, for, while in the open and more healthy villages comprised in the Harihanpur Hobli a considerable depletion has taken place, the very wild country included in the Megunda, the Kigga and the Koppa hoblis register substantial gains, but this is attributable to the growth of coffee gardening among the hills in these parts, with the consequent increase in the labouring population there.

The facts relating to the condition of the Malnad have so persistently been brought to public notice during recent years, that I need do no more than make a passing mention of such causes as the general insanitary conditions and the rigour of the climate, the rough character of the country making traffic always difficult, and during the monsoon season, well nigh impossible, the superstition abounding, and the ignorant treatment of disease, the bungling at child-birth, and the difficulty in securing wives, the lack of nutritious foodstuffs, and the growth of vicious habits and of indolence, etc Government are however taking energetic measures to combat these causes, and a very comprehensive scheme for the betterment of the Malnad has been set on foot

One remark may, I think, be made here as regards the responsibility for the decline which, by a fallacy, the people of the Malnad vaguely attribute to Government, and to the system of administration applied to it in common with all other parts of the State There is nothing whatever to suggest the belief that during its prosperous period the Malnad was any the less afflicted than it is now, with disease, death and the other evils with which we are accustomed to associate it All evidence points to an opposite conclusion. The difference in condition lies rather in the fact that its great fertility and seclusiveness had helped to bring such a constant stream of dependents and fighting men from the surrounding lowlands into the service of the old Malnad Chieftains, that losses through death and incapacitation through disease, were not at all felt in those times. But when political conditions changed into what they are now, and liberty and responsibility became rigidly defined, the replenishment from without ceased, and the result has gradually come to be what we find the country to be at the present time It is only in this sense of the unavoidable consequences following the unavoidable political subjugation of the Malnad, that Government may be said to be responsible for the low condition of the tract Among the institutions imposed for the administration of the country, the Survey Department has had the misfortune of being regarded with open malignity, and the reason is not far to seek,—the nature of the country made it most difficult for representatives of Government to examine, discover and readjust the enormous appropriations in property of all kinds in the Malnad, and chiefly in land; but the axe was laid at the root of this condition of things most effectively by the Survey Department, of all Civil Departments, when it broke the ideal of excessive domination by means of its exact methods of measuring, demarcating, classing and recording. A good deal of the old Highland feudalism was to be observed even during the vigorous administration of Dewan Poornaiah, as is evidenced in the accounts still retailed, of the many occasions on which the leaders mustered their adherents to oppose by force attempts on the part of Government to introduce a distasteful administrative measure But all that has now changed—the old serfdom is vanished, public property can no longer be enjoyed clandestinely, and Heggade and Holeyar stand on an equal footing This side of the story of the Malnad presents a tragedy that must needs touch the heart of any one capable of sympathising with the old-world chivalry, but the point I venture to make clear is, that it is as wrong as it is useless to blame Government or any Department of Government as having unnecessarily brought about the melancholy contrast The decline is to be attributed to the fact of conquest and supremacy

The density of population in the taluk is 98 per square mile, 719 per acre of arable land, and 848 per acre of occupied land

14 Agricultural resources—The following table furnishes material for judging of the progress in the agricultural resources of the people —

| Items | | At the time of original survey | At resurvey | Increase or Decrease |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Houses | Tiled | 175 | 498 | +323 |
| | Mud | 182 | 20 | —162 |
| | Thatched | 4,209 | 5,007 | +798 |
| | Total | 4,566 | 5,525 | +959 |
| Cattle | | 25,515 | 31,441 | +5,926 |
| Carts | | 14 | 139 | + 125 |
| Ploughs | | 4 037 | 5 454 | +1,417 |
| Wells | Irrigation | No | 68 | |
| | Others | data | 521 | |
| | | | 592 | |

The increase in the number of tiled houses and the disappearance of mud houses indicate that people are adopting a better style of living The increase in the number of carts is the outcome of the extension of communications, though in itself the number of carts is very small for a tract fairly well provided with roads, it must be recollected that a great deal of the barter and personal traffic is effected by means of carts belonging to neighbouring taluks, British and Mysore A very noticeable increase of 1,417 or 35 per cent has occurred in the stock of ploughs

15 Cattle—It is a matter of common knowledge that cattle of the better kind do not thrive in the Malnad owing to their inability to withstand the excessive rainfall, the high winds, and the insanitary process adopted for preparing leaf manure in cattle sheds The small-sized indigenous breed, which is better suited to these conditions forms the agriculturist's stock, the price of which ranges from Rs 25 to about Rs 45 per pair Even this naturalised species suffers from disease during the monsoon, while a certain number falls a prey to wild beasts The taluk is, on the whole, poor in cattle and the improvement of live stock is a desideratum

16 Modes of husbandry—There has been no change in the methods of agriculture Very few people have taken to manuring or transplanting on scientific lines The only improvement worth a mention is in regard to the introduction of about a score of the latest style of ploughs

17 Tenure—Much of the land is cultivated by the owners, subletting is limited to about a third of the lands under occupation Where gardens are leased out, the system of Mulgeni or permanent lease prevails, as in the Sringeri Jahgir, and under this system the gardens are generally preserved in good condition by the Gendar, who is practically independent of the Khatedar, not being liable to be ousted by him at will In spite of the troubles to which it is subject, gardening in Koppa Taluk is regarded pretty generally as a good investment Khatedars have frequently counted for their share a clear gain of 9 per cent, according to their own statements As much of the value of a garden depends upon the character of the Gendar, garden-owners often-rest cheerfully content with much smaller profits, when they feel satisfied about the reliability of the lessee Annual leases and leases for a defined number of years are common in the case of wet lands An agreement is sometimes entered into under which the landowner binds himself to advance to the cultivator 10 candies of paddy, and the use of a pair of bullocks for every 5 candies of bijavari leased out, with a lodging place costing from Rs 25 to Rs 50, the concession continuing from year to year until the lessee terminates the lease, when the value of the advance is recovered from him The ordinary lease in wet land goes by the rule of ಮೂರಕ್ಕೆ ಸಾ ಒಕ್ಕಲು referred to in para 7 above

No. R. 10265-7—L. S. 17-17-18, dated 13th April 1918.

18. Value of land.—Transactions of sales and mortgages, recorded in the Registration Department, were examined with a view to ascertain the value of land in the taluk. The result of the examination is embodied in the following statement:—

| Transactions | Number | Amount fetched | Total survey assessment | Ratio |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Sales ... ... ... | 136 | 1,27,072 | 10,137 | 13 } times the assess- |
| Mortgages ... ... ... | 146 | 1,21,058 | 8,052 | 15 } ment. |

These statistics show that mortgages fetch more than sales. This circumstance is not peculiar to the Koppa Taluk, but is observed in other malnad taluks also, and the explanation is not far to seek. Owners of high class lands, chiefly gardens, are unwilling to part with them, as money could always be raised on their security; on the other hand, investors, who are generally money-lenders engaged in trade, do not care to undertake the direct cultivation of land, but prefer to leave it in the hand of the owners themselves, who are better fitted for it, and are equally, if not more, interested in the proper up-keep of the property.

19. Prices.—The more important articles of agricultural produce fetched prices which average as shown below, during each quinquennium commencing from 1886. Statistics of prices up to 1906 have had to be taken from the compilation made by the Director of Statistics for the district as a whole, as the Amildar was not able to furnish information for the taluk for any year previous to 1907.

| Period | Seers per rupee | | | | | Rupees per maund | | | | | | Remarks |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

| 1891-95 ... | 8·80 | 10·85 | 26 45 | ... | 10·23 | ... | ... | ... | ... | ... | .. | |
| 1896-00 ... | 8·22 | 10·37 | 20·88 | ... | 8·84 | .. | .. | ... | .. | ... | ... | |
| 1901-05 .. | 8·68 | 10·20 | 21·12 | ... | 9·52 | .. | ... | ... | . | ... | ... | |
| 1906-10 ... | 5·5 | 8·18 | 12·25 | 9·06 | 6·75 | 8 2 0 | 4 4 0 | 2 5 1 | 6 10 0 | ... | .. | As per taluk accounts. |
| 1911-15 ... | 5 95 | 8·80 | 15·20 | 11·46 | 7 80 | 10 9 5 | 5 14 10 | 2 9 7 | 6 11 2 | ... | ... | |
| Increase of the last average percentage over the first. | +142% | +89% | +167% | ... | ... | +30% | ... | ... | . | .. | .. | |

The above table will make it clear that prices have gone up enormously since the original settlement, and that the general tendency has been to mount. The higher problems relating to prices that may have to be considered under the altered and more complicated trade conditions of the world as a result of the Great War in Europe, do not fortunately call for more than a mere allusion in this report, but I think we may safely lay it down on this head, that prices of agricultural produce will not descend from the general level to which they have attained in recent times. Rice of the 2nd sort which forms the bulk of the produce in wet lands, has risen in price by 89 per cent within 30 years, while supari has risen by 30 per cent within 10 years alone. Had information been forthcoming about the earlier prices of supari, it would in all likelihood prove that the current rates are about as considerable an increase in percentage over the old, as has been shown to be the case with rice.

20. Labour and Wages.—With the rise in prices, wages have necessarily increased for all kinds of labour; and with the disappearance of the old Agrarian slaves, the rise of new occupations such as the coast fisheries offer in the territory beyond the Ghats whence most of the coolies are obtained, the expansion of coffee cultivation within our own borders, and the seductive methods of the Ceylon and other Labour Commissions, labour for the rice and garden lands is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain. So fearful are the large land-owners of losing their field workers, that they even go the length of risking large sums of money in buying up available waste land in order to preclude tillers from taking it up and becoming independent. It has to be borne in mind too, that the demand for labour in the malnad fluctuates with the season of the year and that when labour is required, it is required in all parts almost simultaneously. The great complaint in the case of gardens is the lack of timely labour; the tying of kottes, spraying, the trimming of the areca leaves, and the shelling and the preparing of the nut for the market, all require well-timed operations by expert hands, for want of which a number of the gardens suffer very grievously if koleroga and the monkeys have also been allowed to take their toll. It is said that in all the Harihar hobli there are only 30 permanent coolies available for the final operations on supari, and about 40 kotte binders. The subject of labour in the Malnad has been discussed very freely of late, and I believe that "it has been engaging the earnest attention both of the Government and of the public, and is fairly on the road to practical solution."

21. Education.—There are in all 21 schools in the taluk, 10 Government, 1 aided and 10 private, where 401 boys and 35 girls receive instruction, out of 1,859 boys and 4,032 girls of school-going age. The percentage of pupils to the total of the school-going age is 5·6 while the percentage of the literate to the total population is 7·7. Special efforts are now being made in the cause of primary education.

22. Resurvey.—Sub-division of survey numbers, compulsory and optional, effected during resurvey, has increased the number of survey fields from 10,682 to 11,832, showing that 1,150 numbers were newly formed. The area of all classes of land comprised in the tract is 2,16,693 acres according to resurvey, as against 2,15,970 acres of the original survey. The small difference of 723 acres amounting only to 0·33 per cent needs no comment. Details of area under different classes of land are given in the following table:

|---|---|---|---|
| Arable dry crop land | 922 | 1,650 | +728 |
| Rice or wet land | 22,135 | 22,368 | +233 |
| Garden land | 6,057 | 5,543 | -514 |
| Unarable land | 186,856 | 187,132 | +276 |
| Total | 215,970 | 216,693 | +723 |

There is thus a net increase of 447 acres in the arable area; the decrease under garden land is somewhat marked, and not unexpected in this Malnad tract.

23. Re-classification.—The re-classification of lands was carried out under the rules applicable to the malnad; the original soil valuation was left untouched in the case of lands classed at the original survey. The classers have, however, classed the soil in old kharab land now brought or proposed to be brought under cultivation.

24. Revenue history.—The revenue history of the taluk is told in Appendix A. Dry land in occupation rose from 171 acres at the Original Settlement to 995 acres in the year 1913-14. Being very lightly assessed, raiyats do not mind possessing themselves of large grounds at small cost; though cultivation be not the object, the acquisition satisfies the craving for landlordship, affords grazing for the cattle when the village pasture is inconveniently situated or destroyed by fire as frequently happens in the months of March and April; occasionally also the land contains trees that provide the house with fuel and the farm with manure.

There are some noticeable peculiarities in the wet cultivation: the largest area ever occupied in the taluk was in the year 1881-82, soon after the settlement, but in the year following there occurred a sudden drop of about 1,300 acres, after which there appears, with a fluctuation here and there, a tendency to expand, till in 1895-96 it returns to the former level. Another sudden fall occurs in 1896-97 and then recovery takes place throughout the rest of the period. These remarks relate to area only; the assessment does not vary in any close correspondence with the rise and fall in acreage, though the latter declined from 1882-83 downwards, the collections kept quite steady till the year 1891-92. I believe this circumstance goes to show that the wet maxima have been low and easy, so as to permit of the higher assessed of the lands to be taken up as freely as the poorer lands were relinquished. The decline in the collections was pretty well defined during the period of 1891-1905, but since then they have quickly recovered, and during the last 5 years they have steadily exhibited an excess of over 2,000 rupees above the collections made in the best of the previous years. It is difficult to find a very exact explanation for these curious fluctuations, outside of the general platitudes that cultivation depends on labour, and that the labour available for these lands is closely related to the disappearance of the old system of seridom, to the zeal with which coffee estates are worked, and to the existence of industries on the sea-coast or elsewhere, which present themselves to the Ghat coolies as preferable alternatives.

In the case of gardens also it will be noticed that a considerable area had for some reason gone out of holding during the four years 1882-86, but as with the rice lands, the decline is only as regards area. The remissions given to garden owners in 1896, and continued to this day, amounts to about 27,000 rupees annually (Cols. 10 and 12), a sacrifice Government determined upon as a result of the remarkable inquiry instituted and fully recorded in one of the volumes of the printed selections.

The Amildar has furnished figures separately for the last 6 years on the list (Col. 11), for remissions other than the permanent Bagayeth remission: these are relatively insignificant, ranging from Rs. 128 to Rs. 396, and are moreover reported to be due exclusively to the foregoing under the alvi rules, on the part of Government, of portions of the assessment on gardens newly formed. No loss has had to be incurred on account of revenue not collected under the processes prescribed for recovery.

In the following table a quinquennial abstract of Appendix A is given:—

25. Grouping.—I must now proceed to explain what I think the revised assessment should be, and how it should be distributed in the taluk.

There appears to be no good reason for proposing a departure from the grouping of villages effected for wet lands at the Original Settlement with reference to the relative importance of the advantages enjoyed by them, for, notwithstanding some changes that have occurred, the relative bearing of the groups among themselves is practically unaffected, and there is a risk of a very unequal settlement resulting from an alteration in the groups unless conditions alter in an equally material degree. The climate is the same as it was; the markets are practically the same, the only noticeable improvement is that due to additional roads, which however are nearly all situated within the first group area and this of course, cannot be raised any higher The third group on Kigga side has also had a road pierced through it but I have found it no better than an unmetalled cart track and even if it were improved, that circumstance alone could not in the face of the general physiographical difficulties of the region justify any disturbance of its position among the other groups The grouping therefore will remain as before

GROUP I –Thirty villages in the centre and east, near about the high roads communicating with Tarikere on one side and Chikmagalur on mother

GROUP II Forty-three villages in the north the west and the centre not quite so well situated as regards the main road

GROUP III Ten villages in the neighbourhood of Kigga in the west where the country becomes too uneven for any good system of communications and public health is not so good as it is in the more open country

GROUP IV A block of seventeen villages in the south-west where the country is wild in the extreme, where there are no roads, and means of communication are, and from the nature of the country must remain as bad as they are anywhere in the Mysore Province

Wet land maxima – Taking all circumstances into consideration it would appear to be correct to increase the old wet maxima by 8 annas for the first and the second groups, and by 4 annas for the third and the fourth groups The maxima now in force are shown below side by side with those proposed –

| Group | Current | Proposed |
|---|---|---|
| | Rs a p | Rs a a |

| II | 5 0 0 | 5 8 0 |

| IV | 4 0 0 | 4 4 0 |

The maxima obtaining in the taluks adjoining are shown in the annexed table for purposes of comparison It must be borne in mind that only one of these, Tarikere, has been revised the figures quoted for the others relate only to the Original Settlement

The rates I have proposed for Koppa Taluk may perhaps be characterised as being more lenient than just, but the situation of the taluk right away in the west is not to be forgotten and the very rugged character of much of its surface entails a degree of difficulty not quite so accentuated in the case of a taluk like Tarikere or Chikmagalur The wet maximum adopted for the settlement of the Sringeri Taluk in the year 1907 was so high as Rs 7, but it would be improper to hit the Koppa rate to anywhere very near to that pitch The valley in which the Sringeri villages are embraced is about the best in the whole taluk from the agriculturist's point of view besides, the 7 rupee maximum appears to have been fixed not only in view of the fact that the rates previously in force had been somewhat higher than the rates current in the surrounding villages of the Koppa Taluk but also because it was considered permissible to adopt a policy of liberality towards the Matt, which Government would not as readily adopt where their own raiyats are concerned —for the administration of such a small principality may be seriously hampered by a lowering of the revenue derived from its 23 villages, which is practically all it depends on, but the same would not be true, in the same degree, of the Mysore State with its vast territories and its infinitely greater resources in general

No. R. 10265-7—L. S. 17-17-18, dated 13th April, 1918.

Garden maximum.—The grouping for garden rates was carried out on a plan different from that pursued for rice lands at the Original Settlement; a maximum of Rs. 18 was taken for 85 villages, while Rs. 16 and 14 were adopted for 6 villages of the old Nemmar Magani and nine of the Kerri Magani, respectively. Eighteen years after the the Settlement in 1896, the gardens came in for a special remission of between 5 and 6 annas in the rupee, by which the old rates were considerably lowered; a total remission of between Rs. 26,000 and Rs. 27,000 is being granted from year to year. I have examined a great many gardens in different quarters in the taluk, and in my humble opinion their average condition is not perceptibly lower than that of the Tirthahalli Taluk gardens, where no remissions were thought necessary, though maxima of Rs. 20 and 16 had been adopted at the Original Settlement. The remissions in the case of the gardens of Sagar and Nagar Taluks, both of which I have examined in a sufficiently minute degree, appear to me to have been based on much firmer ground. In the year 1907, Government took another great step on behalf of areca growers all over the Province, by which the Hallat, which brought in a revenue of more than 3½ lakhs of rupees, was abolished. There can be no question as to the wisdom of this last measure, for, it brought about a removal of the severely galling restrictions on garden owners involved in the practical working of the Sayer system, though it must be confessed that the Malnad has shown itself to be slow in shaking off the bondage to the Suttige Sowcar on account of its remoteness from the chief trade centres.

I find, after a very careful consideration of all sides of the question, that a uniform maximum of Rs. 14 for all parts of the taluk would be most suitable for the purpose of revision. This compares with maxima adopted in the neighbouring taluks as shown below:—

|---|---|---|---|
| Tirthahalli | .. | Rs. 18, 16 and 15 | Revised |
| Chikmagalur | ... | „ 16 and 6 | Original |
| Mudgere | . | „ 16 | Do |
| Lakkavalli | .. | „ 16 and 14 | Do |
| Koppa | . | „ 14 | Now proposed |

In the Sringeri Taluk, the maximum fixed so recently as in the year 1907, was Rs. 18, but it would not be wise to take that as a criterion for Koppa, for reasons alluded to above, where I explained the desirability of keeping the wet rates for Koppa well below those of the Jahgir. Moreover the taking of any higher maximum than Rs 14 would render it impracticable to abide by the maxim we are expected to follow (vide Government Order No. R. 703-14—L. S. 26-05-18, dated 30th July 1907, pages 33, 35 and 62) viz., that the total garden assessment leviable in a Malnad Taluk should not exceed that which is being actually levied after the special remisson scheme of 1896 came into force, though of course a redistribution of the amount to accord with changes in the relative condition of individual gardens is not forbidden.

The dry crop maximum will be advanced from 12 annas to one rupee in the first group and from 8 annas to 12 annas in the second group; the old maxima of 8 annas for the other groups, will remain as they are. The principles governing dry crop assessment in the Malnad are so simple and so well understood, that I think there is no need to write at length in support of the proposal I am making.

26. Results of revision.—Applying the proposed rates to lands found in occupation at the time of resurvey, results as shown in the following statement will be obtained:—

| Description | By former settlement | | | By revision settlement | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Acres | Assessment | Average rate | Acres | Assessment | Average rate |
| 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 |
| | | Rs | Rs. a. p. | | Rs | Rs. a. p. |
| Dry | 913 | 235 | 0 4 1 | 1,118 | 407 | 0 5 10 |

| Total | 25,290 | 1,06,544 | 4 3 5 | 25,074 | 1,08,708 | 4 5 4 |

The proposed revision provides for an increase of Rs. 2,194 which, when distributed over the total area in holding, gives, an average rate of Rs. 4-5-4 per acre, against the previous average rate of Rs. 4-3-5. The average contribution by each village towards the increase is less than Rs. 22, and when this is further apportioned among the several Khatedars in the village, the increase on each Khate will be so small that it will scarcely be felt The moderation of the revised rates will become more clear by the following comparison of the average rates for this taluk with the average rates recently sanctioned and introduced in the adjoining taluk of Kavaledurga (Tirthahalli).

No. R. 10265-7 –L. S. 17-17-18, dated 13th April 1918.

| Description | Koppa Taluk Average rate as proposed | | | Tirthahalli Taluk Average rate | | | Difference | | |
| | Rs | a | p | Rs. | a | p | Rs. | a. | p |

| Garden . | 10 | 10 | 5 | 12 | 4 | 3 | - 1 | 9 | 10 |

Further discussion as to the suitability of the proposed revision is not necessary, as both the wet and garden average rates compare very favourably with those of Tirthahalli The increase in the average dry rate is of very little consequence in a taluk where dry cultivation is inconsiderable

It will be noticed that the areas under the different heads of cultivation as entered in the taluk accounts and those recorded at resurvey are not the same, though they relate to land in occupation in one and the same year. This is a natural result of all revision operations, where mistakes discovered in old measurements and computations are rectified, land formerly recorded as garden is for proper reasons freely changed into "wet", and "wet" land into "dry" or "garden" as the case may be. Portions of Kharab land which had very shortly prior to revision been granted for cultivation in anticipation of suitable alterations in the usual course in the survey records, and cultivated land newly taken up for public purposes also awaiting corresponding correction in the accounts, are additional factors in producing the difference. The net result of these complications is a difference of 216 acres between the resurvey area and that exhibited in the taluk accounts.

However, taking the figures as they stand, it will be observed that the percentage of average increase in the rate on dry land in the taluk as a whole, is so much as 43 per cent, but this need not alarm us, if we will only discern that such a result has come about by altering the former low rate of Re. 0-4-1, per acre to the rate, still insignificant, of Re. 0-5-10. The averages on the groups taken individually, though very small in themselves, have made an advance of Re. 0-1-11 and Re. 0-1-9, in the first and second groups respectively; in the other groups, they have worked out to minus 3 pies and minus 1 pie, though the old maxima are left intact.

The wet averages have increased by Re. 0-4-0 and Re. 0-4-2 in the first two groups, and by roughly a half of that (Re. 0-2-1 and Re. 0-2-4) in the third and fourth groups, where the increment to the maximum has been kept correspondingly low.

The assessing of the gardens according to merits has produced results ranging between an addition of Re. 0-3-8 per acre in the first group, and a remission of Re. 0-6-11 in the second group. A great many factors have combined to bring about these results, chief among which are, that new gardens have deliberately been treated with great lenience, and that any rate near about the maximum of Rs. 14 has been imposed only in cases in which there is no doubt of the gardens having continued in excellent condition throughout the settlement period.

To sum up, the average wet rate has been raised by 9 per cent in the taluk, while the garden rate which is only 10 pies short of the current average, remains practically stationary; and these are the only classes of cultivation that matter in a purely Malnad taluk like Koppa. The increase in the dry rate of 43 per cent is, as explained above, scarcely anything to speak of. The final result on the taluk will be an increase of revenue of Rs 2,194 or 2·06 per cent Had the history of garden cultivation in the taluk been more encouraging than the figures given in the table above prove it to be, a more substantial call on behalf of the Public Treasury would have been justifiable, but it is clear that in spite of the accession of a pretty considerable area on account of new gardens, so much of the old has died out that the result is a shrinkage in the net area by 137 acres, and inasmuch as caution has had to be exercised in the treatment of the new gardens, as also in the raising of the existing rates on the old gardens, in the cases (not numerous) in which such action has been taken, the final result of a reassessment is a reduction by Rs 1,725 under the head of Garden I do not mean that the whole of this sum is lost, for the land lost as garden re-appears as wet land assessed at lower rates, but loss there has been and the fact is beyond question that on the whole garden cultivation has not been able to progress during the past few decades

Nobody ought to find it difficult to believe that these proposals are incapable of being criticised for lack of moderation, on the other hand, I fear there may be some who would call them too lenient To such, the answer is short,—I find it impossible to formulate a scheme, without being reminded at every step of the very serious difficulties the malnad cultivator is subject to In spite of the splendid natural privileges that the peculiarities of the country lay at his feet, its general inaccessibility and remoteness, the rigours of the climate, the lack of labourers, and the Kolerogu, are matters bearing down on him piteously It would be unwise to take the Sringeri rates as a guide for Koppa, though the settlement there is working quite well The resources of the Jahgir, unlike those of the Mysore State, must all come out of its small possession and in devising the settlement for it, that considerate liberality could not be exercised, which Government are in a position to treat their own raiyats with I beg therefore that sanction may be accorded to a mode of settlement which is in harmony with the lofty purpose Government have in recent times held up to us of preventing the malnad from falling into the depths it may otherwise sink to

There was at revision survey, an extent of 2,259 acres of assessed waste land, but since then 513 acres of it have been taken over for cultivation according to the accounts furnished by the Amildar for the year 1913-14, what still remains unoccupied 1,746 acres, is very small indeed and that of poor quality, as the corresponding rates in the table show, so that, if happily the raiyat population should increase in the future, the virgin Kovus and valleys, of which there still are many situated quite favourably, would have to be indented upon as the necessity may arise

29 Kans.—There is a small extent of 52 acres and 24 guntes of Kan in the holding of the raiyats, the revenue derived from it being Rs 89-8-0 The present rates and tenure of these occupied Kans should be continued for the coming term of revised guarantee, as has been done in the case of the other resettled Malnad taluks

30 Limits of increase.—With the rates proposed, and with no changes in grouping, there can be no increase in any village beyond the limit prescribed

31 Cesses.—The Local Fund and Irrigation cesses will be separate levies as may be provided for by law Being proportionate amounts no estimate is called for

Accompaniment II.

Letter No. C. 769 Gl. -17-18-3, dated 16th January 1918, from K. R. Srinivasa Iyengar, Esq., M. A., Revenue Commissioner in Mysore in charge, to the Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Revenue Department.

With reference to correspondence ending with your letter No. R. 4902—L. S. 17-17-12, dated 29th November 1917, regarding the proposals of the Survey and Settlement's Superintendent for the revision of assessment in the Koppa Taluk of the Kadur District, I have the honor to state as follows:—

(1) The proposals are briefly to retain the four groups into which the taluk was divided at the original settlement, to increase the maximum dry and wet rates by 4 and 8 annas respectively in the first two groups, to raise the wet maximum only in the other two groups by 4 annas and to fix a uniform maximum garden rate of Rs. 14 per acre throughout the taluk. The net result of the application of these rates is to raise the average dry rate in the taluk by Rs. 0-1-9 or 43 per cent and the average wet rate by Rs. 0-3-10 or 9 per cent and to lower the average garden rate by 10 pies. These rates are exclusive of the irrigation cess which is now merged in the assessment of wet and garden lands but which will be separately leviable after the resettlement takes effect

(2) In view of the representations made by certain land holders of the taluk in the Memorial dated the 10th November 1917, addressed by them to Government (vide your letter No. R. 4902—L. S. 17-17-12, dated 29th November 1917) I considered it desirable before expressing any opinion on the proposals of the Survey Superintendent to hear the memorialists in person and accordingly visited the taluk and discussed the proposlas with Mr. Hosakoppa Krishna Rao, Mr. Kigga Chennakesava Rao, Mr. Halgur Hucha Rao and others between the 7th and 10th of this month They admitted, in the course of the discussion, that they could not find any reasonable grounds to advance against the principles on which the Survey Superintendent's proposals were based and all that they could urge were that in consideration of the depopulation of the Malnad and the difficulties of the land holders in respect of labour, the Government should deal with them in a sympathetic manner and reduce the present rates of assessment rather than raise them. A perusal of the memorial will itself show that it is in the nature of a violent and impassioned diatribe against the Survey Superintendent and that it contains more of unreasoning vituperation than argument in support of their contention.

(3) After a careful consideration of the proposals made by the Survey Superintendent, I have no hesitation in saying that generally speaking, they are very moderate and reasonable, erring if at all on the side of leniency than otherwise, as claimed by himself in the report. With regard to the wet rates, when we take into consideration that the price of paddy has risen by about 90 per cent since the last settlement, that communications have been improved and that notwithstanding the reputed decline of the malnad, the area under occupancy as also that under actual cultivation has increased rather than diminished, the small increase of 9 per cent proposed by the Survey Superintendent should be deemed to be quite low and free from objection.

(4) As regards the garden rate, the average rate for the whole taluk will be reduced by 10 pies per acre and this is no doubt quite satisfactory from the raiyats' stand point. Nevertheless, the increase of the maximum rate to Rs. 14 might be urged by the raiyats as a grievance, particularly as it is somewhat doubtful if it can be justified under Government Order No. R. 703-14 - L. S. 26-05-18, dated the 30th July 1907, quoted by the Superintendent in page 13 of his report. The Survey Superintendent interprets this order as authorising any increase in the maximum rates of each group so long as the total amount of garden assessment for the taluk is not exceeded by the revised settlement. I am, however, not sure if this interpretation is quite correct and if it is not the intention of Government that the maximum rates for each group at the revision settlement should not exceed the rates now in operation after the remissions of 1896. This is a point which I would submit for the consideration and orders of Government.

(5) The average dry rate for the taluk is proposed to be raised by Re. 0-1-9 or 43 per cent. The total dry assessment in this taluk is inconsiderable and now amounts to only Rs. 235 out of an aggregate Land Revenue of Rs. 1,06,514 and the proposed increase in the dry rate will bring in an additional paltry sum of Rs. 172 In the circumstances, one would have expected to find the revised dry rate to be quite unexceptional. But considering that there is practically no dry cultivation in the taluk and that as the Survey Superintendent has himself remarked, dry lands are held more for convenience as for stacking hay and fuel, tethering cattle, etc., than for cultivation, the proposed increase in the dry rate does not appear to be free from objection I would therefore suggest that the dry maximum may be left at the existing rates as such a course will avoid the charge of undue enhancement while involving practically no loss of revenue

(6) While generally agreeing with the Survey Superintendent about the moderate character of the rate proposed by him, there is one point in his report which I consider open to objection and that is as regards the levy of irrigation cess In para 31 of his report the Survey Superintendent has observed that the Local Fund and Irrigation cesses will be recovered as separate levies under the law, after the revision settlement comes into operation The irrigation cess is now merged in the survey rates of the current settlement and it is on these inclusive rates that the proposed wet and garden rates have been based The result of recovering irrigation cess again on the proposed new rates will therefore be practically a double levy of the cess which would be obviously unfair The proper and equitable course would therefore be either to take only the old rates minus the irrigation cess as the basis for the calculation of the new rates and recover the cess thereon or to treat the proposed new rates as including the irrigation cess and not make a separate levy of the cess in addition to the assessment

(7) The memorial received with your letter is herewith returned The Kadur Deputy Commissioner's letter No D Dis 107 of 17-18, dated 9th October 1917 furnishing his opinion on the proposals is also sent herewith for reference

Letter No D Dis 107, dated 9th October 1917, from C Devaraj Urs Esq Officiating Deputy Commissioner, Kadur District to A T Ramanathan, Esq B A, Assistant to the Revenue Commissioner in charge Bangalore

With reference to your letter No C 769 of 1917-18, dated 27th August 1917, I have the honour to forward herewith a copy of my reply to the Superintendent, Revenue Survey and Settlements in Mysore, furnishing my opinion regarding the revision of assessment of the Koppa Taluk

With reference to your letter No 51, dated 20th August 1917, forwarding for an expression of my opinion a copy of your report on the revision of assessment of the villages of the Koppa Taluk, I have the honour to state as follows —

2 In the latter part of paragraph 25 of the printed report the maxima of dry rates are proposed to be raised from 12 annas to one rupee in the case of first group of lands and from 8 annas to 12 annas in the case of second group This gives an average rate of 7 annas and 1 pie, and 5 annas and 6 pies respectively as against 5 annas and 2 pies and 3 annas and 9 pies fixed at the original settlement The extent of dry land now under occupation shows an increase of 728 acres over that held at the original settlement But out of the area actually in holding, only a small extent is cultivated with ragi while the rest is either reserved for grazing or for growing firewood and green manure Even in the adjoining Tirthahalli Taluk where dry cultivation commands better advantages, the average rate fixed for the dry lands at the re survey is only 4 annas and 7 pies as against the proposed rate of 5 annas and 10 pies for the Koppa Taluk, which is comparatively very high and the original rate of 4 annas and 1 pie which is almost equal to the rate prevailing in the Tirthahalli Taluk may be left undisturbed having regard to the insignificant increase that may result in the adoption of the proposed rates which are unnecessarily high

3 As regards wet lands the proposed increase of 8 annas per acre in the 1st and 2nd groups and of 4 annas in the 3rd and 4th groups seems quite fair considering the high price realized for paddy in the market and the facilities of communication afforded since the original settlement by the opening of several new roads all through the taluk in addition to the Steam Tramway connecting Narasimharajapura with Tarikere which is a Railway Station It is true that the rates of wages have somewhat risen in recent years entailing some extra cost in the agricultural operations but the prices of food grains which have gone up considerably high since the original settlement will sufficiently compensate the raiyats for the same

4 A uniform rate of Rs 14 per acre of garden land is proposed in lieu of different rates for the different groups divided at the original settlement on the ground that their average condition is not perceptibly lower than that of the adjoining Tirthahalli Taluk gardens where different higher rates have been adopted at the original settlement The average rate as per revision is Rs 10-10-5 against the former rate of Rs 10-11-3 resulting in a slight decrease of 10 pies In almost all the gardens supari is chiefly grown while better gardens produce cardamoms and pepper It is needless to point out that the price of Supari has gone up nearly 30 per cent as compared with the rates at which it was being sold a few years ago. Even the halat duty which the supari grower was paying has been abolished by Government. In the proposed revision of the rate only the lands comprised in the first group are affected resulting in a slight enhancement of the assessment by 3 annas and 8 pies while the lands of the other 3 groups have been benefited. The uniform rate of Rs. 14 now proposed having been fixed after careful consideration of the several phases of the question, I am of opinion that the same may be adopted having regard to the reputation of the market value of the supari grown in the taluk and of large gain obtained by the gardeners in the sale of the valuable garden products.

The Assistant Commissioner in charge of the Kadur Sub-Division who was also consulted in the matter reports that in the map accompanying the report, some villages of the Megunda Hobli, lying to the southeast of the Sringeri Jahgir, are marked in yellow paint showing that they are classed under Group III, that in his inspection of the said tract made recently he finds that it is fairly prosperous on account of facilities created by the opening of several cart-tracks for the export of supari that the general inaccessibility attributed to this tract at the previous settlement does not hold good now and that this portion of the Megunda hobli may be added on to the adjoining second group and assessed accordingly. This suggestion of the Assistant Commissioner seems to me to be based on substantial reasons and may be viewed favourably.

ACCOMPANIMENT III.

Letter No. 150—Enc. 2 and one report dated 19th January 1918, from D. K. Darashah, Esq., B.A., Superintendent of Revenue Survey and Settlements in Mysore, to B. Ramaswamaiya, Esq., B.A., B.L., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Mysore, Revenue Department, Bangalore.

In continuation of my letter No. 38, dated 20th August 1917, submitting copies of the Revised Settlement proposals for the Koppa Taluk, I have now the honor to submit my final remarks on the subject, and beg Government will be good enough to pass orders as early as may conveniently be possible, as the satisfactory introduction of a settlement into a taluk means much care and exertion on the part of the officer and his establishment, and there are as many as four taluks in which these final operations have to be conducted during the current season.

2. The Revenue Commissioner in his letter to you No. 769, dated the 15th instant, copy of which he has forwarded to me, states that in view of the representations made to Government by some landholders of Koppa, he proceeded to the place, discussed my proposals with them, and found after all that they could advance no reasonable grounds against the principles of the proposals, and contented themselves with asking for some concession in view of the depopulation of the Malnad, and of the difficulty in respect of labour. He himself has "no hesitation in saying that, generally speaking, the proposals are very moderate and reasonable, erring if at all on the side of leniency than otherwise, as explained by the Superintendent in the report." He however raises two or three questions for consideration, and these I shall deal with in brief.

While admitting that the average garden rate as proposed is quite satisfactory from the raiyats' point of view, the Revenue Commissioner entertains a doubt as to whether Government Order No. R. 703-14—Lr S. 26-05-18, dated 30th July 1907, would justify any increase in the maximum rate adopted when the remission rates came into force. There is a nicety in the point, with bearings of no little importance on the question of assessment, whichever way the decision is given. I would point out in the first place, that the terms of the Government order impose no restriction, express or implied, on the selection of the maximum, and provides only that the total revised garden assessment of taluk should not exceed the amount settled under the Remission Scheme. Para 10 of the order distinctly says that Government "never intended to interfere with the discretion of the Settlement authorities as to the rates to be fixed on individual gardens." Paras 9 and 10 of enclosure III to same Government order, which contains the minutes of the conference, make the point still more clear. Indeed, considering the numerous degrees of excellence or of inferiority in which these gardens are to be met with, it would not be possible to rate them consistently and correctly to the relative condition of each, unless the maximum itself were to be set reasonably high, and sufficiently remote from the lowest garden rate, so as to allow of the necessary latitude for producing differences in rates, to suit well-marked distinctions in condition. It requires no great effort to see that, if the maximum is also to be limited, the equitableness in the distribution of the burden (and that is the real object of the settlement), cannot be brought about, unless the poorer gardens, and the new gardens only a few years old, are taxed far too highly in comparison with the well-established superior old gardens which have been paying the owner handsomely in the past, and which could well afford to pay a trifle more of assessement in the future; or as an alternative, Government would have to forego a considerable portion of even the existing low revenue In other words if no garden, however good its condition, is to be taxed above Rs 12 (the remission maximum), a correspondingly equitable valuation of the middling and the inferior gardens, would work out to a very heavy loss to Government in the total assessment, on the other hand, if anything approaching the current total assessment is to be collected in the future as has been proposed by me, and at the same time a maximum of Rs 12 is not to be exceeded, a system of assessing most unequal in character, would have to be improvised, under which the rich man who has been in a position to keep his garden in top-top paying condition, will pay only a trifle more than the poor struggler who, far from obtaining a relief to which he is entitled, will have to be burdened with a much higher rate than he can in fairness be called upon to pay Such is the position, and I have very little hesitation in saying, that a Settlement Officer must needs shrink from the immorality involved in the latter alternative while it will be for Government to consider whether in view of their just claims on unearned increments, and of the probable consequences on the administration, and on their subjects both within and without Koppa, it is at all desirable to make any declaration as to the maximum, agreeing, contrary to principles followed in all past settlements, to the former alternative, under which a huge share of the existing collections will have been foregone in favour of raiyats who, in my humble opinion, have already had a surfeit of concessions since the remission order was promulgated, followed up as it was by the Halat-abolition order Any such limitation of the maximum in the case of these taluks is in reality quite unnecessary, because the restriction as to the total amount involves a guarantee, automatically created, against any undue raising of the maximum Let us recollect also, that the remission in the kandayam was granted in the year 1896, because the Government of the day, with all their solicitude for the garden owners' welfare, could not afford to abolish the Halat, which brought in a revenue of more than 3½ lakhs of rupees a year, though that was the tax which was the root-cause of his difficulties Very fortunately for him, Government found themselves in a position, eleven years later, to remove the galling yoke of the Halat also, which, in conjunction with the remissions, produced a relief surpassing the hopes of the most hopeful Nor should we forget, that we are now perpetuating the restriction as to total assessment fully 21 years after the remission rates were fixed, and that the raiyat is consequently left to enjoy for at least 30 years to come, such increase in the price of Supari as may have occurred during those 21 years, along with such as may occur during at least 30 years to come I would point out further, that Koppa was not considered, at the special inquiry, to be a taluk calling for any measures of relief, but was included among the "Remission taluks" merely because of the principle eventually laid down, that the then existing Tirthahalli rates were to be taken as a standard, and that all taluks in which the rates exceeded those of Tirthahalli, were to have them reduced (vide para 9 page 41 Selection No 16 and page 72, para 4).

I think there is no need to labour the point any farther, the circumstances narrated above will suffice to show that the selection of a suitable maximum cannot be dispensed with in the case of the really first class gardens, nor is there any the slightest reason why a garden whose excellence is proved beyond question by the presence of areca trees numbering from 1,200 to 1,900 per acre, should not pay a rate of Rs 14 But apart from all circumstantial necessities in respect of Koppa Taluk, the settlement takes its stand on both the spirit and the letter of the Government Order of 1906, in justifying its interpretation, Colonel Grant who would not evade the responsibility that might be cast on the settlements by an imperfect discussion of the matter, put in the wistful interrogatory (para 9 of Enclosure III to the Government Order of 30th July 1907) as to the regulation of assessment on individual gardens, to which the Dewan made a clear reply (para 10 ibid) reproduced in the Government order in the words.. .. . . .. ."they (Government) never intended to interfere with the discretion of the Settlement authorities as to the rates to be fixed on individual gardens"

I now pass to the dry rates The old rates have been kept unaltered for the 3rd and the 4th groups, and the maxima for the 1st and the 2nd groups were raised by 4 annas each, with the result that the old average of 0-4-1, has now become 0-5-10, the difference of Re 0-1-9 producing a portentous looking percentage of 43, for the simple reason that the old rate itself stands at a very low level Now the Revenue Commissioner thinks that since the resulting revenue will not be considerable, and very little cultivation is done on dry land, we might avoid the charge of undue enhancement, by leaving the dry maximum rates as they are. I regret I am unable to agree in the view he takes No dry rate of 5 annas 10 pies should be characterised anywhere in the State as at all constituting a burden, and if dry land in Koppa is not usually cultivated, can any one deny that it gives the raiyat not only a great deal of comfort in providing ground for stacking, tethering, and grazing near his home and his field, but also the more substantial usufruct derived from the irrepressible growth of jungle in those regions, which provide him with leaf and fresh earth for manure, and fuel for the house. Why any one should be afraid to levy a rate of Re. 0-5-10 per acre on land such as this, is difficult to understand Even the Malnad landholders' memorial has nothing whatever to say in regard to the dry rate, knowing exactly as they do, the valuable benefits they reap from land for which they are asked to pay what is no more than a ridiculously paltry ground-rent; a point which is further illustrated by the fact that there is now thrice as much of dry land in occupancy as there was at the original settlement. So valuable is the usufruct, that I submit it without the slightest hesitation that even if the existing rate were to be fully doubled, not an acre of dry land will ever for that reason be given up to Government. Though the revenue resulting from my proposals be small, I cannot share in the Revenue Commissioner's view, which if accepted, cannot bring any satisfaction to the raiyat worth speaking of, while the policy of our settlements may take on a bias, the effects of which may prove to be quite unsavoury at settlements in the future, and be invidiously differential as regards the past settlements. I regret also, that I cannot agree with the Deputy Commissioner who says that the dry rate should be assimilated with that of Tirthahalli Taluk, which is slightly lower. The higher rate in Koppa is due to the distinctly superior character of the soil, as the most cursory journey through the tract will prove.

The Revenue Commissioner once more urges the view about the Irrigation Cess, which he had expressed on previous occasions, and points out that the levy of the cess as a separate tax, while under the old law it was merged in the assessment, means a levy of the cess twice over. That may be so, and if the exact amount of the cess considered to be merged in the existing assessment can be found out, the real increase effected under my proposals over the old rate, would work out to a proportionately higher percentage. I should point out, however, that the enhancement as made out in the report has been deliberately kept so very low, that the separate levy of the cess will not absorb more than a small fraction of the wide margin of profit which has been shown to accrue from cultivation at the present day, as compared with the time of the original settlement. I would point out further, that while the cess-money has hitherto been expended not always on the object professed for it, Government have recently examined the matter with an earnestness that was due to it, and laid it down that these funds should hereafter be spent exclusively for the purpose they were meant to serve, and have further confined the expenditure as far as may be practicable, to within the territorial limits from which the money is drawn. One cannot help suspecting that the Revenue Commissioner's remarks on this head possibly suggest the abolition of the cess. My humble opinion on that point is that the real salvation of our tanks which are "the very life of the country" can come about only by a return to the old system of compulsory free labour, judiciously exacted from the raiyats, and that unless we can contrive to revive that archaic custom, the levy of the irrigation cess and perhaps of more than what is collected under that name, is inevitable. While the Great War is daily proving that compulsion is, under given circumstances, not to be counted as an evil, but may have to be resorted to very freely by the most civilised of democratic countries in the world, placing restrictions in respect of comforts, food, personal movement and living generally, and even on the most pardonable desire in a man of escaping death, it is a little strange that people in Mysore should talk of the far less objectionable system of compelling the raiyats to save the tanks on which their existence in the country depends, as an unworthy and barbarous anachronism. However, this is only a digression; we have for the purposes of this settlement to take the Law on Irrigation Cess as it stands; it has to be levied as a tax independent of the assessment, under Government Order No. R. 474-85, dated 11th August 1903.

The Deputy Commissioner is inclined to view with favour the recommendation of the Sub-Division Officer, that the villages to the south-east of Sringeri, four in number, which form part of the 3rd group, should be lifted into a higher group, as that part of the taluk has recently been opened out with roads which benefit these villages in a special manner. Had we been dealing with a maidan taluk, I should have considered the suggestion to be a good one, but I am unable to support the doubling of the enhancement which must take place if the grouping is altered as recommended, in the case of purely Malnad villages, and to excite the discontent which such a treatment will produce.

I turn now to the Malnad landholders' memorial, forwarded for my remarks with your letter No. R. 4903—L. S. 17-17-12, dated 29th November 1917. A statement is appended to this letter, in which I have expressed my views on every one of the grievances contained in the memorial. There is scarcely any necessity to repeat facts, figures and arguments to be found in my original report, and in the appendix to this letter. The Revenue Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner have expressed themselves generally satisfied with the treatment I have proposed for the taluk, while the Revenue Commissioner, who can lay claim to no less than six years of service in the Kadur District, of which he was Deputy Commissioner for a half of that period, writes "after a careful consideration of the proposals made by Survey Superintendent, I have no hesitation in saying that generally speaking they are very moderate and reasonable, erring if at all, on the side of leniency than otherwise, as claimed by himself in the report." I shall here draw attention only to one important circumstance,

No R. 10265-7—L. S. 17-17-18, DATED 13TH APRIL 1918

adverted to more than once in my report, but to which neither the Revenue Commissioner nor the Deputy Commissioner make any reference, namely, the rates sanctioned only ten years ago for the Sringeri settlement (and which we know for a fact are working quite satisfactorily there), as compared with those proposed for Koppa The following table sets forth the information

| | Dry | | | | Wet | | | | Garden | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Maximum | | | Average | Maximum | | | Average | Maximum | | | Average |
| | Rs a p | | | Rs a p | Rs a p | | | Rs a p | Rs a p | | | Rs a p |
| Sringeri | 0 12 0 | | | 0 9 4 | 7 0 0 | | | 4 11 3 | 18 0 0 | | | 13 8 0 |
| Koppa | 1 0 0 to 0 8 0 | | | 0 5 10 | 6 0 0 to 4 4 0 | | | 2 14 6 | 14 0 0 | | | 10 10 5 |

On a perusal of these figures, I am confident you will conclude that the Koppa people should be able to congratulate themselves on the extremely favourable terms proposed for them The question then is, what could have made the Memorialists burst out into what the Revenue Commissioner calls a "violent and impassioned diatribe against the Survey Superintendent, containing more of unreasoning vituperation, than argument in support of their contention"? I believe the memorialists cannot be taken as adequately representing the ryot class of the taluk, and that they consist only of the very influential and well-to-do who own extensive lands, and who would, if possible, escape the pretty considerable enhancement that the aggregate of their lands will be liable to Perhaps also, the natural independence of spirit in these landlords, alluded to in my report, is partially responsible It may also be that the special solicitude of the Government for the betterment of the Malnad, has led them to form very exaggerated ideas of the capability of Government to produce the necessary amelioration, without reasonable co-operation or contribution from the beneficiaries Lastly, the fact of the Survey Department being looked upon with a special malevolence by the Malnad people as explained in para 13 of my report, may have had something to do with the agitation Whatever the true cause may be, I feel constrained, with the utmost deference, to inquire whether Government expect their officers to be so self-sacrificing, as to submit without a protest to such aspersions and language as the landholders have considered themselves privileged to employ in the memorial There is no honest officer but will rejoice on observing a healthy virility in His Highness' subjects, but one can scarcely believe that the wanton discourtesy pervading the memorial can at all encourage the good relations the officers of Government are willing and anxious to cultivate with those who come forward as representatives of the people

A copy of the settlement proposals is submitted herewith, and the memorial received with your letter is returned as desired

| Para1 & 2. The Malnad landholders have thoroughly threshed out the various aspects of the proposed settlement, and are surprised to find that whereas the Superintendent's report covers all the characteristic drawbacks of the Malnad, his ultimate conclusion for an enhancement is inconsistent with the sympathy he professes. | Para1&2. Too general a statement; objections of a definite character wherever expressed are examined below. I firmly believe that the proposals for a modest increase of about 2,000 rupees or 2 per cent for the whole taluk, constitute under existing circumstances, a most sympathetic settlement. A satisfactory settlement necessitate a consideration of all aspects in the condition of a taluk, favourable and unfavourable; and it would appear that it is an imperfect apreciation of this effort to make a correct appraisement of opposing factors, that has led to the allegation that the proposals involve inconsistencies. |
| 3(a). The statement about rainfall, condition of gardens, level of prosperity, etc., are mostly contrary to fact and mutually inconsistent. | 3(a). Another statement too vague to admit of acceptance or denial. The more definite statements made farther on have been examined in the notes below. |
| (b) Items of income and prosperity have been exaggerated and those of expenditure on gardens have been underestimated. | (b) Do do do |
| (c) The fact of increase in prices is made too much of; while notice is not taken of the fact that if the raiyat gets more money for his produce, he has also to pay more for what he has to purchase. | (c) My statements regarding prices are based on facts and figures which are not and cannot be refuted (Para 19 of the Report). It is true that expenditure also has increased with the all round increase in prices. If that were not the case, it is easy to see that an enhancement by so much as 100 per cent of the land tax would still be a quite tolerable burden to the raiyat. |
| (d) The statistics given about exports and imports are confused on account of the inclusion of the Narasimharajapura and Sringeri Taluks, and are therefore unreliable. | (d) No calculations have been based on these statistics, and the report itself (Para 11a) warns the reader against taking them too seriously. The figures were taken from the Amildar's note book without mutilation. They were such as he had been able to compile under the instructions issued by the Economic Department of the State. They are the first imperfect attempts at compiling trade statistics, and are interesting, though not sufficiently definite for our purposes; this latter fact has been admitted in the report. |
| (e) Export and import statistics have been manipulated so as to include articles like coffee that should not find a place among exports, and excluding articles like salt and ghee that should have been counted under imports. | (e) Vide note above. The statement re commerce was taken from the Amildar's notes; no modifications were effected by the Survey Department. The export of coffee or the import of salt and ghee has had no bearing on the ordinary land assessments, and there can be no harm in placing before Government a statement prepared according to rules prescribed to the Amildar, and which, whatever its faults may be, at least serves to give a rough of idea of what the trade in the tract is like. |
| 4. We have tabulated all these drawbacks in the report in greater detail in Appendices A. & B. | 4. Will be examined there. |
| 5. The rates proposed are intangible in character, as nobody knows what exactly he will have to pay for the lands he owns. | 5. That is about the last phase in a settlement, when each man is told what his dues will be. The Akarbands and other settlement papers, the preparation of which involves a great amount of clerical labour, are prepared after the maximum and average rates are sanctioned by Government. If the rates proposed are modified by Government, a great waste of labour in the |

| | Department would occur, as all the Akarbands and other settlement accounts, if previously prepared, would have to be altered. |
| 6. The report is subtle and evasive as it does not mention actual and minimum rates. | 6. Vide explanation above in re actual rates on individual fields. Those rates are worked out only after Government sanction the proposals, which set forth the total increases on each class of land in each village of a taluk. That always has been the procedure and nobody till now has thought it worthwhile to enjoin the great waste of technical labour that would accrue at every settlement if the rates on individual fields were to be worked out beforehand. Nor do I see that there would be any tangible benefit in preparing these details beforehand. Similarly as to minimum rates. Supposing all the individual rates were worked out, and minimum rates for dry land were found to be 2 annas per acre, of wet land Rs. 1-4-0, and of garden land Rs. 3-4-0 (as I find them to be, on working out the rates of 2 or 3 villages taken at random), of what use can such information be, and how could it possibly be made a subject of criticism? A very little reflection will show that the real essentials in a matter like this are the average and the maximum rates, and the resulting totals on each kind of cultivation: and these are all detailed in the report. |
| 7. Information about fallow lands which form from 10 to 30 per cent of the raiyat's holdings has been suppressed in the report. | 7. It did not occur to me that I should ask for statistics on this point, nor am I sure that the Taluk Office could have furnished the figures, if asked for. Even the memorialists who are as well informed as any landholders could be, set the percentage at such a wide range as between 10 and 30, and are unable to give a definite or even an approximate figure. However, the fact of a portion of occupied land generally remaining fallow, had not escaped my notice, and the idea is found in the following sentence in Section 20 of my Report "so fearful are the large landowners of losing their "field-workers, that they even go the length of risking "large sums of money in buying up available waste land, "in order to preclude tillers from taking it up, and be-"coming independent." In the case of dry land I "have said in Section 7, "Dry lands are held more for convenience than cultivation," and again in Section 21. "Though cultivation be not the object, the acquisition (of dry land) satisfies the craving for landlordship, affords grazing for the cattle..... .....occasionally also the land contains trees that provide the house with fuel, and the farm with manure." |
| 8. The gardens are assessed in contravention of the spirit of Government Order No. R. 703-14—L. S. 26-05-18, dated 30th July 1907 which did not contemplate a redistribution or readjustment of the assessment in accordance with actual changes in the relative condition of individual gardens. The object of the Government Order has been defeated, as evidenced by the fact that the | 8. The spirit of the order of Government has not been infringed, vide Section 10 of that order which runs thus,— ..... "Government would invite the attention of the Superintendent to the fact that what they desired was, that the total garden assessment under the revision settlement should not exceed what it was after the remissions of 1896, and that they never intended to interfere with the discretion "of the settlement authorities as to the rates to be fixed on individual gardens." Vide also Sections 9 and 10 of Enclosure III to the same order. Nothing could be clearer than this. |

| average on occupied gardens is Rs. 10-10-5, while the low maximum average of Rs. 7-4-6 is proposed for assessed waste gardens belonging to Government. | Gardens not in occupancy are necessarily in a neglected condition, and the assessment is naturally tempered to the condition. The better class of gardens are all in the holding of the raiyat; the assessment in their case is certainly higher. What is the difficulty in understanding this little fact, or the necessity for finding tortuous explanations for such a simple phenomenon? I think I may challenge any one to quote the case of a taluk in which the average on unoccupied land is not lower than that for occupied land. At the same time I may point out many hundred acres of occupied garden in Koppa Taluk which I have rated well below Rs. 7-4-6, on account of indifferent condition. |
| 9. The Superintendent not content with proposing an enhancement where a reduction by at least 25 per cent was wanted, tacitly condemns the garden remissions granted in 1896 by Sir K. Sheshadri Iyer. | 9. The grounds for the small enhancement of two per cent proposed, are all stated in the report, to which a reference is solicited.This is what I have stated in the 6th para of Section 25 of the report as regards the degree of justification for the garden remissions granted in Koppa Taluk,—— "..... "...I have examined a great many gardens in different "quarters of the taluk, and in my humble opinion "their average condition is not perceptibly lower than "that of the Tirthahalli Taluk gardens, where no re- "missions were considered necessary, though maxima "of Rs. 20 and 16 had been adopted at the original "settlement. The remissions in the case of the gar- "dens of Sagar and Nagar Taluks, both of which I "have examined in a sufficiently minute degree, appear "to me to have been based on much firmer ground;" and I beg to state that I am still of this opinion. Mr. V. P. Madhava Rao's special inquiry did not extend to Koppa Taluk, because there appeared to be no good grounds for offering any relief in that taluk. Accordingly we find it stated in Councillor Mr. P. Chentsal Rao's note (P. 41 Selections No. 16) that "Mr. Mad- "hava Rao's enquiries were confined to the taluks of "Sagar, Sorab and Nagar——. There is no com- "plaint in regard to the rates in Tirthahalli or to those "in other taluks of the Province." The subsequent inclusion of the Koppa Taluk in the Remission Scheme was due to the decision to take the incidence of the Tirthahalli rates as the standard to which the incidence in all the other Malnad taluks was to be assimilated. |
| 10. The Superintendent adds insult to injury in representing Malnad people as lawless ruffians. His unfounded vilification appears to be a punishment to us for our very tameness of spirit. | 10. Perhaps this refers to Section 13, sub-para 4 of my report where in discussing the decline in population in the Malnad, I ventured to express a general remark on a point which does not appear to me to have been given due allowance in the popular estimation. No vilification has been expressed, certainly none was intended. Before the Survey Department undertook its task, land was being enjoyed surreptitiously everywhere, but nowhere on such a enormous scale as in the Malnad, which offered unique opportunities for such appropriations, by reason of its seclusiveness. My reference to the independence of spirit in the people manifesting itself at times in contumacious gatherings, is equally well-founded. I should be |

| | pardoned for saying that the extraordinary temper to which the meeting of the landholders have given utterance in considering what I honestly believe are very modest and considerate proposals, appears to be a later manifestation of that spirit which is alluded to by Mr Stokes and Major Montgommery in their memoranda on the malnad country, from which I make the following short quotations — |
| | Mr Stokes speaking of the Koppa Taluk says, "within "their villages they (the Heggadays) were accustomed "to exercise almost unlimited power, not excepting "that of life and death, their lands were cultivated "chiefly by slaves, or feudal vassals who rendered im-"plicit obedience to their Haggadav The Heggadays "have clung to their ancient privileges with great "tenacity, and until lately succeeded in living toler-"ably independent of the Amildars, who seldom "ventured south of Sringeri' |
| | Major Montgommery speaking of a neighbouring Malnad tract says—"They (the Patels) are said, however, at "times to have exercised a despotic sway extending "over the lives of those under them During a part "of the reign of the Raja even, and the more vigorous "administration of Poorneah, it was not, I am told, 'uncommon for them to assemble their clansmen and "servants and openly resist the public authorities when "they appeared before their villages to ask for the "Sirkar dues Their resistence on these occasions "was frequently successful, and led to a compromise "of the demand It cannot however "be doubted that the generality of the raiyats would "blindly obey their orders in almost all cases, whether "opposed to, or in accordance with, the wishes of "Government' (Wilk's Report on the Government "of Mysore) |
| 11 It is surprising to find that the Superintendent attempts to deny the notorious fact of the prevalence of disease, excessive mortality, and other evils of the Malnad That denial is inconsistent with his admission in other parts of his report about coffee plantations having substantially increased the cooly population | 11 I have nowhere denied that the malnad is at present afflicted with disease and death What I said was that "there is nothing whatever to suggest the belief "that during its prosperous period, the Malnad was "any the less afflicted than it is now" Nor can I see what inconsistency there can be between such a statement, and the statement about coffee plantations contributing substantially to the increase of the labouring population |
| The Superintendentent wrongly compassionates our cattle as incapable of enduring the climate of the Malnad, the fact being that they could withstand even greater rigours of climate such as prevailed in the Malnad in bygone times | I have said in Section 15 of my report that cattle of the better kind (like the Amrut Mahal species) do not thrive in the Malnad, but that the small sized indigenous breed which forms the agriculturist's stock is better suited 'to withstand the excessive rainfall, the high winds and the insanitary process adopted for preparing leaf manure in cattle sheds" What is there wrong with this statement? |
| 12. The Superintendent, apprehends that his settlement proposals may be deemed to be too lenient and moderate We rather want a substantial reduction in assessment | 12 This matter is now for Government to decide |

| 13. Government no doubt have been devising many good schemes for uplifting the fallen malnad, but it will all be useless unless sympathetic and specially dedicated officials are appointed to carry out ameliorative schemes. | 13. I quite agree. |
| 14. The conditions justifying an increase of taxation do not exist in Koppa Taluk. On the other hand, the case is strong for a reduction in the existing scale of assessments. | 14. Vide remarks against No. 12 above. |
| 15. We beg Government will, under the circumstances, reject the Superintendent's proposals, and order a reduction of 25 per cent, else we solemnly warn Government that the Malnad will before long be nowhere. | 15. Ditto. |
| 16. The Superintendent is inconsistent in the choice of the Bagayet maximum; for he cannot prove that Koppa is in any way superior to the Shikarpur and other Malnad taluks. The Tarikere garden maximum was fixed at Rs. 14 on the ground that much of the old unoccupied area there had come into occupancy at resurvey, whereas the case is quite different with the Koppa gardens. | 16. What inconsistency could there have been in cutting down the old Koppa maximum of Rs. 18 to Rs. 14 at revision? Koppa is undoubtedly superior to Shikarpur, and to several other Malnad tracts, in the matter of its areca gardens. Koppa should in strict impartiality, have had a higher maximum imposed than what was decided for Tarikere, and all other Maidan taluks, which cannot boast of anything like the fortuitous advantage of the Malnad climate so conducive to supari cultivation. Moreover no maidan tract can grow nut of that high quality which the soil and seasons of the Malnad alone can produce. |

This appendix being a collection of the Superintendent's "Sympathetic admissions" in favour of the Koppa Taluk, I have no remarks to make.

APPENDIX "B"—TO MEMORIAL.

| Superintendent's allegations | Allegations answered by memorialist | Survey Superintendent's remarks |
|---|---|---|
| (1) RAIN-FALL. (Page 2, para 7—a) "abundant all over ... ..... In July torrential and unceasing." | The rains of late are very scanty and ill-timed. Nowadays July has practically ceased to be a rainy month. | (1) It is more than likely that the ancestors of the memorialists used to make exactly similar complaints in their own time. Eminent authorities have proved that the passing away of the golden age of good rains which people keep bewailing, is more a matter of imagination than of fact. As for July, let the Meteorological Department bear witness. The average rainfall for the past 15 years at Hariharpur was 62·23 inches in that month; while August makes a bad second though it gets no less than 29·09 inches. |
| (2) DRY LAND. (Page 2, para 7—a) "Thrice as much as ..... at the original settlement." | The Superintendent's own figures (Page 14 para 26), 913 acres formerly, and 1,118 acres by Re-survey. | (2) At para 26 I spoke only of occupied dry land. The total dry land referred to in para 7 (a) are particularised below, proving that the statement I made in the report was correct. Taking even the occupied portion by itself, it is found to have trebled by the time re-survey took place.Occupied ... According to Original Settlement Report. 306 — By revision 913Assessed waste ... 186 — 513Total acres ... 492 — 1,426The 913 acres of dry land shown in the village accounts as occupied in the year of re-survey, was found to be really 1,118 acres in extent, as set forth in the table in para 26. |
| (3) DRY CROPS. (page 2, para 7-a) "Some fodder crops and ragi." | Nowhere in the Koppa Taluk is ragi or any fodder crop grown on dry land. | (3) Vide the latest Season & Crop Report (P. P. 78&80) where 175 acres and 1,599 acres are shown under ragi and fodder crops, respectively, for Koppa Taluk as at present constituted. Separate figures for the old taluk of Koppa are not to be had, so due allowance has to be made for the Narasimharajapura Sub-Taluk which the Crop report includes under the name of Koppa. In any case I have made it plain that there is very little of dry cultivation in the taluk, the sentence of para 2 runs ..... "There is on the whole very little of dry cultivation in the taluk." |
| (4) WET CROPS. (Page 2, para 7-b) "Two crops of paddy ..... in some villages ..... with good results in the Kigga & Megunda Hoblis," | The practice of two crops is rare and the net results of taking two crops is not encouraging. | (4) What the Report says is, "two crops of paddy are raised in some villages in the Kigga and Megunda maganis, with good results," implying that the practice is not common. The fact that a double crop taken in some villages has not been allowed to influence the wet rates, may be verified from the assessment imposed in those villages, as detailed in the classwar statement appended to my report. |

| (5) GARDEN BYE-PRODUCTS. (Page 2, para 7-c) "Plantain, betel-leaf, pepper and cardamom." | These items are of no commercial value. Megunda and Baggunji which produce most pepper and cardamom produce least areca per acre. | (5) I have actually stated in the next following para in the report that the plantain is of no particular commercial value. It is difficult to believe that pepper and cardamom are of no commercial value as alleged. It may be that pepper and cardamom cultivation affect the outturn of areca, and yet on the whole the Megunda and Baggunji gardens rank very high in point of excellence—else the memorialists would certainly have challenged the statement, I have made to that effect in para 7-e. |
| (6) GARDEN CONDITION. (Page 2, para 7-c) Gardens in excellent condition everywhere. | Compare page 16, para 27(f) "The fact is beyond question that on the whole garden cultivation has not been able to progress during the past few decades." | (6) The condition of the existing gardens is certainly good. I have personally satisfied myself on that point. At the same time there is no reason why a number of the inferior of the old gardens should not die out, or be abandoned for one or other of many reasons. The old gardens now surviving, are mostly in flourishing condition, though fresh gardens have not been undertaken quite as fast as the frailer of the old gardens have disappeared. In other words 137 out of 5,130 acres of the old gardens have gone out of the list of gardens by re-survey. The condition of the surviving gardens is decidedly good, though no progress has been made in extending them. |
| (7) SUPARI. "Very superior quality..... competes well with Tirthahalli where the finest and best .....in the whole world." | There is a difference of from 1 rupee to 1½ rupees per maund in favour of Tirthahalli supari. | (7) Vide para 3 of Government Proceedings 1888-90—R. F. 44-92, dated 19th August 1896 (Selections No. 16, P. 71) where, after a most sympathetic inquiry into the supari question, Government found that the average price of supari for the ten preceding years was uniformly Rs. 9-14-0 per maund, both for the Koppa and the Tirthahalli Taluks; nor is there any reason to suppose that any material change has occurred in the prices relatively since that inquiry was conducted. I am in a position to lay my hands on a statement of the annual prices of supari up to the year 1911-12, furnished some years back by the Amildar of Tirthahalli for the purposes of the Revised Settlement of that taluk. The Koppa Amildar's statement gives the prices for his taluk for only 6 of those years, and the two may well be compared— |

| Year | Supari, 1st sort per maund | | Supari, 2nd sort per maund | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Tirthahalli | Koppa | Tirthahalli | Koppa |
| | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. |

| Average ... | 8 6 8 | 8 5 4 | 4 9 4 | 4 5 4 |

It is clear the memorialists have greatly exaggerated their case. But above all, so safe a margin of profits has been allowed to Koppa Taluk in devising its rates, that no apprehension need be felt as to the future of the gardens there; the average revised rate of Tirthahalli being Rs. 12-4-3, the rate proposed for Koppa is only Rs. 10-10-5 per acre.

| (8) MEGUNDA HOBLI. Page 3, para 7-e) "The most prosperous.....almost every other man in the hobli..... a Sowcar." | The statement is exaggerated and ill-founded. There are only 3 or 4 Sowcars in the Megunda Hobli. | (8) I have made it clear in the para that the statement must be taken as an exaggerated way the people have of indicating that the Megunda hobli is comparatively the most prosperous in the taluk, which latter fact is not disputed by the memorialists. |
| (9) YIELD. Page 3, para 7-e) "40 maunds per acre..... 20 to 30, or 25 maunds..... .....average." | The real average is between 15 to 20 maunds per acre, and not as stated. | (9) Compare enclosure No. 11 to the Government Proceedings alluded to above, where the late Mr. T. R. A. Thumboo Chetty, Councillor, says in his minute dated 9th August 1896.—"Subsequent to the "date of that minute, and during my tour into the "Malnad in December 1893, I had an opportunity of "visiting some of the supari gardens, and collecting "some information about the cultivation of arecanut. "At Koppa, Halgar Subba Rao and other local Sowcars "calculated the gross produce per acre to be 25 "maunds, which at Rs. 6 per maund gave Rs. 150. "Nearly $\frac{2}{3}$ths of this sum, they said, went to pay the "cost of maintenance and assessment, etc., leaving "them a margin of Rs. 90 for their labour." The information is of special value coming as it does from the Koppa Taluk representatives themselves, at a time when they must have recognised that the object of the investigation was as to whether or not Koppa Taluk stood in need of a remission. Mr. Halagar Subba Rao mentioned in the minute, is, I hear, an uncle of Mr. Halgar Hutchu Rao who is one of the signatories to the present memorial. |
| (10) GARDEN EXPENDITURE. Page 3, para 7-e) "Rs. 30 to 40 for digging, manuring, fencing, etc. | The real figure is more than Rs. 150. | (10) Garden cultivation on any, but a most limited scale, would be an impossibility if Rs. 150 were the average annual expenditure required for upkeep. Perhaps the memorialists mean that Rs. 150 is spent once in three years, as it is customary in the Malnad to overhaul the gardens by instalments annually, so as to deal with the whole of it within the space of three years; in which case, the expenditure per acre would work out to Rs. 50 —not far from the figure I have mentioned in my report. Mr. Thumboo Chetty's minute quoted above also represents Mr. Halgar Subba Rao and other Sowcars as affirming that Rs. 60 an acre would cover expenses plus assessment, which comes to about the same thing. |
| (11) INTEREST. Page 3, para 7-f) "25 per cent per annum..... heavy rate. Had it not been for the large profits .....from garden cultivation in the Malnad it would not have been possible for the raiyats to keep up as they hitherto have done." | The argument is illogical and opposed to all known principles of Economic Science, as the Superintendent infers that the raiyats' profits must be large because of their ability to pay heavily for interest. The Malnad raiyats are deep in debt. | (11) No such inference was made by me. The profits from gardening, after an allowance is made for its drawbacks, really are large, judging from the opinion of a great many raiyats whom I consulted, from the facts relating to gross produce and expenditure elicited at my own inquiry, as well as at previous enquiries, and from details of leases on which reliable information is forthcoming. But for this fact of large profits, the heavy rates of interest could not have been paid. |

| (12) KOLEKOGA. (Page 3, para 7-g) "If a few short intervals of sunshine were available during the earlier stages of the monsoon, so as to allow the spray to dry, very good general results would ensue." | It is just these few short intervals of sunshine that are not forthcoming in time. | 12. This may be the case, I have not denied it. |
| (13) COFFEE CULTIVATION. (Page 4, para 7-h) "important industry .....10,643 acres. | Coffee is not cultivated by any indigenous raiyat and ought to be included in calculation. | 13. The Survey Department has nothing to do with the coffee settlement; but in presenting a general view of the condition of the taluk, it would be improper to omit to say that a large cooly population finds work on the coffee estates. The presence of thousands of labourers, or at least so many of them as would not have been there but for the coffee industry, is bound to have some effect (good or bad, direct or indirect) on the condition of the general population, inclusive of the agriculturists. The report would have been incomplete had the reference been omitted. |
| (14) TANKS. (Page 4, para 8-b) "No tanks built by private enterprise. | All tanks were constructed, rocks cut, jungles cleared, gardens planted, roads laid out, and houses built, by our ancestors. Government never help them. | 14. Such is the case all the world over. No Government can do anything for the good of its people except through the money or the exertion of the people themselves. The expression "Private enterprise tanks" in Revenue parlance, implies such tanks as come within the perview of the well known Government Proclamation under which special concessions were offered with a view to encourage the construction of new tanks and to prevent the old ones from deteriorating. |
| (15) STEAM AND TRAMWAYS. (Page 4, para 9) | The proposed tramway to Koppa may only ruin the rainfall, as a result of the deforestation it will cause. Benefits from Railways yet to be constructed should not be taken into account before they are established. | 15. These factors have not entered into calculation for the settlement, the restraint exercised in framing the proposals proves this. No harm is done, however, in alluding to projects for the future progress of the tract, that are known to be engaging the attention of Government. |
| (16) NEW ROADS. (Page 4, para 9) | The Yedadalu-Sringeri road laid out by Mr. Kigga Channakesva Rao for his own purposes has been wrongly taken credit for. | 16. I regret the error, which was inadvertent. I would point out, however, that the construction of the road has had no influence on the rates, as this is the very road of which I have said in para 25 of my report — "The third group on Kigga side has also had a road "pierced through it, but I have found it no better than "an uncomfortable cart-track,' and even if it were im- "proved, that circumstance alone could not, in the face "of the general physiographical difficulties of the region "justify any disturtance of its position among other "groups." |
| (17) EXPORTS AND IMPORTS. | Coffee should be excluded from the export list. Prices have been considerably exaggerated, and the figures for | 17. Vide note against para 3 (e) given on the first page. No pretence was ever made about the statement being very accurate. It was however the best compilation we could have had on the subject of trade in Koppa, and as such, was interesting and worth mentioning. It is not clear how the memorialists came to be in a |

| (18) HOUSES (Page 8, para 14-b) 'Increased tiled houses and the disappearance of mud houses . . better style of living" | The better style of houses we have built is due to the adoption by us of luxurious and fashionable modes of life beyond our means, thus increasing our economic depression and indebtedness Besides, they are really not as durable as the old thatched houses, and take a lot of money for repairs. | 18. Here, after all, is a partial confession of one of the real causes of the depression in the country. One of these, was stated in my report to be the growth of luxury, indolence and vice, which I suspect is one of the observations that appear to have given the memorialists umbrage Whether the preference for tiled houses in the malnad is a change for the better or not, I cannot say, but the principle underlying the memorialist's criticism is quite sound—namely, that moral deterioration has much to do with the existing condition of the people—a great deal more indeed, than a matter of merely raising or reducing the land tax by a few annas per acre. |
| 19) LAND TENURE (Page 8, para 18-b) | The mulgeni system adopted on account of paucity of labourers, involves loss and litigation, and is of no advantage | 19 In paras 17 and 18 I have placed both pros and cons on the subject of leasing. I had made much inquiry in different quarters of the taluk both from interested and disinterested persons, before stating my conclusions in the report, which I consider to be reliable. A khatedar would naturally like to have all the profits from his garden for himself, which cannot be the case when he appoints another to undertake the troubles of maintenance. But even his share as a lessor is as a rule, a pretty considerable one, as is explained in the report. |
| 20) LAND VALUE | According to the Superintendent's figures, land in Koppa is not so valuable as it is elsewhere, judging from the smallness of the ratio that mortgage and sale amounts bear to the assessment | 20 I compare below the Koppa ratios with those for all the purely Malnad taluks hitherto settled; Koppa shows off to advantage among its compeers. It would be unfair to bring maidan taluks into the comparison, for the simple reason that the greater density of population in those regions has an inevitable influence on the market value of lands there. |

| (21) MORTGAGES. | The explanation given for the excess of mortgages over sales is peculiar. We ought rather to say that the fact proves the abject poverty of our raiyats, whom the slightest distress drives to the money-lender.Reference is invited to the Kolar Deputy Commissioner's remarks on a similar situation in connection with the Gudibanda Taluk settlement. | 21. The argument is not clear. The question is why, contrary to expectation does mortgage fetch more money than sale? Granting that the raiyat resorts very frequently to the Sowcar, how is it the Sowcar advances him more on mortgage, than he (the raiyat) gets when the land is sold outright? The memorial does not answer this, nor have I yet heard of any tenable explanation of this phenomenon, other than the one given in the report, namely, that while lands of indifferent quality are more or less readily parted with, really valuable lands are very seldom sold away, on the other hand, it is difficult to get a loan on land which is not well above the amount of the loan in value. It comes about therefore, that the sale amounts bear a smaller ratio to the assessment than the loans do, particularly when the mortgagee may have to supplement his original advance by a further sum required for the proper upkeep of his security.The Kolar Deputy Commissioner's statement in regard to mortgage and sale in Gudibanda Taluk has been examined in paras 4, 5 and 6 of letter No. 61, dated 23rd September 1916 submitted by me. |
| (22) PRICES. (Page 9, para 19-b) "Gone up enormously." | This subject has been dealt with elsewhere. | 22. Has been dealt with elsewhere. |
| (23) RECLASSIFICATION. (Page 10, para 23) | The elaborate statement cannot be criticised for want of details. | 23. What further details are wanted is not stated. All kinds of detail ever furnished in any settlement Report Original or Revised, have been given in the case of Koppa. The results of classification are all reflected in the assessment given for each class of land in each village in the Classwar statement attached to the Report. |
| (24) FLUCTUATIONS OF INCOME. (Page 11, para 24-b) | The recent increase of Rs. 2,000 in the land revenue of Koppa Taluk is accounted for by fluctuations in the availability of labour, as though the actual income and the assessment bear an invariable ratio to each other. | 24. This is another mis-statement. Reference is invited to the whole of para 24 (b), at the close of which I have said, "It is difficult to find a very exact explana-"tion for these curious fluctuations outside of the general "platitudes that cultivation depends on labour, and that "the labour available for these lands is closely related to "the disappearance of the old system of serfdom, to the "zeal with which coffee estates are worked, and to the "existence of industries on the sea coast or elsewhere, "which present themselves to the ghat coolies as prefer-"able alternatives." I cannot discover the fallacy that the memorialists try to make out in this statement. |
| (25) GARDEN REMISSION. (Page 13, para 25-f) | A condemnation is implied herein of Sir Sheshadri Iyer's Special Remission Scheme of special remission which has been dealt with by us elsewhere. | 25. The point has been dealt with elsewhere. |

My letter No. 150, dated the 19th January 1918, anent the revision settlement of the Koppa Taluk, was addressed to you within three days of the receipt of the Revenue Commissioner's opinion on my proposals, as it was desirable to expedite it in order to obtain very early orders from Government. Although I have set forth therein my remarks on all the other important points, I could not for want of time embody in it the results of an analysis of the higher rates imposed by me upon garden lands, which I have now the honor to place before Government as a supplement.

2. On a careful examination of the Bagayat Takhtas, I find that in the whole of the taluk there are only 45 gardens, measuring 102 acres, 36 guntas, assessed at the rate of Rs. 14 per acre, and 203 gardens, measuring 394 acres, and 26 guntas, assessed at Rs. 13 per acre. The number of gardens assessed at more than Rs. 12 per acre is thus 248, scattered over 36 villages, and measure in all no more than 497 acres and 22 guntas, which is just one-tenth of the area of gardens in occupation.

3. I was not quite correct in saying that the maximum garden rate adopted at the special remission was Rs. 12. For, I find that the following gardens in the Hosur village of the Megunda hobli were assessed at the rate of Rs. 13, which must accordingly be taken as the maximum adopted for the taluk, although appearing only in one village.

| Village | Survey No. | Re-survey No. | Extent | Rate at Remission | Rate imposed for Revised Settlement |

How these gardens have been treated by me at revision, is also shown in the last column of the statement; I may also be permitted to point out incidentally, that the substantial alterations made in the rates to suit existing conditions gives an indication of the care which has to be exercised in dealing with the gardens.

Order No. C. 10-21—L. S. 48-17-4, dated Camp Mysore, 24th April 1918.

These proposals relate to the revision of assessment of 200 Government villages of the present Arsikere Taluk.

2. The tract possesses quite a healthy climate and has an average rainfall ranging from about 21 to 26 inches. The soil is reported to be fertile enough to yield good results with plentiful rainfall. Ragi is the chief dry crop. Next in importance come oil seeds, horse-gram, chenna, coriander, and jola; chillies, cotton and tobacco are also grown to some extent. Much attention, however, is not paid to wet cultivation which takes up only about 2·58 per cent of the cultivated area. This is attributed by the Superintendent to the partiality evinced by the raiyats in favour of the more remunerative and less laborious cultivation of cocoanut, which is the principal garden product. It is said that even wet lands are sometimes devoted to the raising of cocoanuts. The garden area represents 12·43 per cent of the total cultivated area and shows an appreciable increase over the past three decades.

3. The taluk suffered considerably during the great famine of 1876-78, but it has since exhibited strong recuperative powers. The population has gone on steadily increasing from decade to decade, the figure according to the latest census of 1911 being 50,834, which exceeds the pre-famine figures of 1871 by 16 per cent.

4. The one outstanding factor of considerable importance in estimating the present revision proposals at their true value is the advent of the railway into the taluk since the original settlement. There have also been substantial improvements in the matter of communications in other directions as described in detail in paragraph 12 of the report, the most important of which is the recent railway connection of Arsikere with Hassan and Mysore.

5. Increased communications have given a great impetus to trade. Although the trade statistics furnished in paragraph 15 of the report are mere approximations, the excess in the value of exports over imports may be taken as an indication of the economic prosperity of the tract under consideration. Other indications of prosperity are to be found in the improvement of the agricultural resources of the people; houses, cattle, carts and ploughs all having increased by 38,22,170 and 11 per cent respectively. The value of land has also considerably increased since the original settlement. Not only has the occupied area increased from 45,120 acres in 1879-80 to 74,478 acres in 1914, but it is reported that lands especially in the vicinity of railways and high roads fetch very good prices. The actual revenue collections also exhibit a corresponding increase from Rs. 64,323 to Rs. 1,00,547 during the same period.

No. C. 10-21—L. S. 48-17-4, DATED 24TH APRIL 1918.

6. The statistics quoted by the Superintendent at para 23 of the report show how the prices of the principal articles of the agricultural produce in the taluk have increased from 50 to 243 per cent over the original prices. The increase in the price of cocoanuts (175 per cent), the principal produce of the taluk is particularly significant.

7. In consideration of the substantial economic progress made by the taluk during the period of the current settlement, the Superintendent now proposes to alter the existing rates, retaining, however, the old grouping, as shown below :—

| Land and group | | Maximum rate | | Average rate | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|

8. The above proposals result in an increase of Re 0-2-7 per acre in the average rate of assessment of culturable land and are expected to yield in the aggregate an additional revenue of Rs. 12,274 or 12·64 per cent over the present collection.

9. The Revenue Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner agree to the dry and garden rates proposed by the Superintendent. They, however, take exception to the revised rates adopted for wet land, on the ground that the wet cultivation in the taluk is unsatisfactory owing to the difficulty of obtaining labour and manure as also to the uncertain nature of water-supply, and therefore recommend the old rates for adoption during the resettlement. The Survey Superintendent has however given cogent and convincing reasons in his letter of 21st February 1918 (vide para 3 of the preamble) embodying his final remarks in support of his proposal. The shortage in the area under wet cultivation would ordinarily be a sound reason for leaving the wet rates alone, but the particulars furnished by the Survey Superintendent show that the extent has for the most part been grouped as tank fed gardens. The fact is that there has been a steady increase of wet area since the eighties, i.e from 1,167 acres to 2,941 acres. Government are satisfied that the reclassification of wet lands according to existing conditions of water-supply, will remove any likely hardship apprehended by the Revenue Commissioner in individual cases and that the small increase in the maximum eight annas in each group is justified by the resettlement conditions of the taluk under prices and communications. The small increase of five annas in the average wet rate is counterbalanced by the substantial reduction of nine annas two pies in the average garden rate.

10. The rates proposed by the Survey Superintendent compare on the whole very favourably with the rates (original and revised) prevailing in the neighbouring taluks similarly circumstanced. Government are accordingly pleased to sanction the proposals as made in the resettlement report in their entirety. The revised rates should be announced as early as possible and brought into effect from the official year 1918-19, with the usual guarantee of thirty years.

No. C. 10-21—L. S. 48-17-4, dated 24th April 1918.

Accompaniment I.

Letter No. 144, dated 12th January 1918, from D. K. Darashah, Esq., B.A., Superintendent of Revenue Survey and Settlements in Mysore, to B. Ramaswamaiya, Esq., B.A., B.L., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Mysore, Revenue Department, Bangalore.

I have the honor to submit in advance for the consideration of Government 6 copies of my Report together with 6 copies of illustrative map, containing proposals for the revision of assessment of the 200 Government villages of the late Harnahalli (Arsikere) taluk of the Hassan District.

I have, as usual, sent copies of the same to the Revenue Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner for a very early expression of their opinion and I shall on receipt of their replies submit the same to Government with such remarks as may be necessitated.

(Enclosure.)

I have the honor to submit proposals for revising the rates of assessment in the late Harnahalli Taluk, which now forms the major portion of the Arsikere Taluk, and into which original settlement was introduced under the sanction conveyed by the Chief Commissioner in his Proceedings No. 760—Rev. 6, dated the 29th April 1879.

2. Boundaries.—In describing boundaries now almost defunct, it is not possible to avoid referring to the old order of territorial constitution, but no confusion need arise by such reference, as the illustrative map appended to this report gives a clear idea of the position of the tract; and the following quotation is sufficiently descriptive of it,—"the taluk is situated on the road about half way between Bangalore and Shimoga, and is bounded on the north by Budihal, on the east by Honnavalli, on the south by Channarayapatna and Hassan, and on the west by the taluks of Belur and Banavar."

3. As the name of the old taluk implies, the headquarters thereof was Harnahalli, till in the year 1882 it was transferred to Arsikere; it is found noted in the original settlement papers that the question of effecting such a transfer was under consideration at the time.

4. Constitution.—There were 205 Government villages and 6 kavals in the taluk at the original settlement; subsequently 15 villages lost their independent existence by amalgamation with others, and four villages were newly formed. The total number now in the taluk is thus (211 minus 15 plus 4 or) 200, and to these, the following proposals relate.

5. Physical features.—The taluk lacks compactness of shape, resembling as it does the figure 8 or an hour-glass of bygone times, and measuring roughly 30 miles north to south, but from 3 to 20 miles east to west. In its superficial features, the taluk has very little to present to the eye searching for the charms of nature; it is a plain country with undulations more or less marked; there are neither magnificent forests nor any streams of size. A sojourn in the tract soon becomes tiresome, as a uniform picture comes to view on almost every side, the monotony broken only in the south-west by a large number of rocky hills of varying heights, and in the north by the Hirikalgudda hills, which rise to a respectable height, with the famous temple of Venkataramanaswamy known as Malekal Tirupathi placed on the top. Even these hills are not covered with anything better than scrub jungle in which wild beasts try to find shelter. The lie of the land as a whole is from south to north, the drainage consequently is towards the river Vedavati in the Chitaldrug District.

6. Forests.—The protection of the Hirikalgudda jungle, which was under the consideration of the Forest Department at the time of the original settlement, has now become an accomplished fact. It is situated right in the middle of the taluk and extends over some 80 square miles. Desanigudda is another State Forest in the south-west with an area of 1·60 square miles. Much has been done towards the conservancy of forests since the original settlement, and we now find large areas of land reserved either as State Forest, as Plantations or Reserves, or as District Forests. The chief products are Seegekayi, Alalekayi, Tangadi and Sandal; a pretty large supply of Kiribidaru or small bamboo is drawn from Hirikalgudda. In low lying waste lands, there is a luxuriant growth of the wild date which, indicates their fitness for the cultivation of the cocoanut palm. Fortunately for the raiyats and cultivation, there is no overgrowth of lantana anywhere, but the prickly pear has become a pest in several villages of the Kanakatte Hobli, and in Harnahalli of the Kasba Hobli. It is to be regretted that this pest has been allowed to spread so far in some places, that the slopes of tank bunds have been very seriously damaged. Under the Village Improvement Scheme, the raiyats are being urged to combat it, and considerable progress is reported to have been made in its destruction.

7. Rainfall.—While deploring the absurdity of the rainfall statistics furnished to him at the original settlement, the Superintendent estimated the fall in the taluk to vary from "close on 30 inches in the south to about 20 inches or even less in the North". That this estimate was fairly accurate is verified by the reliable statistics furnished by the Department of Meteorology in the Report on Rainfall Registration, the latest of which shows that during a period of 45 years (1870—1914) the fall at Arsikere averaged 25·98 inches, while the average at Kanakatte for 18 years (1897-1914) was 21 40 inches Arsikere is almost in the centre, and Kanakatte in the north, just about a mile and a half outside the boundary, of the Hirisavi Taluk There is no rain gauge station in the southern portion, but at Dudda, the nearest station to the south in the Hassan Taluk, the average fall for 18 years (1897-1914) was 26 20 inches The southern half of the taluk is clearly better served by the monsoon than the northern, and the months of May and October record the highest falls

8 Climate—Being practically a flat country situated at an elevation of about 2,600 feet above the sea level, and claiming neither exuberance of vegetation nor a surfeit of moisture, the taluk possesses quite a healthy climate Excessive heat is sometimes, especially when the early rains hold off, felt during the months of April, May and June, and this is the season when fevers are prevalent Mortality here is for the most part due to fever cholera at times becomes virulent and carries off large numbers, but the plague has been noticed to be comparatively slow in spreading, and has not made havoc on the scale on which it has worked in other parts of the State

9 Soils—The soil is stony in several places particularly in the vicinity of the hills, and this fault prevails at places to such an extent as to render the fields entirely uncultivable Patches of dark brown and red soil are frequently met with, but the prevailing kind is the grey with an admixture of sand The proportion of sand decreases with declivity, and good loam is commonly found in the hollows Generally speaking, the soil is fertile enough to yield good results in seasons of good rainfall

10 Crops and Cultivation—Ragi the chief dry crop is grown everywhere Oil seeds, kulthi, channa, coriander and jola are among the other products of dry land Jola, often sown mixed with ragi, is raised chiefly for fodder The cultivation of chilli receives much attention in the south and the west, but it is said to involve more risk and trouble While it suffers, in common with other crops, in seasons of scanty rainfall, it is more easily subject to damage by heavy rains The crop cannot be collected all at one time, but has to be gathered from the plants during a period of about two months as the pods ripen, and then dried with care The yield per acre is estimated at from 10 to 20 maunds according to capability of soil and the administration of the season Cotton is cultivated with advantage in some villages, especially in Bigrde, where some of the raiyats seem to have received an impetus from their friends in other cotton growing parts The standard outturn of cotton per acre has been estimated at 10 maunds, valued at Rs 80, but it would appear that a larger yield is obtained in this taluk, and it is likely that this class of cultivation will be more freely resorted to in the future where suitable land is available Tobacco of an inferior sort is grown in small quantities here and there

It is curious that the raiyats of this taluk are not particular about obtaining the best possible results from their wet lands This circumstance is in great part due to the partiality they evince for cocoanut which is being planted even on rice lands The paddy that is grown is of the coarser classes, known as Doddi and Vungesari, and the standard outturn per acre is estimated at 8 pallas Raising two crops of paddy on the same land in the same year is almost unknown, even where the necessary water-supply is forthcoming An inferior kind of sugar-cane, called Mavakabbu, is grown to a limited extent under some of the important tanks The yield per acre under cane is said to vary from 50 to 100 maunds of jaggery The large profits to be had from cane cultivation have begun to attract the attention of the raiyats

The one kind of cultivation that is pursued with the greatest earnestness and finds favour everywhere with the raiyat, is that of cocoanut Almost all the capital and labour available are spent upon converting dry lands into cocoanut plantations, and every year the area under this cultivation is added to The great incentive to the cultivation is found in the fact that with the high prices of the nut and consequently of the gardens, the raiyat feels his position insured against pecuniary emergency when he owns a garden, his ordinary wants of daily life being met out of his dry lands Thus new gardens are constantly springing up in nearly every village, where suitable lands could be had The method of cultivation is the same as it is elsewhere the seedlings are first raised in a nursery, whence they are transplanted after one year or more according to the ability of the garden owner to protect the plants from being damaged by cattle, older and bigger plants being the less accessible to cattle The palms are planted at a distance of a chain apart, so that every acre generally contains 40 of them They take from six to ten years to come to bearing, Uddu, hesaru and jola are grown annually in cocoanut gardens having superior soil, until the palms begin to throw too dense a shade for such crops to thrive in inferior soils ragi and kulthi The full-grown trees yields from 50 to 100 nuts and more a year The nuts are gathered from time to time as they ripen, and dried into copra, a thousand of which weigh from 8 to 13 maunds The highest weight is obtained in some of the villages of the Kanakatte Hobli, the lowest in the Gandasi Hobli The raiyats prefer selling the copras by number instead of by weight, as counting is easier, and affords fewer chances for deception But the local merchants are equally vigilant inasmuch as they possess definite knowledge of the weight of the produce of particular gardens

Besides cocoanut, areca, plantain and the other common fruit trees are also grown in the gardens below the Harnahalli, Kallangare, Arsikere, Kamasamudra and Gandasi tanks The betel vine is planted here and there for local consumption.

Taking the total cultivated area of the taluk at 100, the percentages occupied by the different kinds of crops are reported to have been as follows in the year 1914-15.

|---|---|
| Jola | 4 12 |
| Sugarcane | ·34 |
| Ragi | 34 20 |
| Kulthi | 10·83 |
| Rice | 2 04 |
| Other cereals | 13 37 |
| Cotton | ·92 |
| Oil seeds | 1 78 |
| Tobacco | ·38 |
| Condiments | 7 59 |
| Garden produce | 12·43 |
| Total | 100 00 |

Something has to be said on the subject of manure The supply of good manure in sufficient quantities is pretty generally a problem of concern to the cultivator, which is engaging the earnest attention of the Agricultural Department Until the difficulty is satisfactorily overcome, the raiyat has to continue his old methods, which in this taluk consist of supplying the land with fresh earth, tank silt or Godu and the droppings of sheep and goats as far as these are available. Fresh earth and Godu have to be carted to the fields from tankbeds, etc , an expensive operation, and the penning in of sheep and goats on the fields is no less such , nor is rice land generally amenable to this latter mode of soil-fertilising on account of the injurious damp and the mosquitoes. It is chiefly resorted to in the case of gardens, and even these can be manured in this way only once in two or three years. Shepherds owning flocks muster under a headman and ply the trade for five months in the year, from the close of the monsoon to the next outbreak Dry crop lands are generally treated with fresh earth and Godu

11 Irrigation —Irrigation in this taluk is entirely by means of tanks or wells, there being no streams or nallas of importance There are as many as 114 tanks of which 22 are major and 92 minor Of the major tanks, 17 have been restored, and of the minor 30 The general complaint about the tanks is that they do not fill regularly on account of the rainfall which is supposed to get scantier every year. The rainfall statistics, however, disprove the allegation One important cause seems to lie in the fact that extensive cocoanut plantations have sprung up on either side of the numerous tank-feeding jungle streams which have been bunded up at several places for the benefit of the new gardens, and have therefore become less serviceable as feeders to the tanks For this reason, gardens in the catchment area of a tank are often valued more than the gardens situated below it. Some of the major tanks, especially those at Kenkere and Bilagumba, are in a neglected condition and it has been noted in para 6 above that the bunds of some tanks are overgrown with prickly pear. No amount of attention to tanks will prove too much in this dry taluk, systematic efforts are required to keep the restored tanks in efficient condition, and the large number of minor tanks still unrestored call for particular attention

Of the 851 wells in the taluk, 342 are used for purposes of irrigation The wells are, almost all of them mud-holes; the sandy nature of the soil in several places does not easily permit of wells being lined with stones There are no Kapiles, nor are the wells worked by Yatas The water is commonly lifted in pots and carried to the plants.

12 Communications —About the time of the original settlement, the taluk had only a few roads which though good in themselves, were rendered insecure by robbers The advent of the railway in 1889 brought along with it the benefits of ease and speed and safety The town of Arsikere, which till then was an "Insignificant village with evil reputation as the haunt of robbers," became an important station on the railway line running through the centre of the taluk from Bangalore to Harihar, and subsequently also to Shimoga Within the last two years, a new line has been laid through the south-western portion of the taluk, connecting Arsikere with Hassan and Mysore This line has just been opened for goods traffic, and will soon be made available for passengers also The long thought-of line between Arsikere and Mangalore is being urged strongly upon the consideration of Government by the South Mysore Planters' Association The taluk under consideration happens therefore to be well-found in the matter of railway communication

The roads in existence at the original settlement were—

1. The Bangalore-Shimoga-Honnavar road,
2. The Arsikere-Channarayapatna-Mysore road.
3. The Arsikere-Harnahalli-Hassan road, and
4. The Tiptur-Dudda-Hassan road, in the south.

The Arsikere-Huliyar road has since been made in the north, affording a welcome in opening to the villages of the Kanakatte Hobli A road seems desirable connecting Harnahalli with Javagal via Kalayadi, as this portion of the taluk is at present not easily accessible to wheeled traffic

Country cart tracks, connecting villages with each other and with high roads, have increased under the Village Improvement Scheme The following are some of the important cart-tracks which serve nearly as well as high roads in fair weather —

1 Halkur to Kanakatte,
2 Halkur to Honnavalli,
3 Kondavagal to Arsikere,
4 Gandasi to Konehalli Railway Station

13 Markets —Weekly markets are held at Arsikere and Gandasi on Fridays and Thursdays In these markets, trade does not confine itself to the disposal of the surplus of the agricultural produce of the taluk, but large quantities of grain and oil-seeds, especially rice from Alur side, are also brought from the adjoining taluks for sale At Gandasi, a cattle fair is held in connection with the weekly market, at which a large number of cattle, including sheep and goats, are brought and sold The business transacted is valued at Rs 25,000 at Arsikere and at Rs 5,000 at Gandasi, ordinarily, but in the season (Suggi), it rises to rupees one lakh and Rs 20,000 at the respective places Outside the taluk, but within easy distance, markets are held weekly at Dudda, Javagal, Kanakatte and Banavar, and all of these are well-known Santes conducted on a large scale

14 Fairs and Festivals — An annual jatra in the month of Ashadha is held at Malekal Tirupati, a village in the northern suburb of Arsikere at a distance of about a mile, in honor of Sri Venkataramanaswami The fame of the temple as being of equal sanctity with the temple at Tirupati in the North Arcot District, attracts about 4,000 people to the jatra, which lasts for 4 or 5 days, and at which the poor of all classes are fed The jatra is conducted for religious purposes only, no trade being done The situation of the temple on the summit of the hill and the ruined temples near Arsikere town, one of which is in Chalukian style, serve to enhance the interest with which it is attended

15 Exports and Imports —The following are the statistics of trade in respect of the more important articles for the year 1915 taken from the Arsikere Taluk Handbook

| Articles of export | Tons | Value Rs |
|---|---|---|
| Ragi | 2,000 | 10,000 |

| Mustard ... ... ... | 20 | 3,600 |
| Turmeric ... ... ... | 10 | 2,000 |
| Ghee ... ... ... | 5 | 6,000 |
| Jaggory ... ... ... | 50 | 12,000 |
| Arecanut ... ... ... | 20 | 16,000 |
| Pepper ... ... ... | 5 | 3,200 |
| Garlic ... ... ... | 50 | 8,000 |

| Cardamom ... ... ... | ¼ | 1,000 |
| Ropes ... ... ... | 20 | 3,200 |
| Kerosine oil ... ... . . | 20,000 tins | 50,000 |
| Vessels of iron, brass and copper | ... ... | 13,000 |
| Cloths and thread . . | ... ... | 1,14,800 |
| Kamblis ... ... ... | ... ... | 4,000 |
| | Total ... | 4,08,800 |

These figures are admittedly only approximations, and are moreover for an area larger than the tract now under consideration; but they serve to give us some idea of the trade in the tract generally. On a consideration of such important factors as area and population, I think it would be reasonable to say that about three-fifths of the total trade specified above pertains to the tract under report. Among agricultural products, the most important article of export is cocoanut, both dry and fresh, while coriander, til, cotton, and chilli come next in order; the most important article of import is rice, other imports being arecanut, jaggory, wheat and thadagani.

16. Manufacture and Industry.—There is no manufacture of any note in this taluk. Gold mining, which was attempted at Harnahalli some time back, was abandoned as being unproductive. A rice mill, combined with oil and cotton ginning mills, has been established at Arsikere, but owing to several causes it has not so far been successful. Such a combined concern would appear to be out of place in a tract where enough of paddy and cotton for feeding the mills are not grown, and could not profitably be imported. Coarse kamblis and cotton cloths are woven in hand looms, and oil is extracted in a few wooden oil-mills, but the output is too small even for local needs. No one has as yet ventured upon the pressing of oil from Copra and oil seeds on a large scale; judging from the large quantities in which these articles are exported annually, one would think there is a good opportunity here for men of enterprise. The cocoanut fibre and shell, which now are burnt as fuel, may profitably be made use of for the production of several articles of value. The profits from the manufacture of coir is understood by the people, but the chief difficulty in their way is that of water, which is not very easily available.

17. Population.—In the subjoined table is shown the population of the tract under report at the five periods of decennial census commencing from 1871.

| | Population. |
|---|---|
| According to the Census of 1871 ... | ... 43,761 |
| According to the Census of 1881 ... | ... 29,783 |
| According to the Census of 1891 ... | ... 39,564 |
| According to the Census of 1901 ... | ... 47,149 |
| According to the Census of 1911 ... | ... 50,834 |

How seriously the tract suffered during the great famine of 1876—78 can be inferred from the decrease of population discovered in the year 1881. More than a third was lost either by death or desertion; at the same time strong recuperative powers are evinced in the later figures. Within the ten years next after 1881, the population increased by 9,781 or by 32·84 per cent. The next decade shows an increase of 7,585; in the last decade the addition was 3,685. During the thirty years from 1881, the population has increased by 21,051 that is, by 70·6 per cent. While the loss during the famine was about 32 per cent, the gain within the next generation has been more than double the loss. The density per square mile of the total area, both culturable and unculturable, is 177·12, but works out to 355·48 per square mile of the culturable area of the taluk, and to 457·96 per square mile of occupied land.

18. Agricultural resources.—The agricultural resources, past and present, are compared in the following table.

| Items | | At the Original Survey | At re-survey | Increase or decrease | Percentage of increase or decrease |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| House ... | Tiled ... .. .. | 3,040 | 8,216 | +4,276 | +109 |
| | Mud ... ... ... | 1,670 | 1,016 | — 654 | — 35 |
| | Thatched .. ... | 5,036 | 5,346 | + 310 | + 6 |
| | Total ... | 10,546 | 14,578 | +4,032 | + 38 |
| Cattle ... ... ... .. | | 85,608 | 104,348 | +18,740 | + 22 |
| Carts ... ... ... ... | | 1,153 | 3,114 | + 1,961 | +170 |
| Ploughs ... ... ... ... | | 7,989 | 8,889 | + 900 | + 11 |

A satisfactory feature in the large increase of 38 per cent in the number of houses is that the tiled houses have more than doubled themselves. Carts have increased by as much as 170 per cent, a sure indication of largely increased traffic, considering the help the railway gives in this direction. Cattle and ploughs also show considerable advance in numbers, the percentages of increase being 22 and 11 respectively. It is gratifying to note increases in every important item under agricultural resources.

19. Cattle.—It has been observed in the foregoing para that the number of cattle has increased, and what remains to be said of them is that their breed and condition are fairly good. Breeding bulls of the country species are maintained in almost all the villages, but no attempts appear to have been made for improveing the local breed. There are a good number of bullocks of very good breed in this taluk, but these are generally reserved for purposes of draught. The plough bullocks are, as a rule, of a comparatively inferior kind. There is a plentiful supply of fodder, especially in the hilly tracts. The Amrut Mahal Kavals, situated in the centre and the south of the taluk, afford excellent pasture for the cattle of the adjoining villages, though some of them are reserved for the Amrut Mahal cattle exclusively in specified seasons of the year. The mortality among cattle in the taluk as at present constituted was 1,080 in the year 1915-16, of which 782 deaths were due to disease, 76 to wild beasts, and 222 to accidents.

20. Modes of husbandry.—The tenacity with which the raiyat clings to his old methods of agriculture is proverbial, and improvement in this respect can perhaps be expected only in the long course of time. Except for the introduction of a few improved ploughs, no advance has been made in the modes of husbandry.

21. Tenure and leases.—Almost all the holders of lands cultivate them directly, either by personal labour or by the employment of paid labour. The system of leasing out lands is not in vogue to any noticeable extent, and where instances of the kind do occur, the lessee is found to dictate the terms. Nor is this state of affairs unnatural in a country where garden and dry cultivation predominate. The profits from gardens are largely lost to the owner if they are leased out, and there is further the danger of the lessee neglecting the garden, which may in a short time get so deteriorated as to be beyond restoration. The dry lands, the profits from which are comparatively small and not worth while sharing, are very generally owned and worked by the cultivators themselves.

22. Value of land.—An indication as to the value of lands in the taluk can be had from the transactions of sales and mortgages recorded in the books of the Registration Department. An examination of a large number of such transactions gives the following results:—

| Description of transaction | Number of transactions | Amount fetched | Total survey assessment | Ratio |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Sales ... .. ... ... | 803 | 1,62,638 | 5,013 | Thirty-two times the assessment. |
| Mortgages ... ... ... ... | 589 | 1,31,731 | 5,469 | Twenty-four times the assessment. |

There has been a steady rise in the value of lands throughout the taluk—Good lands, especially in the vicinity of the railway and the high roads, are eagerly sought for. The dry cocoanut gardens are valued by the number of trees standing: for a garden containing trees in bearing, a price of Rs. 5 to Rs. 8 per tree was being paid a few years ago, but the rate has now increased to an amount varying from Rs 8 to Rs 12, so that the price of an acre of good garden containing forty trees, now ranges from Rs 320 to Rs 480 Old Dhruvapaiva gardens that have been kept up with care fetch still better prices The prices of dry and wet lands have also increased It is an undisputed fact that lands are held in much greater esteem now than formerly

23 Prices —I compare below the prices that obtained in the year 1875-76, of some of the important articles of agricultural produce as recorded in the original settlement report, with the prices that obtained in 1914-15 as ascertained from the Amildar The fact must not be lost sight of that 1876, 1877 and 1878 were years of a great famine, and of abnormal conditions

The gaps in the statement cannot be filled up for want of information.

The statement below shows the quinquennial averages of prices of the four important agricultural products, rice, ragi, jola, and Bengal gram as given in the compilation made by the Director of Statistics for the Hassan District as a whole.

These details speak for themselves. So often has the matter of prices been discussed in Revision Settlement Reports that it would be quite superfluous to say anything more here. Making the most liberal allowance for what may be termed natural fluctuations, as also for the abnormal effects of special conditions such as the war has introduced, it may I think with perfect safety be laid down that there is no chance of the prices of the principal articles of produce in the taluk falling below double those prevalent at the time of the original settlement.

24. Labour and wages.—There is a pretty strong demand for labour in this taluk, for employment not only in connection with agriculture, but also on works of public utility. Labour required on a large scale is imported from outside, though coolies are also found in villages employed by landlords whenever necessary. Wages have increased in proportion to the costliness of living and vary per man from 4 to 6 annas for unskilled labour, and from 12 annas to Rs. 1-4-0 for skilled labour, per day. Women and children are paid at 4 annas and 2 annas respectively. Menial servants cannot, as a rule, be had for less than Rs. 8 per month. Permanent agricultural labourers or Jitadalus have become rare, and the few that continue to work as such are employed by the richer landlords on a pay of Rs. 25 or 30 per annum in addition to food and clothing. Cart hire varies from annas 12 to Rs. 1-8-0 per day according to the nature of the demand, and the available supply, of carts at any particular time.

25. Re-survey.—The sub-division of occupied survey numbers at Re-survey, and the formation of new survey numbers out of Kharab lands for cultivation, have increased the number of fields from 14,455 to 18,277 or by 3,822. The following table compares the area under different classes of lands as recorded in the Akarbands of the original settlement, with those ascertained by re-survey.

| Description of land | Acres according to former survey | Acres according to re-survey | Difference |
|---|---|---|---|
| Arable dry crop land ... ... | 80,791 | 77,131 | —3,660 |
| Rice or wet land ... .. | 3,429 | 3,040 | — 389 |
| Garden land ... ... | 7,573 | 11,658 | +4,085 |
| Unarable land . | 91,473 | 92,015 | + 542 |
| | 183,266 | 183,844 | + 578 |

A small difference of 156 acres may be observed between the total area of the taluk noted in the original settlement report, viz, 183,422 acres, and the total of column 2 above This discrepancy is due to the subsequent correction of small errors, while the small difference of 578 acres between the totals in columns 2 and 3 is due to corrections made at Revision operations The table shows that there has been a large increase of 4,085 acres under garden land against a corresponding decrease of 4,049 acres under dry and wet lands It is clear that the increasing hold that cocoanut gardening is taking on the people is responsible for these alterations. Unarable land has increased in spite of the fact that a very considerable area of old unassessed waste has during the period of the settlement been brought under cultivation and assessed, but the reason for this apparent inconsistency is not far to seek—the Railway, the new highroads, the margins under tank bunds, the extension of village sites, and several other items of that kind have, wherever they have fallen on assessed land, made a reduction in it, and appear as Kharab

26. Re-classification —The water-supply to wet and garden lands was classified under the rules of 1896, soil being taken at its old valuation as determined at the original classification Only Kharab lands left unclassed at the original classification, but which were, or were about to be, appropriated for purposes of cultivation, were classed in respect of soil during re-classification

27. Revenue History —The history of cultivation and revenue collections in this taluk, details of which are found in Appendix I, is of good interest, easy to understand, and speaks eloquently of the good sense of the framer of the Original settlement In the first two years (1880-82) succeeding the year of settlement 1879-80, a small decrease is observed in the occupied area under all the three classes of cultivation, with a corresponding decrease in revenue collections, evidently on account of relinquishments of superfluous lands in the holding of raiyats, who did not want them for cultivation, but could no longer escape from the payment of assessment as they could under the presettlement system From 1881-82 forwards there has been a steady expansion in both cultivation and collections The total extent of occupied land was 45,120 acres in 1879-80, came down to 43,241 acres or by 1,879 acres in 1881-82, and then rose year by year up to 74,478 acres in 1914-15, the collections ranging from Rs 67,509 to Rs 64,323 in 1881-82 and thence to Rs 1,00,547 in 1914-15

Taking the different classes of cultivation, the occupied dry land, 37,100 acres in 1879-80, decreased to 35,682 in 1881-82, and progressed without interruption to 64,155 acres in 1914-15 The occupied wet and garden lands, which measured 1,167 and 6,853 acres respectively in 1879-80, fell to 920 and 6,639 acres in 1881-82, and then went on steadily from year to year till the wet area more than doubled itself in 1914-15, and the garden area counted 7 382 acres

The arrears of land revenue, which were found irrecoverable and consequently remitted during the long period of 35 years, were only Rs 7 in 1879-80 and Rs 44 in 1883-84 The remissions ranging from Rs 5 to Rs. 20 shown against the years from 1889-90 to 1896-97 represent fractions of the assessment conceded to the cultivator under the Shraya tenure Half of the wet assessment on certain lands, amounting to Rs 2,680, was remitted by Government in their Order No R. 10113—Agri. 175—08—15, dated 31st May 1909 for failure of wet crops thereon Except for this last item, which was due to extraordinary seasonal conditions, remissions of assessment are practically nil.

28 Grouping.—Now that the condition of the tract has been explained in sufficient detail, we have to determine, in devising a revised settlement, the relative position held by each of the villages, on a general consideration of the advantages they enjoy in point of climate, means of traffic, and facility for disposal of output, in other words, their relative prosperity, and consequently their capacity to contribute to the public revenues The original grouping based as it was on precisely similar considerations, was a faultless one under the then existing circumstances The question is whether anything has taken place during the interval to justify alterations The most important item of improvement influencing the villages is the opening of railways, a great convenience created at a great cost It so happens however, that both the Bangalore-Harihar and the Mysore-Hassan-Arsikere lines pass through villages which are already in the first group, so that nothing has to be done in respect of them Next in importance is the new road from Arsikere to Huliyar, this again runs through villages, the nearer of which belong to the second group, and the more remote to the third group of the original settlement Though facilities have undoubtedly been created for these villages, they can scarcely be said to be of such a nature as will justify the double pressure which would result from a transfer of them to a higher group The grouping adopted at the original settlement may therefore be confirmed for the purposes of Revision Settlement —

No. C. 10-21—L. S. 48-17-4, DATED 24TH APRIL 1918.

GROUP I.—146 villages, of which 139 form the entire southern half of the taluk, where there are railways and good roads interspersed, and the rainfall is more copious, and 7 are advantageously situated in respect of roads, railway and markets, in the south-west corner of the northern half of the taluk.

GROUP II.—15 villages, adjoining the villages of group I on the north, and situated on either side of the Hirikalgudda hills, but at some distance from the principal lines of traffic.

GROUP III.—39 villages in the north, adjoining the Huliyar Sub-Taluk, where the rainfall is scanty, and the general situation is relatively the least favourable.

29. Maximum rates.—The next step is to determine the maximum rates of assessment for the several groups A perusal of the original settlement papers shows that much moderation was exercised in assessing the lands, on account of sparseness of population, large area of unoccupied waste, inability to bear any heavy increase over the previous collections, and the effects of the dreadful famine of 1876. These considerations do not press on us now; they have at least been removed to a very great extent by the good general advancement in the economic conditions of the taluk. A comprehensive view of all the factors that enter into the question of rates, clearly indicates that an enhancement of the old rates is called for. Such an enhancement if stretched to strictly logical limits, could be one of considerable magnitude, but the prominent feature of the policy of Government in land settlements has hitherto been a self-denial which has left a very large share of unearned increments in the hands of the raiyat, a policy with sympathetic fairness for its bedrock, which it cannot give a settlement officer any pleasure to suggest a departure from. I beg accordingly to propose that the following maxima may be adopted for the different groups; the old maxima also are shown in the table below, to facilitate comparison.

| Groups | Maximum rates | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Dry | | Wet | | Garden | |
| | Old | Proposed | Old | Proposed | Old | Proposed |
| | Rs. a. p. | Rs a. p. | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. | Rs. a. p. |
| I ... . | 2 4 0 | 2 8 0 | 8 0 0 | 8 8 0 | 16 0 0 | 12 0 0 |
| II , ... ... | 2 0 0 | 2 4 0 | 7 8 0 | 8 0 0 | 16 0 0 | 12 0 0 |
| III ... ... | 1 12 0 | 2 0 0 | 7 8 0 | 8 0 0 | 16 0 0 | 12 0 0 |

The dry maxima have been raised uniformly by 4 annas in each group, and the wet, by 8 annas.

30. The maximum adopted for the assessment of gardens under tanks has been reduced from Rs. 16 to Rs. 12, and even this reduced maximum has been applied quite sparingly. Well-gardens have been assessed in accordance with the principles laid down by Government in the well-known rules of 1902, which have, I may be permitted to observe, worked to the fullest benefit of the raiyat in this taluk, containing as it does a large extent of new cocoanut gardens. What I mean is made clear in the following statement which shows the incidence of taxation on the different classes of garden. Both Inam and Government gardens, occupied and unoccupied, are included in the statement.

No. C. 10-21—L. S. 48-17-4, dated 24th April 1918.

It will be seen that the highest dry rate has been assimilated to that of the lately revised taluk of Banavar on the west, that it does not exceed that taken at original settlement for the semi-malnad taluk of Hassan, and that it falls short of that taken at Revision for another semi-malnad taluk, Belur.

The proposed highest wet rate falls short of the revised rates for Budihal and Belur Taluks, and is slightly in excess of the unrevised rates in Hassan and Channarayapatna Taluks. It is 12 annas in advance of the revised rate in Banavar Taluk, but we must recollect that the rates in Banavar were, on considerations which held good at the original settlement deliberately kept so low as Rs. 7, Rs 6-8-0, and Rs. 6, and that the revised settlement refrained from adding any more than 12 annas to each of these, for the sole reason that too sharp an enhancement is liable to become a source of disturbance in the raiyat's affairs.

The proposed garden maximum of Rs. 12 is precisely that obtaining in all the surrounding taluks, whether revised or not, excepting one, the Budihal Taluk. In the case of Budihal, Col Grant, lately Survey Commissioner, appears to have dealt rather drastically with the old rate of Rs. 16 which he brought down to Rs 9, in consideration of the fact that the price of cocoanut, the principal garden produce there, had not at the time (1905) advanced at the pace at which other crops had, that export from the taluk was not easy, the Railway not being near at hand, and that the great increase in Bagayet area had enabled him to make up, as far as that could be, the loss due to the large reduction in the maximum. The Sub-Divisional Officer, Mr. Sheshadri Iyengar, thought that the sacrifice involved was not wanted, and that Rs. 12 would be a more suitable rate, and Government in their Order No. 7331-40—L. S. 1-05-4, dated the 15th December 1905, while accepting Col. Grant's recommendation, laid down that—"As the existing garden assessment has not been proved to have very much retarded the growth of garden cultivation, it is necessary to point out in this connection that the process of its reduction should be gradual except where the existing rates are clearly hard. This principle will, it is hoped, be borne in mind in future settlements." It is needless to say that the principle enunciated has been kept in view in all subsequent settlements, with the result that a maximum of Rs. 12 has now rightly come to be regarded as a very practical and a safe standard for Maidan Taluks of the average type, such as is the tract now under report.

32. Results of revision.—What results are expected to de derived by revising the rates as proposed above, are shown in the following statement, which takes into account only the lands in occupation at re-survey:—

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Acres | Assessment | Average rate | Acres | Assessment | Average rate |
| | | | Rs. a. p. | | | Rs. a. p. |

| Miscellaneous (i. e., temporary water rate) . .. | | 10 | | | | |
| | | 97,100 | 1 6 0 | | | |

The imposition of the revised rates is calculated to secure an increase of Rs. 12,274 in the revenue connections, the average rate of assessment per acre, on the whole, being raised from Rs 1-6-0 to Rs 1-8-7 or by 2 annas and 7 pies. This again is obtained by an increase of one anna and 9 pies in the average dry rate, and of 5 annas in the average wet rate, counterbalanced by a substantial reduction of 9 annas and 2 pies in the average garden rate.

33. Effect on groups.—The general idea given above, of the effect of the new rates on occupied lands in the taluk as a whole, will be found analysed in sufficient detail in the following statement, which describes how each group, and how each class of land in a group, will be affected—

Group II shows the highest average wet and garden rates, Rs. 5-0-0, and Rs. 3-12-10, respectively, and the lowest average dry rate of Rs. 0-13-2, per acre. These peculiarities follow the old averages, and are due to a combination of circumstances the more important of which are, first, that the number of villages in the second Group being very small. viz., 15, the range of the classes of soil met with naturally becomes limited, secondly, that none of these villages contain the poorer classes of wet and garden lands, and thirdly, that the soil of dry lands in Group III is beyond question intrinsically superior. With this explanation, it is easy to understand the rise and fall of the average rates in the several groups. The increase in the average dry rate is one anna and 10 pies in Group I, one anna and 3 pies in Group II, and one anna and 8 pies in Group III. The average wet rate is Rs. 4-5-8, in Group I, Rs. 5-0-0, in Group II, and Rs. 3-10-6, in Group III. The greatest reduction of 22 per cent in the average garden rate occurs in Group I, the reduction in the other two groups being by 16 and 9 per cent respectively. Clubbing all the groups together, the increases in the average dry and wet rates are by 12 and 8 per cent respectively, and the decrease in the average rate on gardens is by 15 per cent, the net result on the whole being an increase of 12 per cent in the general average rate.

34. In the next statement, I compare the averages under the proposed revision with those obtaining in the six adjoining taluks, of which only three have as yet been revised. In doing so, I beg to invite attention to the fact that the averages quoted for the semi-malnad taluks of Hassan and Belur are those pertaining only to the maidan groups of those taluks, which adjoin the tract under report which is purely maidan itself; it would be unfair to institute a comparison with the averages for those taluks as a whole, since in the malnad portions dry cultivation being of much less importance than it is in the open country, the dry assessment has been kept correspondingly low. In the case of the wholly maidan taluks however (Budihal, Banavar, Honnavalli and Channarayapatna), the averages given relate to the whole of the tract included in each.

The average rates now proposed are in general harmony with those of all the country surrounding, with the exception of Budihal taluk, where a striking disparity is in evidence particularly in respect of dry crop land. But Budihal had been treated to exceptional leniency both at Original and Revised Settlements. I showed in section 31 above, why the old garden maximum of that taluk was cut down in a way which under ordinary circumstances would be characterised as needlessly violent. That explanation in part stands good for the low dry rates as well. The old Settlement Report speaks of a people poor and wanting in energy, of soil composed of large stretches of sand bearing indifferent dry crops just sufficing for home consumption, and on which a crop like jowari is never seen, of situation unfavourable for export, and running up to the borders of Hiriyur taluk where the very maximum fixed was no more than one rupee. At Revision, Colonel Grant did not find it improved in the degree to which better located tracts had reached, and this is how he expressed his conclusions—".....The only source of increase left then, is the dry crop land; but "although I have adopted slightly higher rates, a reduced area owing to conversion into "garden and wet, and the striking off of assessments for various reasons added to the necessity for "extreme caution in assessing the dry lands of a tract like this, from which food grains are "stated to be seldom if ever exported, are considerations which have induced me to refrain "from adding much to the existing demand on dry lands." There is therefore much about Budihal that cannot be true of Harnahalli taluk, of which I have endeavoured to give a correct picture in the perliminary sections of this report.

35. Assessed waste land.—As complimentary to the foregoing details anent occupied lands, I give below a statement in respect of the assessed waste lands in the several groups:—

| Groups | Dray | | | Wet | | | Garden | | | Total | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

| I | 11,348 | 10,227 | 0 14 5 | 90 | 383 | 4 4 1 | 42 | 86 | 2 0 9 | 11,475 | 10,696 | 0 14 1 |
| II | 1,078 | 941 | 0 14 0 | 5 | 16 | 3 3 2 | 4 | 8 | 2 0 0 | 1,087 | 965 | 0 14 2 |
| III | 4,693 | 3,054 | 0 10 5 | 23 | 76 | 3 4 10 | 27 | 43 | 1 9 6 | 4,743 | 3,173 | 0 10 8 |
| Total ... | 17,114 | 14,222 | 0 13 4 | 118 | 475 | 4 0 5 | 73 | 137 | 1 14 0 | 17,305 | 14,834 | 0 13 9 |

The extent of unoccupied garden, as of 'wet' land, is small, but there is available a sufficiently large area of dry land to meet future demands. Looking to the partiality the raiyats evince far cocoanut cultivation, it may be expected that in due course of time, with the moderate rates now proposed for the tract, much of the favourably situated dry waste will be appropriated for the cocoanut cultivation that pays so well.

36. I have to add but little in concluding this report, besides pointing out that the increase, viz., Rs. 13,274 (vide para 32) under the proposed revision, over the present collections on occupied lands, gives a percentage of only 12·64. A large expenditure has been incurred by Government in opening railways and roads, and much else is being done to improve the condition of the people. The raiyat's resources have materially increased, and he is now in a position to obtain very good prices for his surplus produce. The benefits derived from the economic advance of the tract certainly outweighs the proposed increase, in value, and I feel not the least hesitation in recommending the adoption of these proposals, which, so far as I can judge, are very favourable to the raiyat. I beg accordingly that Government may be pleased to accord their sanction to the settlement, and that I may be informed of their decision at a very early date

37. Limits of increase.—The limit of 66 per cent fixed for increase in villages, has been exceeded in the case of only one village, Venkatapura, serial No 120 in the Appendix. The increase of 87 per cent there, is however due to the fact that 85 acres of dry land have been brought under wet cultivation since the original settlement. The large additional supply of water and not heavy rates of assessment, is therefore responsible for the passing of the limit.

38. Cesses.—The Local Fund and Irrigation cesses will under the law on the subject, be separate levies, no estimate need be made of them as they are levies in defined proportion to assessment.

39. The usual appendices and the illustrative map accompany this report.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
D. K DARASHAH,
Superintendent, Revnue Survey and Settlements in Mysore.

Accompaniment II

Letter No. C. 2543 of 1917-18, from P Raghavendra Rao, Esq , B.A , B.L , Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, to the Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Revenue Department

Adverting to letter No. 143, dated January 1918, from the Superintendent of Revenue Survey to you, submitting proposals for the revision of the assessment of the late Harnahalli, (Arsikere) Taluk of the Hassan District, I have the honor to forward, herewith, copy of the Hassan District Deputy Commissioner's letter No. D. I. Dis 32 of 1917-18, dated 4th February 1918 to the Survey Superintendent, furnishing his opinion in the matter and to state as follows :—

2. The revision survey refers to 200 villages of the present Arsikere Taluk

3. The Deputy Commissioner of the Hassan District states that the proposed rates for dry and garden lands are very reasonable. He is, however, against raising the rate of assessment on wet lands

4. The Superintendent of Revenue Survey has made out a good case for the increase of the rate on dry lands, while he has himself proposed the reduction of the rate on garden lands. So there is consensus of opinion as regards the proposed rates on dry and garden lands, and as such, there can be no objection to the acceptance of the revised rates on these

5. As regards wet lands, however, it is very clear from the Survey Superintendent's letter that wet cultivation is precarious in this taluk People are stated to be very keen on cocoanut cultivation Difficulties in obtaining labour and manure and the uncertain nature of the water-supply, all contribute to the paucity of wet cultivation It is said that there has been a falling off also of 389 acres under wet cultivation The proposed increase of wet rate is thus open to objection Even with the proposed increase, the wet assessment of the taluk will be less by Rs. 355, while keeping to the old rates, as proposed by the Deputy Commissioner, will mean a loss of Rs 1,145-4-0. In other words, the net loss by difference between the two rates will amount to Rs. 790-4-0 which is, in my opinion, quite an inconsiderable sum For these reasons, I agree with the Deputy Commissioner in thinking that the wet rates do not warrant any enhancement The loss to Government by keeping to the old wet rate will be negligible but the appreciation of the people much. Further, there will be a net increase of nearly Rs 11,500 in round numbers in the aggregate and this is satisfactory enough, taking into consideration the conditions prevailing in this taluk

Enclosure to Accompaniment II

Letter No D. I Dis 32 of 1917-18, dated 4th February 1918, from the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan District, to the Superintendent of Revenue Survey, Bangalore

With reference to your letter No 233, dated the 12th ultimo asking my opinion on your report relating to the revision of the assessment of the 200 Government villages of the late Harnahalli (Arsikere) Taluk, I have the honor to state that the proposed revision of rates on garden and dry lands appear to be very reasonable and may be adopted

Cocoanut cultivation is on the increase and that is stated to be one of the causes for the failure of tanks getting their usual supply of water thus affecting the wet lands below them. Whatever the reason may be it is true that wet lands are not getting the necessary water-supply.

The second difficulty for wet cultivation here is the want of good manure which is not at all available easily Thirdly, labour is not available locally and coolies have to be imported from outside at great cost Lastly the cost of living has very much increased of late and consequently wages have also increased in proportion The existence of these factors you yourself have admitted in your report. There has also been a falling off of 389 acres under wet cultivation for the aforesaid reasons Especially in the northern portion of the taluk, wet cultivation is carried on at great risk and uncertainty. Even under the Thimmappanaikankere of Arsikere Kasaba, Government ordered that 100 acres should be removed from the atchkat and classed as dry Such being the case, I am at a loss to know how the rate of assessment is proposed to be increased and it is sure to operate as a great hardship to the poor raiyats depending upon precarious rainfall I am therefore of opinion that the existing rate of wet lands may be left unaltered at least in the northern portion of the taluk

Letter No 188, dated 20—21st February 1918, from D. K. Darashah, Esq., B A , Superintendent of Revenue Survey and Settlements in Mysore, to B. Ramaswamaiya, Esq., B A., B.L , Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Revenue Department

In continuation of my letter No. 144, dated 12th January 1918, submitting copies of the Revised Settlement Report of the late Harnahalli Taluk, and with reference to the Revenue

No. C. 10-21—L. S. 48-17-4, dated 24th April 1918.

Commissioner's letter addressed to you No. C 2543 of 1917-18, dated 18th February 1918, copy of which he has forwarded to me, I have the honor to state as follows :—

2 The Revenue Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner are agreed that the proposed dry and garden rates are moderate and reasonable. The raising of the wet maxima from Rs. 8 to Rs. 8-8-0 in one group, and from Rs 7-8-0 to Rs. 8 in the second and third groups, is what they find it difficult to acquiesce in The subject of rates on wet land has been discussed threadbare by now, and I think I need not make lengthy remarks here to show that there is no good ground for such apprehension as has been given expression to as regards the effect of my proposals

3 Our experience in revisions has proved that, where a maidan taluk of average natural conditions like Arsikere is concerned, a maximum rate of 9 rupees for tank-fed wet land may be adopted without fear of its proving oppressive or producing discontent, unless the existing rates are very much lower than it Maxima of Rs 8-8-0 and Rs. 8 as proposed are therefore to be considered unassailable in the case of a taluk which is served by the main Railway in the State, not to speak of the new connection recently formed with Mysore City, and other improvements.

4. The difficulty relating to labour and manure is nothing very exceptional with Harnahalli Taluk. These are among drawbacks which all the country labours under. In the absence of such difficulty, the rate could well have been considerably higher than what has been proposed.

The shortage in the wet area is taken by the Revenue Commissioner to mean a general incapacity in the tanks to furnish the necessary water-supply. There has been a misunderstanding here, which must be explained. Of the 389 acres which disappear from the wet land list

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 357-17 acres have had to be classed at re-classification as tank-fed gardens, | | | |
| 8-26 | do | do | dry cocoanut gardens, |
| 1-17 | do | do | indirectly benefited gardens, |
| 1-22 | do | do | dry land, |
| 19-38 | do | do | and khatab taken off the rice land head, for Forest plantation purposes. |

The bulk of the area, it will be seen, is still tank irrigated, though coming under the "garden" head, and about 20 acres have been transferred to forest.

5 But I must point out above all, that the doubt expressed in regard to the wet rates is occasioned by an omission to consider what the re-classification has achieved for these lands. Had the value of the water-supply to each field not been determined anew on existing conditions, even the slightest increase might have become intolerable in the case of those lands (and there are always a great many such in maidan tracts) of which the water-supply has deteriorated since the original classification took place, and I should never in that case have been so rash as to propose anything in the nature of an increase. But the changes of deterioration or of improvement that have supervened during the past years have all been taken measure of at re-classification, and rice fields have been ranked high or low according to the existing strength of the water-supply to each Once this is effected, there can be no fear whatever of a small increase in the maximum working prejudicially on lands of which the produce now brings the raiyat considerably over 100 per cent (para 23 of the Report) of the money it fetched when the original rates were settled.

6. Before I conclude, I feel called upon to say a word on the readiness with which the Revenue Commissioner would have us forego a small sum of Rs 790, a sacrifice that would have to be made if the old rates were left as they are I agree that the loss involved would be not very significant, but then, dealing with the matter in that way, does serious injury to the principles upon which our settlements proceed, and I must add that we shall find it extremely difficult to lay down anything like well-thoughout and approvable principles for future settlements, if considerations like these are allowed so much sway on the judgment. Unless therefore it be discovered that, a proposal is decisively wrong as constituting a burden to the raiyat or a sacrifice of the public revenues, I beg to submit that it would be something worse than useless to allow a too critical faculty to play on detached aspects of a question like this, the tendency of such criticism being, to undermine the confidence with which the Settlement Officer approaches his task, and to drive him to ask for a too definite enunciation of principles of assessment and of rules of guidance, which I am unable to think it would be worth while to attempt, or possible to lay down

ACCOMPANIMENT.

Recorded with the observation that the statements were received from none of the districts within the due date, which is a very unsatisfactory circumstance.

2. The following statement shows the extent of cattle mortality in the State during the quarter under review as compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The number of cattle that died of sickness and of those killed by wild beasts rose from 13,389, and 1,570 to 13,708 and 1,889, respectively, while there was an appreciable decrease in the number of deaths due to accidents and other causes. On the whole, there was a slight fall in the total mortality in the State. It may be noted that there was a marked decrease in the mortality under all the heads in the Shimoga District, while there was an appreciable increase in the number of deaths in the Kolar, Tumkur, Bangalore, Mysore and Chitaldrug Districts. The Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, is requested to investigate into the causes for these large increases and to submit a special report as to what measures are necessary to minimise cattle mortality in these districts. Cattle have a very high economic value and no effort should be spared to reduce the mortality from preventible causes.

Budget Discussion at the Representative Assembly.

No. Fl. 5914-6236—G. F. 205-17-1, dated 18th April 1918.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Order No. Fl. 5914-6236—G. F. 205-17-1, dated 18th April 1918.

With a view to make the discussion on the Budget in the Representative Assembly more methodical, and to enable the members to submit useful suggestions and definite recommendations in regard to the budget, Government are pleased to recast the rules regulating the discussion of the budget in the Assembly published with Government Order No. Fl. 6070-119—G. F. 218-15-1, dated 30th May 1916. These rules were framed before a Second Session of the Assembly was sanctioned chiefly for the discussion of the budget. Under the revised arrangement subjects for discussion may be proposed in the Dasara Session regarding the sanctioned budget estimates for the year current but there will be no general discussion of the budget. Note No. 48, dated 7th November 1917, of Mr. K. L. Datta, Special Officer, on the subject of accounting of Advances for Boundary Marks and Tank Maintenance Charges recoverable from Raiyats.

(Printed in extenso as an accompaniment)

2. Letter No. C. 2318, dated 4th February 1918, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, stating that he fully agrees in the views expressed by Mr. Datta in his note.

Order No. Fl. 6333-82—G. F. 90-17-4, dated 24th April 1918.

In his note read above, Mr. Datta points out that in respect of the charges incurred by the Survey Department on account of boundary marks in occupied lands and recoverable from raiyats, there is at present no agreement between the figures shown in the Demand, Collection and Balance statements in accounts of the Revenue Department which is responsible for the recovery and those in the Comptroller's books, and that under the present arrangement verification of the two sets of figures is rendered impossible.

2. He accordingly proposes the adoption of a new procedure providing for the verification of the departmental and Audit Office accounts in the initial stage, i.e., at the Taluk Office instead of through the Deputy or the Revenue Commissioner.

3. A similar arrangement is also suggested in respect of the charges recoverable from raiyats on account of restoration of minor tanks.

4. The Government consider that the proposals of Mr. Datta, which are agreed to by the Revenue Commissioner, are suitable for adoption and are accordingly pleased to approve of them.

ADVANCES FOR BOUNDARY MARKS CHARGES AND TANK MAINTENANCE CHARGES RECOVERABLE FROM RAIYATS.

Nature of this account.

The charges incurred by the Survey Department on account of boundary marks in occupied lands are recoverable from the raiyats occupying those lands and the bills on this account are therefore passed on to the Comptroller along with the Survey Departmental Accounts for transfer to the Revenue Department for recovery. These bills are at present debited in the Comptroller's Accounts to an advance head "Advances for Boundary Marks Charges recoverable from raiyats" by corresponding relief to the Survey Department in respect of the amounts drawn by it from the Treasury and charged in the Treasury Accounts to the head "Survey Advances." The debits on account of each district are posted in what is called a Broad Sheet showing the debits, credits and closing balance for each month in each district. The credit figures in the Broad Sheets are posted from the statements received from the treasuries in support of the credits appearing in the Treasury Accounts under this head on account of recoveries effected by the Revenue Department.

Particulars of the account kept in the Comptroller's Office.

2. Beyond this, no further account is kept in the Comptroller's Office in regard to these advances. The bills received from the Survey Department are merely copied in a register but no copy is kept of the detailed statements received with these bills showing all necessary particulars such as name of raiyats, etc., for the recovery of the amount from the parties concerned. The credits appearing in the Treasury Accounts are not also noted against the original debits copied in the register.

Cause of disagreement between the accounts of the Comptroller and of the Revenue Department.

3. The Deputy Commissioners send every year to the Comptroller an annual Demand, Collection and Balance Statement. The debits and credits shown in this statement are checked with the debits and credits in the Broad Sheet, but the remissions granted by the Deputy Commissioners are not adjusted in the Comptroller's Office. Partly for this reason and partly for the reason that there is no proper arrangement anywhere for the consolidation of the several items of Demand and Collection in the Revenue accounts of the various taluks with the consolidated figures in the Comptroller's office, there is no agreement between the figures shown in the Demand, Collection and Balance statements of the Deputy Commissioners and those in the Broad-Sheets kept in the Comptroller's Office. There has therefore been no verification between the two sets of figures nor has an attempt recently made for such verification in regard to the closing balance for 1915-16 proved successful.

Under present arrangement verification of figures is rendered impossible.

4. From this it is clear that there is no use attempting to verify the consolidated figures in the Comptroller's Office with the details scattered over the several taluks of the State without any attempt to consolidate the latter in the same manner as in the Comptroller's Office. But instead of attempting to consolidate the latter, which involves unnecessary duplication of work in requiring the Deputy Commissioners to consolidate taluk accounts and the Revenue Commissioner to consolidate district figures, I would arrange for the verification of the two sets of figures in the initial stage, i.e., at the Taluk Offices themselves instead of through the Deputy Commissioners or the Revenue Commissioner. For this purpose, I would suggest the following new procedure :—

Amounts of bills received from Survey Department to be debited to "objection book advances" and the Taluk Treasury required to adjust them.

5. The amounts of bills submitted by the Survey Department on this account with its monthly account are now debited in the Comptroller's Office as soon as the account is received without any acceptance by the Revenue Department which is responsible for the recovery of the amount from the raiyats along with the Revenue Khists. These amounts should in future be debited to the head "Objection Book Advances" in the Comptroller's Office in the first instance and the bills should be forwarded along with the detailed account of particulars, to the Deputy Commissioner of the district concerned for acceptance and transfer to the taluk concerned for note in the Revenue Demand Register for recovery. The Taluk Office should after such note present the bill at the Taluk Treasury for transfer adjustment of the amount of the bills by debit to a new head to be opened in the Treasury Account for transactions recorded under this new procedure, viz., "Boundary Marks Advances since July 1917." The Taluk Treasury is not to pay any money on these bills but only to adjust the amounts by transfer credit in the Treasury Accounts to the head "Objection Book Advances," and debit to the new head mentioned above.

Comptroller's Office to watch credit to the head "Objection Book Advances."

6. It should be the duty of the Comptroller's Office to watch that credit to the head "Objection Book Advances" is given in the accounts of the Taluk Treasury concerned by debit to the head "Boundary Marks Advances" as soon as possible. This will ensure that every such amount is actually brought on the Taluk Registers as a demand.

No. 6333-82--G. F. 90-17-4, dated 24th April 1918.

Taluk office to maintain a pass book.

7. The Taluk Office should maintain a pass book which should be sent to the Treasury every time a debit is proposed to the head "Boundary Marks Advances since July 1917", by credit to the head "Objection Book Advances." Similarly when recoveries are made on account of these advances and the amounts are remitted to the Treasury, the pass book should be sent to the Treasury with the challan and the Treasury Officer should note the credits in the pass book. The Treasury Officer will maintain a register in the form of the pass book and will note in it every debit and credit raised under the head. He will all also note the debits and credits in the pass book submitted by the Taluk Office with every voucher for a debit and with every remittance to be credited to the head. Care should be taken by the Taluk Revenue Office to see that no sum realised on account of an advance made prior to July 1917 is credited to this head or in the pass book. Such sums should continue to be credited to the old head "Advances for Boundary Marks Charges before July 1917."

Pass book to be agreed with Treasury Account.

8. The pass book should be sent for verification with the Treasury Accounts at the end of every month. The Taluk Treasury should send to the Comptroller every month a Plus and Minus Memo for the transactions passing in the Treasury Accounts under the new head, showing the opening balance, the total debits and credits and the closing balance for each month. On this Memo the Treasury should record a certificate that the balance has been verified with the pass book of the Revenue Department and found to agree and that the Revenue Department has accepted the balance as agreeing with the detailed accounts maintained by it. The Revenue Department should be required to record such a certificate every month on the pass book against the closing balance of the month shown in it. As all the transactions will be recorded in the pass book, the Revenue Department should have no difficulty in comparing the entries in its registers with those in the pass book and record the certificate required.

Method of recording remission.

9. Statements of remission sanctioned by the Revenue authorities, should be sent to the Treasury by the Taluk Office as soon as they are sanctioned together with the pass book. On receipt of these remission statements, the Treasury Officer will make a transfer adjustment in his accounts debiting the accounts as expenditure under the head "17 Miscellaneous-Boundary Marks Advances since July 1917 written off" by per contra credit to the advance head "Boundary Marks Advances since July 1917." He will at the same time note the credit in the pass book, the outstanding balnace in which will thereby be reduced in the same way as if the amounts remitted had been actually recovered. The Remission Statement received from the Taluk Office should be sent along with the Treasuary Accounts as a voucher for the charge.

Under proposed arrangement, verification will be effected in the initial stages.

10. As under this arrangement, complete verification will be effected in the initial stages between the primary accounts maintained in the Revenue Department and the Treasury, there will be no need for any further verification. The Comptroller's Office should only see that the items held under the head "Objection Book Advances" are cleared soon and that the certificate of verification required has been recorded on the monthly Plus and Minus Memos. A Broad Sheet should also be maintained in the Comptroller's Office by taluks showing the debits, credits, and balances as exhibited in the Plus and Minus Memos received from Treasuries and the entries in this Broad Sheet should be reconciled every month with the entries in the books of the Comptroller. At the close of the financial year, the closing balances for the year as shown in the Broad Sheet should be communicated to the Deputy Commissioners concerned with details of balances relating to each taluk and their acceptance obtained for report to Government in the Review of Balances. If there is any difference, it should be possible to reconcile it by a comparison of the departmental accounts with the entries in the pass book.

The same procedure may apply also to charges for tank maintenance recoverable from raiyats.

11. Charges incurred in the Public Works Department on account of the restoration of minor tanks and recoverable from raiyats are similar in nature. In their case also no steps are at present taken to see that the balances on the books of the Comptroller agree with the amounts outstanding in the Revenue Department Demand Registers. These charges are dibited in the Comptroller's books to the head "Tank Restoration Charges" and the vouchers furnished by the Public Works Department are forwarded to the Revenue authorities for apportionment of the charges among the raiyats concerned and for entry as demands against them in the revenue registers. An account is maintained in the Comptroller's office by detail of tanks to which they relate. The recoveries effected by the Revenue Department are credited in the Treasury accounts under the same head. Treasury Officers furnish schedules giving details of the recoveries by tanks and these are posted in the Comptroller's detailed accounts against the respective tanks. But there are no means of seeing whether the debits are actually included in the demand against the raiyats, and whether the total balance outstanding on the books of the Comptroller agrees with the total outstanding balance in the demand registers of the Revenue Department.

No. 6333-82—G. F. 90-17-4, dated 24th April 1918.

12. Under the new procedure, the Public Works or the Marahmat Division, in which the expenditure is incurred, will send to the Comptroller as at present a schedule of such charges with the connected vouchers. The charges will be debited in the Comptroller's office to 'Objection Book Advances' and the details will be passed to the taluks concerned through the Deputy Commissioners. After the amounts of the charges have been apportioned against different raiyats, their amounts will be included in the Taluk Revenue Demand Registers and the taluk officers will present a bill to the Treasury for the total amount for transfer adjustment in the Treasury Accounts by debit to the head "Tank Maintenance Charges Recoverable from Raiyats since December 1917" by per contra credit to the head Objection Book Advances." These bills should be presented with a pass book in which the Treasury Officer will enter the amount on the debit side. When recoveries are effected the amounts would be sent with the pass book to the Treasury where they will be credited to the head "Tank Maintenance Charges Recoverable from Raiyats since December 1917." If the Treasury Officer sends a plus and minus memo at the end of the month duly certified to by the Revenue Department, the verification will be completed and effective, as the Comptroller will be able to see that the balances of his register agree with the balances shown in the plus and minus memos.

Government Order No. Fl. 371-3—S. R. 248-07-2, dated the 14th July 1909 recognizing the inamdar's claim to the Excise revenue from toddy of Sarvamanya Debur village, and disallowing the claim in respect of Kapsoge village, Nanjangud Taluk.

2. Correspondence ending with letter No. G. C. 140-17, dated 20th February 1918, from the Excise Commissioner, requesting re-consideration of the inamdar's claim to the Excise revenue of Kapsoge.

Order No. Fl. 5745-6—S. R. 172-16-4, dated 9th April 1918.

The gift of seven villages including Kapsoge in question was made under the same sannad and in respect of six of these villages, Government have recognized the claim of the inamdar to the toddy revenue. In this circumstance and after a careful consideration of the additional facts brought to notice by the Excise Commissioner, Government are pleased to concede to the inamdar the privilege with respect to Kapsoge village also.

2. It is reported that there is a toddy shop in the village and that there are no date trees there. The payment of revenue in respect of Kapsoge village will therefore be regulated by Rules 2, 3, 5, 6 and 9 of the Rules regulating the claims of inamdars to Excise revenue issued with Government Order No. Fl. 3697-706—S. Letter No. A. C. 120-16, dated 22nd February 1918, from the Excise Commissioner, forwarding the records relating to the claim of the inamdar of Heggove and Halsur, Manjarabad Taluk, to the excise revenue from toddy with his opinion thereon.

Order No. Fl. 5907-8—S. R. 101-17-2, dated 18th April 1918.

There is no specific mention of Excise Revenue in the Sannad, although it says that the inamdar is entitled to all the revenues of the villages. Excise revenue from toddy was however conceded to the inamdar by the inam settlement in 1879 on the ground of enjoyment of the revenue for a long time. The investigating officer and the Deputy Commissioner' report that the inamdar has been enjoying the revenue till August 1904, when the management of inam was taken over by Government. Government are therefore pleased to recognise the claim of the inamdar to the Excise revenue from toddy.

There are neither toddy shops nor date trees in the villages. There are only, Bagani trees. The inamdar's claim therefore comes under Rule 13 of the rules regulating the claims of inamdars to Excise revenue issued with Government Order No. 2074-83—R. F. 166-92, dated 2nd August 1901, and he is entitled with effect from August 1904 to an annual lumpsum grant to be calculated and fixed once for all on the population of the village according to the most recent census.

Measures necessary for the Reduction of Drunkenness among the people.

No. Fl. 6241-2—S. R. 98-17-3, dated 18th April 1918.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Read—

Government Order No. G. 15601-50 -G M. 554-16-1, dated 19th May 1917, appointing Special Committees of the Representative Assembly to investigate select subjects of general importance.

2. Letter No 332, dated 13th September 1917, from Mr. Hosakoppa Krishna Rao, Convenor of the Special Committee, submitting the recommendations of the Committee in regard to the measures necessary for the reduction of drunkenness among the people.

Order No. Fl. 6241-2—S. R. 98-17-3, dated 18th April 1918.

Government have carefully considered the various suggestions made by the Special Committee. While they are in full accord with the main object in view, the Government consider that some of the suggestions made by the Committee are not feasible and there is every reason to believe that their adoption will not only result in increase of illicit manufacture, but will also so involve an inquisitorial and harassing interference with the public.

2. Government have wherever possible introduced measures of reform in Excise administration and are prepared to go further as circumstances permit slowly and gradually on the lines indicated but consider that any sudden change in the policy of control by Government is likely to prove injurious to the cause these suggestions have in view.

3. With regard to the recommendations now submitted by the Committee the Government have already taken action in respect of the following matters :—

(1) Licensing Boards consisting of officials and non-official gentlemen, whose decision is final as regards the number and location of shop have already been formed as an experimental measure for the cities of Bangalore and Mysore and the Kolar Gold Fields, and all Town Municipalities are also given advisory functions in the matter. The results of this experiment are being watched by Government and further steps will be taken if it proved beneficial. It is further proposed to amend the Excise Regulation to bring these Boards and Committees within the statutory provision.

(2) Government have recently approved of a circular prohibiting within certain limits the opening of the liquor shops at fairs and jatras and this will come into force from 1st July 1918.

(3) The existing notification relating to the sales of excise privileges contain provision regarding hours of sale, cash payments, prohibition of sale to minors and the necessity to take permits for conveying liquor or drugs in excess of certain fixed quantities. Additional restrictions regarding sales in shops by women will be introduced. Enhancement of duties and decreasing the strength of arrack are in the opinion of Government wholesome measures likely to reduce consumption and they will be resorted to.

(4) The suggestions of the Committee regarding allotment of Revenue for temperance purposes, the providing of counter-attractions, the abolition of the licensing system, total prohibition of drink and prohibition of domestic consumption do not appear at present to be practicable.

(5) The measure proposed by the Committee in paragraphs 5, 6, 7, 8 have to be undertaken by the people themselves or non-official public bodies, and Government are in full sympathy with them.

(6) As far as possible, Government are ready to consult the wishes of the non-official public in all matters connected with the excise policy adopted in British India, and will be ready to adopt measures likely to reduce the drink evil. But much of the work under the general recommendations of the Committees has to be done by the leaders of public opinion and non-official representatives.

Order. No. J. 4068-75—Legis. 23-17-10, dated 5th April 1918.

Of the two Factories working in the Mysore District in 1916, the Tile Factory at Mysore was removed from the list of Factories under the Regulation as the number of its operatives was reduced to less than the minimum prescribed by Section 3 (1) (e). Two new Factories, namely the Srikasi Visvanatha Chikkanna Rice Mill and the Cauvery Rice Mill at Mysore were brought under the operation of the Regulation during the year. Thus the total number of Factories working during the year was 12 as against 11 in the previous year.

2. The collapse of a wall in the Cauvery Rice Mill at Mysore slightly injuring a couple of coolies, and two accidents of no serious nature in the Bangalore Woollen, Cotton and Silk Mills Company, Limited, at Bangalore, formed the total casualties of the year under report.

3. The work of inspection was on the whole satisfactory.

No. J. 4068-75—Legis. 23-17-10, dated 5th April 1918.

Per. J. No. 19-1 of 17-18, dated 5th March 1918, from the District Magistrate, Chitaldrug, to the Chief Secretary to Government.

I have the honor to submit the following Report on the working of the Factories Regulation, No. III of 1914, and the rules framed thereunder for the year 1917 in the Chitaldrug District.

2. There were six Factories as in the year 1916 working at Davangere registered under the Factories Regulation 1892. Of these two are Cotton Pressing Factories, three Cotton Ginning Factories and one both Cotton Ginning and Pressing Factory. Besides these there are six Ginning Factories at Davangere, two at Harihar and one at Jagalur. These nine Factories were not under the operation of this Regulation. The rules under this Regulation (No. III of 1914) were revised in May 1917 (vide Government Notification No. J. 4153—Legis. 34-14-20, dated 18th May 1917,) and ordered to be brought into force with effect from 1st July 1917. Copies of these rules not having been supplied till the close of the calendar year, their enforcement in all the registered Factories could not be insisted upon in the absence of "Abstract of Regulation and the Rules (Form G)" which had to be supplied by the Inspector notified under Section 4 (5) of the Regulation.

3. (a) Inspection.—The registered Factories were inspected by the District Magistrate accompanied by the Amildar Magistrate in December 1917. Neither the Sub-Division Magistrate nor the Amildar Magistrate at Davangere conducted any inspection during the course of the year. They seemed to be labouring under the impression that they had to be formally appointed as Additional Inspectors under Sub-Section 4 of Section 4 of the Regulation. A reference having been made to Government on the subject whether the appointment made under Government Notification No. 8626—Legis. 69, dated 4th January 1901 was still in force, a reply has since been received that under Section 24 of the General Clauses Regulation, III of 1899, it is in effect pending revision. The attention of the additional Inspectors has been drawn to the provisions of the revised rules and they have been requested to commence their work during the year 1918.

(b) The District Medical Officer who is the certifying Surgeon under Section 6 of the Regulation inspected the Factories at Davangere on the 7th January 1918, and as such his inspection will have to be taken into account for the year 1918. A copy of the rules will be sent to him inviting reference to paras 9 to 13 thereof.

(c) In the course of my inspection it was observed that (1) no notice was said to have been given to the Managers of the Factories under para 9 (2) of the Rules. (2) The Factories not having been visited by the certifying Surgeon under para 13 (1) of the Rules, the Managers of the Factories were not in a position to obtain the requisite certificates before employing children. Although in the case of some of the Factories, some children were actually found in the premises, of whom a few were actually at work, no action was taken as the requisite facilities had not been afforded to them.

(d) As regards sanitation, only one Factory (the Thadapathre Cotton Press under the management of Messrs. Binny & Co.) was found to have paid any attention to the requisite conditions. The Managers of other Factories have been instructed to keep the premises and all the buildings thoroughly clean.

(e) Water-supply.—The water used for the working of the engines in all the Factories was pure and adequate. But satisfactory arrangements had not been made for the storage of water to meet emergencies in cases of accidental fires in the premises of the Factories. The arrangements made for the supply of drinking water to the operatives were similarly not good. The managers have been warned to remedy these defects as early as possible.

(f) Latrines.—At prescribed in para 20 of the rules the seats provided for males and females are adequate. But with regard to their structure, decency was wanting in some of the Factories and conservancy arrangements were not satisfactory. The notice board required to be put up under para 20 (2) was wanting in all cases except one (viz., the Thadapathre Cotton Press). The Managers have been instructed to supply these omissions early.

4. No accident was reported to have taken place in any of the Factories in the district during the year under report.

5. There was no prosecution for breaches of the provisions of the Regulation during the year.

6. A statement showing the details of the working of the Factories is herein enclosed.

7. In conclusion, I beg to state that the provisions of the Regulation together with the rules framed thereunder will be made more familiar both to the owners of Factories as well as to the public concerned by wide publication of the same, copies of which have recently been supplied to all the taluks. The attention of the Inspecting Officers will be drawn from time to time to the strict enforcement thereof during the year 1918.

No. 5646-51—Ml. 173-17-1, dated 5th April 1918.

I. Educational Institutions.

(1) Depressed Classes Mission Schools in Doddaholageri, Mysore City —The Depressed Classes Mission is doing useful educational work for the Panchamas and the Doddaholageri School had a strength of 91 boys and 63 girls at a recent visit of inspection The Honorary Secretary requested that the present Government grant might be enhanced and that non-recurring grants be sanctioned for constructing a suitable building and improving the equipment of the school. The Inspector-General of Education will be requested to discuss the matter with the Mission authorities and send up definite recommendations within a month.

(2) Mr Banumayya's School —It was represented at the time of inspection that the school had not enough open ground to the rear of the building It is understood that a project for acquiring certain properties to the west of the school is under the consideration of the Trust Board The disposal of the question should be expedited

(3) Government Training College —The strength of the College was stated to be 297 and the buildings as well as the surrounding grounds appeared to be very damp, the rented building in which classes for the Mahomedan pupils were held was particularly so The Chief Engineer may be requested to suggest, in consultation with the Inspector-General of Education, suitable measures for lowering the subsoil water level of the area before the next monsoon

(4) Chamarajendra Technical Institute —The Superintendent complained that the number of students on the rolls had fallen considerably on account of the reduction of scholarships ordered recently.

The statement may be examined and needful action taken by the Department, if necessary

The timber lying in the open yard should be stored on a raised platform, if necessary and proper arrangements made for the rapid escape of rain water

II Municipal and other Improvements in Mysore City

1. Padavarahalli village —The village forms part of the City Municipality and the main complaint of the residents is that though they pay Municipal taxes, the village is neglected It does not share the civic amenities afforded to other areas of the Municipality It was stated that a sum of Rs. 800 was collected in the village in the shape of taxes and it was urged that at least the whole of this amount ought to be available for expenditure on the village itself.

The following improvements are suggested for immediate consideration —

(a) Water-supply —The necessity for supplying pure drinking water is real The President should arrange to open three public fountains, two in the village proper and one in the Holageri, water being supplied to the village from the high level service through the existing pipe line.

(b) Providing a new extension —The most unhealthy portion of the village is to the south-east where it adjoins the tank bed People living in this area may be induced to shift to a new extension to be formed to the west of the village Proposals for laying out such an extension might be submitted

(c) Lighting.—An estimate may be obtained from the Electrical Department of the initial and recurring costs of the absolutely minimum provision needed in this respect

(d) Drainage.—A rough estimate of cost for draining the village and for improving the roads may be prepared and suitably dealt with.

(e) Removal of sullage water and refuse matter.—The existing system for the disposal of refuse matter and sullage water seems very defective Suitable arrangements may be made by providing a cistern for sullage water within or outside every house which should be emptied periodically. The cistern should be provided with a suitable cover Both the cistern and the cover may be manufactured by the village potter Perhaps a conservancy cart going round twice a week will be able to deal with all the sullage water

Items (ii) and (iv) will perhaps require a large initial outlay. The President should prepare a rough scheme for financing them

The sanitation of the village does not appear to be properly looked after. Some responsible Municipal subordinate should be asked to visit the village once or twice a week to see that it is kept in proper condition A local committee may be formed for co-operating with the Municipal executive in attending to the sanitation of the village

(2) Draining Kukkarahalli marsh.—The work is nearly completed. Proposals for improving the bathing pond may be submitted The size of the pond may be reduced and its sides rebuilt with stone, the bed being provided with a concrete floor

(3) Railway Station Circle.—The pillars look rather diminutive. But the general appearance may be judged after fixing the railing and then the question of re-building or otherwise improving the pillars may be considered. An ornamental lamp with a small circular platform may be built in the centre of the circle.

(4) Site for the Deaf and Dumb School.—A site in the Lakshmipur Extension has been selected for this school but as it is a unique institution in Mysore, a more prominent site should, if possible, be made available. The site near the Sowar Lines on the Railway Station road, which is now reserved for the Sub-Assistant Surgeon's quarters seems very suitable for the purpose If more space is needed, some houses in the Sowar Lines may be removed and the land added on. Detailed plans and estimates should be submitted to Government at a very early date.

Separate proposals may be submitted for a new site for the Sub-Assistant Surgeon's quarters.

(5) Site for the Veterinary Hospital —The Hospital is now situated below Dodkere The President was requested to select two or three alternative sites in consultation with the authorities concerned and submit definite proposals to Government

(6) Purnah's Nalla.—This may be regarded to prevent stagnation of water and the surroundings may be reformed by filling up the pits and levelling at a cost not exceeding Rs. 20,000 Proposals may be submitted immediately Street rubbish may be used for gradually filling up the ditch.

(7) Devaraj Market.—It appears necessary to roof the central passage between the stalls as a protection against wind and rain. Plans and estimates may be submitted for sanction.

(8) Site for the Public Library.—As a new building has been sanctioned for the Municipal offices now located in the Rangacharlu Hall, the question of shifting the Public Library to the Rangacharlu Hall may be investigated and rough proposals submitted for providing, if necessary, additional accommodation and also for improving the elevation of the building. It would perhaps be well if in this case the Literary Union, which is now housed in the hall, were amalgamated with the Public Library

A rough alternative scheme to construct a separate building for locating the Public Library to the west of the Rangacharlu Hall and in line with it, may also be submitted.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Read—

Government Proceedings No. 6831-5—Ml. 136-11-17, dated 21st March 1912, sanctioning programme of works to be carried out in the Mysore City costing in the aggregate Rs. 23,67,590.

2. Government Proceedings No. 221-5—Ml. 51-14-63, dated 12th July 1915, increasing the annual grant to the Trust Board from Rs. 3 to 3½ lakhs.

3. Government Proceedings No. 6017-1—Ml. 24-15-128, dated 15th March 1917, sanctioning the acquisition of certain properties in the Fort.

4. Government Proceedings No. 7572-3—Ml. 108-16-6, dated 28th May 1917, sanctioning an additional grant of Rs. 1 lakh from the State Funds to the Mysore City Improvement Trust Board.

5. Letter No. 9456, dated 1st September 1917, from the Chief Engineer for Irrigation, requesting sanction to an additional grant of Rs. 50,000 for the acquisition of the properties referred to above.

6. Letter No. 9458, dated 1st September 1917, from the same Officer, requesting sanction to a further additional grant of Rs. 1 lakh in connection with the improvement of the Devaraj Market Square.

7. Letter No. 421-578—C. 427 of 1916-17, dated 26th December 1917, from the Chairman, Mysore City Improvement Trust Board, requesting an additional grant of Rs. 1,50,000 for expenditure in connection with drainage works and house-building loans.

Order No. 5905-10—Ml. 95-17-5, dated 20th April 1918.

In the current official year, the Chairman of the Trust Board has applied for an additional grant of about Rs. 3 lakhs for acquisition of properties in the Fort and for drainage and house-building purposes, over and above the normal State grant of Rs. 3½ lakhs. In the last official year also, the Chairman applied for, and obtained an additional grant of Rs. 1 lakh on account of urgent works to be carried out by the Trust Board. Such requests for additional grants show that the Trust Board are not working on a systematic programme and with due regard to the funds placed at their disposal every year. It seems therefore desirable to have a compresensive view of the needs of the Board in the near future and to see how far the policy followed in financing the large works undertaken by the Board requires modification.

2. In March 1912, Government sanctioned a comprehensive programme of works to be carried out in the Mysore City for acquisition of properties and for a complete system of underground sewers, costing in the aggregate Rs. 23,67,590. Government also gave an assurance that the usual annual grant of Rs. 3 lakhs would be continued until the programme was completely worked out. The programme does not appear to have been strictly adhered to. This seems to be due partly to the detailed scheme of drainage works not being ready in time for commencement in 1911-12 and partly to the necessity of taking up other urgent works sanctioned by Government from time to time after the date of the order referred to above. In view of the increase in the number of works to be undertaken by the Trust Board, the normal grant was raised to Rs. 3½ lakhs per year at the commencement of the official year 1915-16.

No. 5905-10—Mi. 95-17-5, dated 20th April 1918.

3. The following statement compiled from the figures furnished by the Chairman gives the details of the total estimated cost of the works sanctioned by Government since 1912, the expenditure incurred thereon till the end of 1916-17 and the outlay remaining to be incurred on such works.—

| | Total cost | Expenditure till the end of 1916-17 | Balance |
|---|---|---|---|
| | Rs. | Rs. | Rs. |
| 1. Acquisition of properties ... | 27,43,825 | 16,92,560 | 10,51,265 |
| 2. Construction works including drainage ... | 32,59,274 | 9,58,551 | 23,00,723 |
| Total ... | 60,03,099 | 26,51,111 | 33,51,988 |

Besides these works, a scheme has been prepared for the acquisition and removal of all the remaining properties in the Fort and the improvement of the grounds at a total cost of Rs. 11,59,800 out of which a sum of Rs. 1 lakh has been sanctioned in Government Proceedings dated 15th March 1917. This is a necessary work and has to be taken up by the Trust Board. Thus, the total cost of the sanctioned works that remain to be carried out and of the scheme for improving the Fort comes to a little more than Rs. 44 lakhs.

With the present grant of Rs. 3½ lakhs and assuming that no new works are sanctioned by Government, it will require nearly 13 years to complete the works.

4. In view of the importance and urgency of the works, the Trust Board suggest that these works be carried out within the next five years and require for each year a State grant of about Rs. 8,10,000, i.e., about Rs. 4½ lakhs more than the normal grant. If the works which are in contemplation by the Board and which are yet not sanctioned by Government are also taken into account, the grant required is roughly Rs. 10 lakhs. One of their main arguments is that this would save about 150 to 200 per cent in establishment charges.

5. The grant asked for is very high and it will not be possible for Government to make such a large allotment. Moreover, the scheme of the Trust Board does not take into account the fact that some of the works are productive in character and should be treated on a different basis. It will be necessary to separate this class of works and frame a scheme for financing them with the aid of loans raised either from Government or in the open market.

6. On a careful consideration Government are of opinion that the best policy in the present circumstances to ensure rapid progress of the works is to separate productive works from others and to finance the former with loans, the interest being guaranteed by the Government. The loan may be raised in the open market or Government may grant the loan in instalments. The works that may be brought under this category after a careful scrutiny of detailed projects and estimates of capital outlay and net revenue expected are:—

| | | Cost |
|---|---|---|
| 1. | Improvement of Devaraj Market Square .. | Rs. 4,48,000 |
| 2. | Scheme for housing the poor, including loans ... | ,, 4,06,000 |
| 3. | Laying out Vontikoppal Extension ... | ,, 3,00,000 |
| | Total ... | 11,54,000 |

As regards the third work, namely Vontikoppal Extension, Government consider that far too much money is proposed to be spent in laying out this extension, probably in making elaborate drains, roads, etc. To start with, expenditure may be incurred on the absolutely necessary minimum of drains and roads until a fair number of houses have sprung up and the extension is established on a firm basis.

The Chairman is requested to place this question before the Trust Board and submit for orders of Government, within a month detailed schemes showing particulars of capital outlay in detail and of net revenue under each scheme as also suggestions regarding the method of raising the loan either from Government or in the open market. Due provision should be made for the payment of interest and other incidental charges and it should also be shown how far the works can be regarded as productive considering the rate of interest which will have to be paid for borrowed money. For all large items of receipt, e.g., sale proceeds of sites, buildings, etc., the data on which the estimates of receipt are based should be fully explained.

7. The remaining sanctioned works as well as the Fort Improvement Scheme, cost in all about Rs. 32 lakhs, including a provision of Rs. 2,00,000 for establishment charges for the next five years. In order to expedite the completion of these works, Government consider it necessary to further augment the finances of the Trust Board and are accordingly pleased to sanction an additional grant of Rs. 1 lakh for a period of five years, thus bringing the annual grant to the Trust Board to Rs. 4½ lakhs from 1918-19.

8. The acquisition of properties in the Fort being urgent, the Trust Board should be requested to see that a sum of Rs. 2 lakhs is set apart every year out of the annual grant of Rs. 4½ lakhs solely for improvement works in the Fort such as acquisition of properties, laying out the grounds, etc. Every effort should be made to complete the scheme of improvements in the Fort within five years. The balance of Rs. 2½ lakhs may be devoted to the other sanctioned works.

9. The Chairman is requested to send up a modified programme of works to be taken up during each of the next five years, together with the amount to be allotted to each, due care being taken to select the works in the order of urgency and importance in accordance with the principles laid down in this order. This programme should be strictly adhered to and until it is completely worked out Government will not ordinarily sanction any new works. For any works of special importance or urgency not included in the programme which are found necessary the method of financing them should be definitely settled in each case, so that the normal grant may not be diverted from the items of work included in the programme.

10. Final orders will issue in the matter as soon as the proposals called for in paragraph 6 and 9 above are received from the Chairman.

11. An additional grant of Rs. 1 lakh is sanctioned for the current year for the acquisition of the remaining properties in the Fort referred to in Government Order, dated 15th March 1917, and for such other urgent works as may require immediate additional outlay.

No. 5861-71—San. 120-17-1, dated 17th April 1918.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Order No. 5861-71—San. 120-17-1, dated 17th April 1918.

The question of devising suitable measures for imparting instruction to the people regarding Hygiene and Sanitation has been engaging the attention of Government for a considerable time. A beginning in this direction has already been made in the scheme sanctioned by Government in their Order No. 4094-8—San. 114-15-11, dated the 2nd January 1917, approving the proposals of the Sanitary Commissioner for the delivery of popular lectures by the District Sanitary Officers with the aid of magic lantern slides. The following two schemes have also been suggested towards achieving the object under consideration—

(1) The periodical holding of Health Exhibitions.

(2) The establishment of a Health Museum.

Government are of opinion that the first scheme by itself is limited in its usefulness and the expenses of periodically holding Health Exhibitions in selected places will not be commensurate with the benefits that may be derived therefrom.

The other scheme of establishing a Central Health Museum, however, commends itself to Government. The advantage of having a Central Museum is that it affords convenience to collect in a central place all the exhibits which are of any value and these may be sent out at little cost to various parts of the State and thus serve as a medium of instruction to a large section of the people.

Government are accordingly pleased to sanction the establishment of a Central Health Museum. It will for the present be located in the Chamarajendra Technical Institute, Mysore. A beginning may be made to start the museum with the articles selected for preservation from the last exhibition as a nucleus, and additions made to the collection from time to time as funds permit.

Choice exhibits may on the application of local bodies and at their expense be sent out to various parts of the State for display on the occasion of important jatras or other large congregations.

The utility of the scheme may further be extended by eventually establishing branches of Central Health Museum in all District and Taluk Headquarter Stations, financed partly by Local Funds and partly by local State Funds.

A sum of Rs. 500 for meeting the immediate initial expenses should be provided for, by re-appropriation, from the current year's Sanitary budget, a provision of Rs. 1,000 being made in the budget estimate for the next five years for the purchase of new exhibits.

A Committee consisting of the Sanitary Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore District and the Health Officer, Mysore City, will be constituted to make a selection of the exhibits, frame rules as to the conditions on which articles of the museum may be lent out for local exhibitions and elaborate such other details as are necessary to ensure that the best results are achieved by a judicious combination of the two schemes now under consideration.

The Health Officer, Mysore, will be ex-officio Superintendent of the museum. He will be assisted by a Curator on Rs. 25 a month, who will not only look after the museum but also explain in simple Kannada the meaning and value of the exhibits.

| 1 | Control over boilers and suitable arrangements—The question of introducing a Boilers and Prime Movers Regulation for Mysore on the lines of British Acts is under the consideration of Government and they have decided that special arrangements have to be made for the Kolar Gold Fields after consulting the Mining Board. | 1. The Regulations in British India are suitable more for factories and there are special local conditions to be considered so far as the Gold Fields area is concerned.2. The draft may be sent to the Mining Board, before final adoption.3. No one in the mines can be deputed as each mine has its own boiler expert and it is therefore desirable to have an outside Inspector for all the mines.4. If such an Inspector is appointed, he will have enough work all the year round in the Gold Field area itself if proper inspection and testing have to be done.5. The officer to be appointed under the Regulation should be properly qualified and necessarily of a higher status than the mechanical experts employed in the mines for Boilers inspection.The officer for the Gold Field area should be at least of the status of an Assistant Engineer. | The appointment of a whole time Inspector of Boilers for the Kolar Gold Fields and of another Inspector of Boilers junior to him in rank for the rest of the State are necesary.The officer on the Gold Fields area may be invested with the power of inspecting machinery. | The Director of Geology; The Chief Inspector of Mines in Mysore; The Assistant Secretary, Branch III. | 30th June 1918. |
| 2 | Timber supply of the Fields—The Kolar Gold Fields take 7 to 10 lakhs of rupees worth of timber and as such it is necessary that at least a fair portion of it should be supplied by the Forest Department direct through a depot or all depots, leaving the prices to ordinary trade conditions of supply and demand. | It would be very difficult to deal direct with Government and many questions may arise as to the rejections, etc. The Board are willing to take all that the Forest Department could supply at market rates and are of opinion that it would be better to get the supply through private contractors. If all the depots in the State were open to private contractors for the supply of timber to the Gold Mines the difficulty may be solved. It was additionally suggested that the mining companies would prefer to get sawn timber and if the Mysore Forest Department could sell timber sawn from their Government Saw Mills according to the specifications of ordinary requirements which the mining companies are prepared to furnish a very large demand may be created The Board represent the difficulty of transport and request the Government to put some pressure on the Railway companies for the supply of waggons. | Orders may issue to the Conservator of Forests to open all the depots and to get the specifications for sawn timber and make every attempt to increase the supply to the Gold Mines from the Mysore forests as far as possible. The Railway Companies may be addressed. | The Revenue Secretary;The Conservator of Forests. | 30th June 1918. |
| 3 | Training of Mysoreans in the Fields. | The Mining Board are willing to take the students who passed out of the Engineering College or from the Mechanical Engineering School, Bangalore, and take them at the rate of one for each mine every year, if necessary, and give them a two years' course. Such students should have a fairly good general education and a grounding in general engineering before they are deputed for training. They are not in favour of any mining night schools or schools for the training of mining artisans. | There is a proposal pending regarding a scheme for study in Mining and Metallurgy and when it is received from the University the whole question may be further considered. | The Secretary, Education and Agricultural Departments; The Inspector-General of Education; The Registrar; Mysore University. | 1st July 1918. |

| 4 | Augmentation of Police in the Gold Fields. | The Mining Companies have been representing for a long time (since 1914) that patrol is insufficient and therefore some additional Police may be employed for the purpose | At the last session of the Representative Assembly it was said that the representation of the Companies on the subject would be considered and orders would be issued before the end of March 1918 The present Inspector General of Police has sent proposals involving a cost of Rs 6,000 per annum These proposals may be considered | The Inspector General of Police, and the Assistant Secretary, Branch III | 20th April 1918. |
| 5 | Roads | The Board suggest that (1) Betmangala road, (2) Bowringpet to Kolar road and (3) Big tree to Bowringpet road, may receive greater attention in future | It has been pointed out to the Board that the majority of roads are in a pretty fair condition and that the proposal of the Executive Engineer for an increase in the annual allotment to some of the roads is pending orders in the Public Works Department | The Revenue Secretary, the Chief Engineer, and the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department. | 30th June 1918. |
| 6 | Kolar Gold Fields Water supply | The representation of the Mining Board was that in 1906 the then Dewan Mr Madhava Rao came and discussed the question and promised to remove the villages which contaminated the water supply Their present representation was that wet cultivation should be prohibited within a quarter of a mile of the water-spread of the tank and river, that the new scheme for the ultra violet rays should be adopted, that the capacity of the coagulated tanks should be doubled, that better alum should be used for the filters and that greater supervision should be exercised over the filters generally | The immediate steps that may be taken are—(1) A more satisfactory arrangement for looking after the pumps and filters,(2) Constituting the villages into a sanitary area and supplying those villages with wells,(3) Appointing a Committee consisting of the Government Medical Officer, Medical Officer of Health, Kolar Gold Fields, and Superintending Engineer in charge of Water supply, to periodically inspect the tank and the works, say, once a quarter and make a report to Government after examination of the supply bacteriologically,(4) Further investigation regarding the ultra violet rays as well as the Thimmarayavodda Scheme and increasing the capacity of the coagulating tank,(5) Renewal of the pump which as agreed to by Mr Bhore is not working satisfactorily, even after repairs, at a cost of Rs 2,000,(6) The supply of better alum | The Chief Engineer, the Revenue Secretary, the Sanitary Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner, Kolar District | Do |
| 7 | Magistracy .. | As there is a large European population, the responsibility of the Mining Board in regard to them is very onerous and they request the Government to provide them with the jurisdiction which they are entitled to under the Criminal Procedure Code A Magistrate having the knowledge of local conditions should reside within the area As Mr Pritchard is shortly going on leave, he may be retained till the question is decided so that the Gold Fields may not be without a Justice of the Peace even for a short period | As Mr. Pritchard will be away for six months if the leave is granted to him, the question may be again considered. | The Chief Secretary, Branch III | 30th April 1918. |
| 8 | Police Jurisdiction on the Kolar Gold Fields Railway. | It would be of very great convenience if the Kolar Gold Fields Railway Police is, as before, placed in charge of the Gold Field Police. | The Inspector-General of Police is inclined to support the request of Mining Board. This is a very small matter of administrative readjustment and the request of Mining Board may be sanctioned. | The Chief Secretary | Do |

Notes of discussion by the Second Member with the Kolar Gold Fields Mining Board—*concld.

| Subject | Summary of representation of the Kolar Gold Fields Mining Board | Remarks and action proposed | Officers responsible | Time for completion |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 |
| Mining Statistics | As the Government have their own officer in the mining area itself, any other Government officer that may require information regarding mining statistics should obtain all such information from the Chief Inspector of Mines | In future all information to be obtained by the Mysore Government in regard to mining statistics should be obtained through the Chief Inspector of Mines If any officer of Government addresses the Mining Board direct, he may be referred to the Chief Inspector of Mines by the Board | The Chief Secretary, and the Chief Inspector of Mines in Mysore | 1st June 1918 |
| Government dues | The Mining Board represented that under a recent order the Gold Companies have to pay their dues on account of rent etc, to the Bowringpet Taluk Treasury in cash and that much inconvenience is felt on account of the Bowringpet Treasury refusing to receive the monies by cheque | When the difficulty as well as the circumstances which led to the revised procedure being prescribed was explained to the Mining Board they did not seem to press their representation further. It may however be considered whether any other procedure could be sanctioned namely, payment by cheque to the Huzur Treasury Officer or to the Mysore Bank who will be dealing with Government transactions more largely in future The Comptroller may be consulted on this point and final decision of Government communicated to the Mining Board in due course | The Comptroller, the Financial Secretary and the Revenue Commissioner | 30th June 191 |
| Betmangala Pumping Plant | The representation of the Mining Board was that the pumping plant should be electrified owing to large consumption of firewood for its operation which means a very high cost of maintenance in running and which also causes difficulty to the Mining Companies in obtaining fuel supplies | The estimates which involve a total capital expenditure of Rs 2,15,793 and which is expected to effect a saving of 32 8 per cent of the water supply department, seem to be well worthy of favourable consideration The Board were informed that an estimate to electrify the pumping plant had already been submitted by departmental officers and was pending orders of Government | The Secretary, Public Works Department | Do |
| Government Inspection of Mine Accounts. | It is understood that Government contemplates instituting a system of inspection of mine accounts and the Mining Board desires to know to what extent it is intended that this system is to be carried out The Mines have been in operation for thirty odd years, and before effect could be given to any Government Order in this connection, the question would have to be submitted to the Directorate in London for consideration and that before final orders were passed, the views of their Board might be fully considered | It is the intention of the Government to consult the Mining Companies and this should be done before the final orders were issued | The Comptroller, the Director of Geology, and the Chief Inspector of Mines in Mysore | Do |
| 18 Prospecting licenses and leases. | The only point brought to notice by the Mining Board was the delay that takes place in the grant of licenses They also brought incidentally to notice a few cases in which Government have refused to grant prospecting licenses or to renew them | The Mining Board were informed that the whole question of prospecting licenses in the State was under the consideration of Government chiefly in regard to the necessity that they felt to reserve certain minerals for Government purposes or for the development of local industries | The Chief Secretary, the Director of Geology, and the Secretary to the Mysore Economic Conference | Do |

With a view to effect economy in the use of paper, which is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain owing to the war conditions, Government direct that cheaper paper than the one used now be employed for printing the volumes of the monthly proceedings of Government and that the binding of the volume in thick covers as at present be dispensed with in future. At the end of each year the officers to whom the volumes are supplied may get the orders relating to each department compiled and bound together so as to form a collection of standing orders.

The type used for Part II of the Weekly Proceedings need not be kept standing till the printing of the volumes of the monthly proceedings is taken in hand. The number of copies required for the Weekly and Monthly Proceedings should be struck off and the type broken up. For facility of reference, all the items in the abstract should be serially numbered for the month and the serial number quoted in the index.

These instructions will be followed from the 1st April 1918, with the exception that the discontinuance of thick covers will be given effect to from 1st July 1918.

Order No. G. 14465-515—G. M. 599-17-1, dated 27th April 1918.

Under Rule 2 of the Rules relating to the constitution and conduct of business of the Representative Assembly published with the notification read above, elections for returning members to represent taluks and sub-taluks should be held once in three years; and as the tenure of the existing members of this class in the Assembly terminates with the current year the election for the next three years should, in the ordinary course, be held this year. But as certain changes have been introduced in the constitution of the Assembly by Government Order dated 22nd April 1918, which materially affect the character of the Assembly, and as it is desirable that these changes should be brought into effect with as little delay as possible, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja consider that, to give time for the preparation of voters' lists according to the new qualifications and for working out other necessary details, the triennial election may be deferred for a year. They are accordingly pleased to extend by one year the term of membership of the existing members of the Assembly representing taluks and sub-taluks.

The Calendar for the ensuing Dasara Session modified accordingly is appended to this order.

Correspondence ending with letter No. 31, dated 12th September 1917, from the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan District, reporting that no references are available in the public records to support the statement of the villagers that the temple was formerly endowed with inam lands, that the temple is maintained in good condition, having been repaired at a cost of about Rs. 900 contributed by the villagers themselves, that Puja is being conducted by the villagers in turns and recommending in consideration of the enterprise of the villagers, the grant as inam of the marginally noted lands measuring 4 acres 32 guntas and assessed at Rs. 12-8-0 to the temple.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

GENERAL AND REVENUE DEPARTMENTS.

Order No. 1823-1831—E. A. G. 259, dated 6th April 1918.

During his recent tour in the Tumkur District, the Dewan noticed that proper arrangements had not been made in the Taluk, Sub-Division and District Offices for the orderly and regular conduct of official business. The following were the main defects noticed :—

(1) The lists of papers pending in the offices required by the rules were not properly kept in most of the offices inspected.

(2) There was no evidence that the work of clerks was being scrutinized properly by the heads of branches or by the head of the office.

(3) Inspection by superior officers, if any, did not seem to be thorough or result in rectification of errors and omissions.

(4) Some reports and returns, etc., were not punctually submitted nor were reminders issued by higher officers in cases of non-submission.

(5) Speaking generally, officers, superintendents and clerks had only the vaguest idea as to what registers should be, or were being actually kept in the several branches of the office. The registers kept were in many instances untidy and incomplete.

(6) The furniture in the offices was untidy and in many cases disfigured or broken. Register of furniture was not generally maintained and no systematic attempt seems to have been made to repair furniture when damaged or broken.

2. These shortcomings are the result of inattention to the most obvious requirements of business prescribed by the rules and there is reason to believe that the irregularities in question are only too common in Revenue Offices. The Deputy Commissioners should be requested to draw the attention of the officers concerned to the rules and orders quoted in the margin and see that they are carried out in their own offices as well as in subordinate offices to the extent that they may be applicable.

General Rules of Office Procedure issued with G. O. No. G. 5203-51—E. A 4-14-1, dated 23rd November 1914.

Suggestions for Improving the Efficiency of Officers issued with G. O. No. G. 6421-68—E. A. 7-14, dated 19th December 1914.

Revised Rules under the Disposal Number System issued with G. O. No. 152—E. A. G., dated 27th June 1917.

3. For facility of reference, a few essential matters requiring attention are detailed below :—

(1) Each office should be divided into definite branches and some senior official must be held responsible for the supervision of each branch. (Rules 1 and 2 of the General Rules of Office Procedure.)

(2) A register should be maintained giving the ordinary duties of each official, the classes of correspondence he is to deal with, the periodical reports and returns for which he is responsible and the registers that he should maintain. A copy of this register of duties should be posted in the room of the head of the office and extracts in each branch. Each official should be furnished with an extract pertaining to his duties to be placed in his personal register. (Rule 3 of General Rules of Office Procedure.)

(3) A stock list of registers should be maintained in all offices. The form prescribed by Rule 63 of the rules issued with G. O. No. 152—E. A. G., dated 27th June 1917 may be generally adopted.

(4) A stock list of periodical reports and returns due should be maintained in all offices. (Rule 17 of General Rules of Office Procedure.) For this purpose, the form prescribed under the Disposal Number System (Rule 25) may be adopted.

(5) Each official should be asked to maintain a personal register showing from week to week the arrears in hand. The register should be posted up on each Monday (or if that day happens to be a holiday, the following office day) and certified by the clerk to be accurate and exhaustive.

In the case of the District Office, the personal register prescribed by the Disposal Number System should be maintained by disposing clerks, but a weekly certificate as above should be made therein.

(6) An exhaustive list of (a) papers pending in the office, (b) papers referred to, and pending report from, subordinate offices, should be made out every month and examined

(7) Once a week, the ministerial head of the branch or office should examine the correspondence registers of the office as well as the personal registers of the clerks and see that there is no undue delay in the disposal of papers. He should also examine the bundles of papers pending with each clerk. On each occasion, the registers should be initialled and dated in token of examination.

The ministerial head should also keep with him a daily calendar of periodical reports and returns posted for the whole year and score off the entries as each periodical is attended to. (Rule 58 of the Rules under the Disposal Number System.)

(8) The head of the office should scrutinise the office arrears once a month and hold a test inspection of work of one or more officials. (Rules 4 and 5 of Suggestions for Improving the Efficiency of Officers issued with Government Order No. G. 6421-68—E. A. 7-14, dated 19th December 1914, and also Rule 59 of the Rules under the Disposal Number System.

He should also keep a calendar of periodical reports and returns and scrutinise the same at least once a month (Rule 6 of Suggestions for Improving the Efficiency of Officers.)

4. The Deputy Commissioners should be requested to inspect the District, Sub-Division and Taluk Offices or to have them inspected by the Assistant Commissioners in June next, and submit, through the Revenue Commissioner, reports showing whether the points noted above are punctiliously attended to. The reports should reach Government not later than the 15th July next. Government wish to impress on the officers concerned that they will be held personally responsible for seeing that the rules referred to above are duly observed in their respective offices and that any disregard in this respect will be seriously noticed.

Order No. 1962-2011—E. A. G. 249-17-1, dated 11th April 1918.

Rule 8 of the Clerkship Rules permits Heads of Offices of and above the rank of Deputy Commissioners of Districts to waive the prescribed educational qualifications in the case of temporary and acting appointments not exceeding six months in duration.

At the meeting of Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts held at Mysore during the Dasara of 1917, it was suggested that the power of exemption given by the rules might be extended to appointments likely to last for one year.

Government approve of the recommendation and direct that Rule 8 of the Clerkship Rules be amended as follows:—

"Heads of Offices of and above the rank of Deputy Commissioners may, in particular instances, permit a relaxation of Rules 1 to 3 in the case of temporary and acting appointments not exceeding one year in duration, provided that the pay of the post does not exceed Rs. 50 per mensem and provided further that efforts have been made without success to secure passed candidates. A return showing the exemptions granted under this rule shall be submitted once a quarter to Government."

Rule 11 of the General Rules of Office Procedure issued with Government Order No. 5203-51—E. A. 4-14, dated the 23rd November 1914, issuing instructions for the classification of papers as "Important," "Urgent," "Immediate," and "Confidential."

2. Paragraph 2 of Circular letter No. 737-82—E. A. 7-14-2, dated the 2nd June 1915, impressing on all Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts, the necessity of taking the entire responsibility for work entrusted to them till it is disposed of and of distinguishing important from unimportant matters.

Order No. 1832-81—E. A. G. 260, dated 26th April 1918.

With a view to obviate delay in the disposal of papers, officers are requested to see that all papers received by them are properly classified according to the instructions contained in the Rules of Office Procedure, and that each class of papers is attended to as expeditiously as possible, the maximum time for disposal ordinarily being as follows:—

Class A.—Immediate. Three days from date of receipt.
Class B.—Urgent. Fifteen days from date of receipt.
Class C.—Papers requiring a reply within a specified time. Such time as may be specified.
Class D.—All other papers. Two months from date of receipt.

2. Cases of extreme importance falling under the above classes should be reserved by the head of the office for his personal attention, while those of lesser importance should, by a recognized distribution, be entrusted to the Personal Assistant of the office, or other corresponding officer. The other cases may be dealt with by the establishment in the usual course, the responsibility for every paper resting with some officer or other, who should periodically, at intervals not exceeding one week to one month, according to the nature of the papers, take stock of work. The main thing is that the responsibility for every paper is made definite in every office, and that all pending papers are properly searched and scrutinised at suitable intervals.

3. The above instructions will be incorporated in the General Rules of Office Procedure by making the necessary additions to Rule 11.

Reports from the Secretaries to Government and Heads of Departments regarding the progress made in the preparation of Departmental Manuals and compilations of Standing Orders during the quarter ending with the 31st December 1917.

Order No. 1893-1942—E. A. G. 235, dated 8th April 1918.

Of the manuals which were reported to be under preparation during the previous quarter, eleven have since been completed and issued. Three new manuals as noted in the margin, have been added to the standard list, making in all a total of 101 sanctioned manuals. The accompanying statement shows the progress made in the work connected with these manuals. At the end of the quarter under review, 45 manuals were complete and in use, 15 had been compiled and sent to Press, 21 were under preparation and 20 remained to be taken up.

Account Code for Mysore.
Buildings Manual.
Traffic Manual.

2. Government observe that there was some tangible activity in the preparation of Departmental Manuals, but they are not equally satisfied that proper steps are being taken to keep the manuals up to date, when they have been once issued, by the prompt issue of correction slips. The attention of Secretaries to Government and Heads of Departments is invited to paragraphs 9 and 10 of the Government Order No. 136—E. A. G., dated the 21st December 1916, and they are requested to see that all Standing Orders relating to their departments are promptly manualised.

3. In this connection, Government also wish to impress on the Heads of Departments and Secretaries to Government the need for making a periodical enquiry, say once in two years, into the working of the rules, etc., contained in the manuals of their respective departments. An Office Assistant or other available officer should be asked to go over the rules and standing orders of the department and note down how far they are observed in practice and whether any change therein is required. The enquiry may be of a rough and ready character and need not involve minute investigation or elaborate correspondence with subordinate authorities. Government will be glad if the enquiry suggested above is held during the current year and the results reported to Government before the 1st July 1918.

No. 916-29—P. W. 5001-14, DATED 22ND APRIL 1918.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

READ—

1. Government Order No. 2430-2440—459-469, dated 30th May 1888, sanctioning a revised scale of establishment for the Public Works Division and Sub-Division offices.

2. Government Order No. 533-42—3023-32, dated 17th June 1896, according sanction to the entertainment of a Record-keeper on Rs. 25 and an Assistant Accountant on Rs. 25 for each of the Division offices.

3. Public Works Secretary's No. 86-9—628-31, dated 2nd February 1898, according sanction to the revision of pay of Divisional Draftsmen.

4. Note No. D. 398, dated 25th July 1917, by the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, submitting proposals for revising and strengthening the clerical establishment in Division offices of the Public Works Department.

Order No. 916-29—P. W. 5001-14, dated 22nd April 1918.

The scale of clerical establishment sanctioned for the Public Works Division offices in the districts stands exactly where it was nearly thirty years ago with the exception of an additional clerk, sanctioned here and there, at odd intervals, according to the exigencies of the service. The question of revising the scale has been under consideration for some years. The Chief Engineer has now submitted proposals to strengthen the establishment as also to increase the pay of certain posts, at a cost of Rs. 11,000 a year, and they are:—

(1) to reclassify the permanent Divisions and increase the number treated as first class from 3 to 5 and correspondingly reduce the number at present treated as second class from 7 to 5;

(2) to increase the pay of Head Clerks and Deputy Clerks as also of the menial staff of the Division and Sub-Division offices; and

(3) to strengthen the office establishment (Accounts Branch excepted) by the addition of three clerks to first class Divisions and of two clerks to second class Divisions.

2. It is urged by the Financial Department that the percentage of establishment charges of the Division offices to works outlay is not lower than the corresponding figure in Bombay or Madras. If, however, any additional expenditure is to be incurred in improving the pay of the staff, the proposals—

(1) to increase the pay of the present permanent staff, and

(2) to the redistribution of the first and second class Divisions may be approved.

3. Government accept the opinion of the Financial Department and are pleased to accord sanction to the proposals of the Chief Engineer to increase the pay of the permanent clerical and menial staff as shown in the statement appended and for the redistribution of the first and second class Divisions, so as to have five of each class. Any additional staff required for Division offices must be treated as temporary, sanction thereto being obtained from year to year as heretofore.

No. 916-29—P. W. 5001-14, DATED 2ND APRIL 1918.

4. The permanent Divisions, reclassified under this order, will stand as shown below :—
